Search of the vehicle revealed that the vehicle had initially left Spruce Grove after being stolen and had headed to Onoway's Shell gas station located at 4921 49 Street.

It was also found that in the same day, at approximately 6:23 P.M., the vehicle had travelled to Calgary where it had stopped at the Canadian tire located at 596 64 Avenue NE.

RIDING UPDATE – WINTER RECESS

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

As many of you may know, the House of Commons will reconvene from the winter recess on January 30th. I thoroughly enjoyed the holidays and spending time with my family.

I spent most of the month in my Yellowhead riding, meeting with constituents and local representatives. Earlier in January, I attended Drayton Valley's Town Council Meeting, and an event in Rocky Mountain House. I also met with Canadian National Railway representatives and Transport Canada officials.

In the following week, I visited students at HW Pickup Junior High School in Drayton Valley, enjoyed a tour of the Palisades Stewardship Education Centre in Jasper National Park to learn about the programs they offer to educate students about our beautiful outdoors, met with constituents, and visited Bench Creek Brewing.

Later this week, I held more meetings in my office, and recorded various radio messages and greetings. Later I attended a special function in Hinton.

I will be returning to Ottawa next week and then attending National Caucus meetings in Quebec City the latter half of the week. I will provide regular updates once Parliament resumes. I look forward to the coming session and ensuring your voice is heard in Ottawa.

ANOTHER FEDERAL LIBERAL TAX?

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Hundreds of constituents have emailed me worried that the Federal Liberal Government is going to be taxing employer-provided health and dental plans. Should the Liberals proceed with these changes in their 2017 Budget, Canadian workers who get these benefits will end up paying more per year in taxes and many will lose them entirely.

The Liberals have already raised taxes on energy and payrolls. They cut tax credits for: children's arts and fitness, education and textbooks, and eliminated the hiring tax credit. Now they want to tax Canadians for their health care too!

If the Liberals make these changes in Budget 2017, this move would put more pressure on the public health care system.

It is time for the Minister of Finance to let all Canadians know if he will be proceeding with this tax grab in which I believe is only the Liberal's way of curbing their reckless spending and mounting deficits. I beg to ask, does the Liberal Government really care about the working Canadian or just looking out for themselves?

LEDUC FIRE: INFANTS AND YOUNG CHILDREN AT HIGHEST RISK FOR BURNS – FEBRUARY IS BURN AWARENESS MONTH IN ALBERTA

Submitted by Mariann McLaughlin, Corporate Communications | City of Leduc

Hot liquids, stove tops and cooking left unattended are just a few of the common dangers associated with more than 9,000 hospital visits involving children across Canada. Leduc Fire Services, in association with the provincial Fire Commissioner's Office, would like to provide preventative tips to help reduce the risks.

"Babies and young children have very sensitive skin, which burns four times faster and deeper than an adults' skin at the same temperature – and the most common is scalding from hot liquids," says Deputy Fire Chief Gerry Kelly. "We want to do what we can, where we can to help our citizens not only be safer in the community, but also at home."

Tips to help prevent scalds and burns in the home:

- Teach children that hot things burn
- Turn pot handles away from the stove's edge
- Test bathwater before placing the children in the bath
- Keep appliance cords wrapped and away from counter edges
- Don't leave cooking unattended
- Cook on the stove's back burners

Earlier this month the Fire Commissioner's Officer launched a one-week campaign, Too Hot for Tots!,

to help raise public awareness on the in-home dangers of burns involving young children. Visit <http://www.ofc.alberta.ca/burn-awareness-week> for treatment options, and a comprehensive list to help increase overall safety.

For more information, visit <http://www.ofc.alberta.ca/burn-awareness-week> or call 780-980-7177.

CHOOSING A HOTEL FOR WEDDING GUESTS

As engaged couples compile their guest lists, many might realize their friends and family are spread out across the country, if not the world. Technology has made it easier than ever before to stay connected to faraway loved ones, and engaged couples no doubt have a handful of guests on their lists who will need lodging when the wedding weekend arrives.

Many hotels cater to wedding guests, so finding a hotel should not be too difficult. However, finding the right hotel requires couples to consider a host of factors.

• Location: Location is arguably the most important consideration when choosing a wedding hotel. Hotels that are close to transportation hubs such as airports or train stations will be a welcome relief to guests who traveled far and wide to make it to your wedding. But hotels located in close proximity to your ceremony and reception sites will also be appreciated, especially come the end of the reception when guests who danced the night away will want to return to the hotel as quickly as possible. If the wedding reception is far from the nearest airport or train station, try to find a hotel close to the reception site so guests don't feel like they have been traveling all weekend long.

• Attractions: Attractions are another important factor to consider when choosing a hotel for your wedding guests. Brides and grooms-to-be will be busy throughout the weekend, but wedding guests who arrive in town on Friday for a Saturday ceremony will have lots of free time on their hands. Unless your wedding weekend is intended to be a weekend retreat for you and your guests, try to find a hotel in a lively neighborhood with plenty of nearby attractions so guests have something to do in the days and hours before the wedding.

• Cost: Many hotels offer discounted rates to wedding guests, so couples should expect to do some negotiating before making a final decision regarding their wedding hotels. Travel is expensive, so if your list includes a lot of out-of-town guests, try to find the most affordable rate without settling for unsightly accommodations. Guests will appreciate the cost savings, and some might be more inclined to attend the wedding if the lodging is a bargain.

• Transportation: Another thing to consider when arranging lodging for out-of-town guests is transportation to and from the wedding. Many hotels offer shuttle service for wedding guests, which can save guests the added expense of renting cars to get around on the day of the wedding. Couples may need to foot the bill for hotel shuttle service, though some hotels include the service if enough guests book under a certain wedding party. Some hotels even offer airport shuttle service, which can save guests even more money.

Couples hosting many out-of-town guests for their weddings should do their best to find a hotel that's affordable, accommodating and close to their wedding venues.

CREATING A WEDDING RECEPTION PLAYLIST

Many elements combine to make traditional wedding receptions special. But many veteran wedding guests would agree that the right playlist once guests hit the reception hall dance floor can turn an ordinary wedding reception into something far more memorable.

The majority of couples choose between a live band and a disc jockey to provide the music for their wedding receptions. Entertainment is often one of the more memorable aspects of a wedding reception, as the right band or disc jockey can help to establish a jovial mood that makes it easy for everyone to have a good time.

Couples can leave their wedding reception playlists to the professionals, but they should also know that they have a say in which songs are played. In addition, couples can have a “no play” playlist that prohibits certain songs they dislike from being played. When mulling the musical choices for your wedding reception, consider the following advice.

- Begin by making a list of your favorite songs. Make this list during different days and at different times and moods so you get a good cross-section of your favorite tunes. But remember not every song is a good fit for a wedding reception. Melancholy songs or those that include suggestive lyrics are best left off the playlist.

- Aim to get as many guests on the dance floor as possible. Well-known songs and upbeat dance music will inspire more guests to cut a rug than lesser known tunes you may be fond of. Music that spans the decades and various genres will appeal to guests from all age groups, encouraging dancers young and old to cut a rug.

- Avoid songs that are difficult to dance to. Some songs just are not meant to be danced to. If your favorite songs fit that bill but you still want to hear them on your wedding, ask the DJ or band to play them during the cocktail hour or while everyone is eating dinner.

- Give the music vendor some leeway. Disc jockeys and bands have no doubt performed at many a wedding before yours, and they may have a better feel for crowds than you do. Let them know they have some leeway to play songs that did not make it onto the playlist if guests seem to be avoiding the dance floor. That professional expertise is why you hired them, and it can make for a more memorable night for everyone.

- Don’t stress out about the music. The playlist can set the tone for a positive reception, but don’t stress out if you’re struggling to come up with songs you want to hear. Your vendor is no doubt capable of creating a playlist that will ensure everyone has fun.

Hiring a band or disc jockey to perform at your wedding reception is a great way to make sure everyone enjoys a fun night. Adding your own favorite songs to the playlist can make the reception even more special.

LANDMARK YEAR

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Jim Eglinski, MP - SO-31
February 3, 2017
Mr. Speaker,
Not only is 2017 our nation's 150th birthday, but it is also an important milestone for communities in my riding.

On January 1st the village of Thorsby was officially recognized as a town! As many rural municipalities are losing residents to urban centres, I am proud to see the growth of this community and I look forward to the positive impacts it will continue to bring to the surrounding area.

Also in 2017, the Town of Drayton Valley is celebrating its own birthday! Marking 60 years, this town has been a leader in oil and gas development, as well as a trailblazer in sustainability and environmental responsibility.

As we celebrate Canada's birthday, let's not forget the people and communities whose successes have made our 150th milestone a reality!

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

MP JIM EGLINSKI QUESTIONS NDP MEMBER DURING DEBATE ON BILL C-36

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

On February 7th, Jim Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, during debate on C-36,

'An Act to Amend the Statistics Act', asked NDP Member, Erin Weir, the following:

“Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the new Canadian statistics advisory council will be appointed through Governor in Council appointments. At this point, it is unclear what the application process will look like. My concern is that this is another opportunity for the government to appoint its buddies. Does the member opposite also share these concerns?”

The Member from Regina-Lewvan, replied:
“Mr. Speaker, indeed I do share those concerns. Statistics Canada had a long-standing advisory board that was much larger and represented virtually every sector of society and every region of the country. Of course there are many benefits to that. In an effort to be as charitable as possible to the government, the idea may be that having a smaller body can be a more effective decision making group, rather than a large body of appointees where it almost becomes an honorific. The devil here is in the details, and we need to know that the government will actually appoint well-qualified, independent people. Therefore, I think there is every reason to be suspicious that may not happen, and is a reason for us, as opposition MPs, to keep a careful watch on those appointments and that process.”

“Though our Conservative Party supports Bill C-36, at Second Reading, we are still concerned with the aspects of this Bill and we will be proposing amendments once the Bill is forwarded to committee for further study”, concluded MP Eglinski.

CARELESS USE OF A FIREARM

Submitted by Thorsby/Breton RCMP

RCMP responded to a residence on Range Road 14 near TWP 485 on the afternoon of February 25th 2017 due to a report of a stray bullet entering a home.

Upon arrival officers found that a medium caliber rifle bullet had entered the north wall of a home and travelled through a dining area, passing directly under a chair, prior to becoming lodged in the opposite wall. While there were no injuries, this incident had the potential for a serious or fatal injury to the occupants of the home.

RCMP are reminding all firearm owners that it is their responsibility to observe all safety precautions, and that they are subject to prosecution under the Criminal Code and Firearms Act for such offences. Do not underestimate the distance that a bullet can travel.

Anyone with information regarding this incident is asked to please contact Thorsby RCMP Detachment at 780 789-3951 or to submit their information through Crime stoppers.

LEDUC RCMP SEARCH FOR OWNER OF ABANDONED SCOOTER

Submitted by Leduc RCMP

On January 22, 2017, at approximately 2:00PM, the Leduc RCMP responded to a report of an assisted movement scooter which was abandoned in the parking lot of the McDonald's restaurant on Sparrow Drive, Leduc. The scooter is orange in color and it is damaged. A few items were left with the scooter but nothing to identify the owner. Police are hoping to identify the owner and return this property to them.

If you have any information or wish to claim this property, please call the Leduc RCMP at 780-980-7200. If you wish to remain anonymous, you can contact Crime Stoppers by phone at 1-800-222-8477 (TIPS), by Internet at www.tipsubmit.com, or by SMS (check your local Crime Stoppers www.crimestoppers.ab.ca for instructions).

DANGER PAY

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Before Canadian troops were deployed to Kuwait, our previous Conservative government ensured that our troops would be entitled to full danger pay.

The Liberals have decided to revoke the benefit for all of our troops who are battling ISIS. They have taken away a tax credit worth up to $1,800 per month from each of Canada's troops who serve in harm's way. This is the same government that has racked up record deficits and tens of billions of dollars in borrowed money to finance their out-of-control spending.

I will continue to support the Conservative Party's efforts to have the Liberal government reverse their decision and support the brave men and women who represent Canadians in dangerous and life threatening postings. We must respect and recognize those who go into harms-way to give us our freedom and way of life.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
