The suspects were described as Caucasian males, medium built in their 20s or early 30s. The female was able to notice that one of them had a tattoo on his right jaw.

Investigation continues into this occurrence.

CITY OF LEDUC MUNICIPAL CENSUS: 2017

Submitted by Sherrie Mohr, Communications Officer | City of Leduc

Once again, it's time to complete the City of Leduc's annual municipal census. The Census is an important step in helping the City, businesses and school boards make informed decisions on programs and services used by residents of Leduc. The Census also ensures that the City of Leduc receives a fair share of funding from other levels of government.

Every Leduc household will receive a letter in the mail with their unique personal identification number (PIN) required to participate in the online Census, which starts Saturday, April 1, 2017.

"The online option is such a convenient way for residents to complete their Census," says Sandra Davis, City of Leduc City Clerk. "It can be done any time of the day, without leaving the house."

Households that have not completed their census online will receive a visit from a City of Leduc Census Worker between April 22 and May 31, 2017. In addition to wearing City employee badges, Census Workers are required to clear a criminal record check.

The City is partnering with the Leduc Public Library to offer residents secure access to the online Census from April 1 – May 30. To participate, citizens must bring their letter with their PIN.

- April 1: Census begins
- April 1 – May 31: Complete your online Census: Census.leduc.ca

- April 22: Census Workers start door-to-door collection
- May 31: Census ends

In 2016, 39 per cent of citizens participated in the secure, online Census.

The City of Leduc has conducted an annual municipal census since 2008 to ensure the City receives provincial funding proportionate with Leduc's fast growing population. Leduc relies on provincial funding to help offset the costs of many important services, including infrastructure improvements and maintenance, public library, Family & Community Support Services, and RCMP.

PARLIAMENT UPDATE

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Week of April 10, 2017

Last weekend I had the pleasure of attending the Rocky Mountain House Agricultural Society's "Salute to Agriculture" Banquet in Leslieville. At the event, we recognized the achievements of our local farmers and agricultural community.

It was a short week in Parliament due to the Easter holiday. The following was debated in the House:

- Bill C-17 – An Act to amend the Yukon Environmental and Socio-economic Assessment Act and to make a consequential amendment to another Act (Second Reading)

- Bill C-224 – Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act (Consideration of Messages between the Senate and the House of Commons)

- Bill C-243 – National Maternity Assistance Program Strategy Act (Instruction to Committee)

- Bill C-308 – An Act to provide for the incorporation of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and to make consequential amendments to other Acts (Second Reading)

- Question of privilege (denial of access of Members to the Parliamentary Precinct raised on March 22, 2017)

On Tuesday, I gave a speech and commented on gender equality for women. You can watch the speech on my Facebook page (www.facebook.com/jimeglinski.mp/) or read it on the corresponding day's Debates Hansard at: www.parl.gc.ca/HouseChamberBusiness/ChamberHome.aspx

On Wednesday, activist and Nobel Peace Prize winner Malala Yousafzai addressed Parliament after receiving an honorary Canadian citizenship. Originally, she was to be presented the honorary citizenship in 2014, but the October ceremony was cancelled due to the deadly Parliament Hill attack.

In the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development (ENVI), we continued our review of The Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999. For more information on these meetings, visit: www.parl.gc.ca/Committees/en/ENVI

This week, I attended seven meetings and five events. I will be in the riding this weekend for Easter and the next two weeks, as the House will not be sitting. My next update will be on my travels throughout our beautiful constituency of Yellowhead.

Week of May 1, 2017

This week in Parliament, we discussed topics including government spending, drug overdose, and Remembrance Day. We also discussed an incident where two Conservative MPs were blocked from accessing the House of Commons by the Prime Minister's motorcade and, as a result, missed an important vote.

The following was debated in the House:

- Bill C-4 – An Act to amend the Canada Labour Code, the Parli-

mentary Employment and Staff Relations Act, the Public Service Labour Relations Act and the Income Tax Act (Consideration of Senate Amendments)

- Bill C-44 – Budget Implementation Act, 2017, No. 1 (Second Reading)

- Bill C-224 – Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act (Consideration of Senate Amendments)

- Bill C-305 – An Act to amend the Criminal Code (mischief) (Report Stage)

- Bill C-311 – An Act to amend the Holidays Act (Remembrance Day) (Report Stage)

- Bill S-208 – National Seal Products Day Act (Third Reading)

- Question of privilege (denial of access of Members to the Parliamentary Precinct raised on March 22, 2017)

On Monday in the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development (ENVI), the Minister of Environment and Climate Change attended the meeting as a witness to discuss Report 6, which was presented to the House of Commons on May 2.

DRAYTON VALLEY RCMP WARN RESIDENTS TO LOCK VEHICLES

Submitted by Drayton Valley RCMP

Drayton Valley RCMP received several complaints of Thefts of Motor Vehicles and Thefts from Motor Vehicles over the past month. They would like to remind residents to be vigilant in order to prevent vehicle thefts. Thieves are known as opportunistic offenders and tend to look for easy targets like unlocked and unattended vehicles. Leaving your unlocked vehicle running, leaving a spare key inside the vehicle and having valuables visible are all risks and could result in vehicle thefts and thefts from vehicles.

Thieves are searching residential neighbourhoods and parking lots looking for unlocked vehicles, vehicles left running and visible valuables. "Don't make yourself a victim" says Sgt. Erin Matthews of the Drayton Valley RCMP. "If you leave your vehicle unlocked and running, your chances of becoming a victim are increased as it only takes a few seconds for an opportunistic thief to jump in and drive away"

Drayton Valley RCMP would also like to remind the public to report any suspicious activities to the police.

If you have information pertaining to these crimes or any others, please call the Drayton Valley RCMP at 780-542-4457.

FIRE SAFETY SHOULD BE TOP OF MIND WHEN ENJOYING THE OUTDOORS

Submitted by Mariann McLaughlin, Corporate Communications | City of Leduc

'Plan. Prepare. Be Aware.' act as common sense reminders for Albertans who are looking to venture outdoors this spring to enjoy day-use and/or camping areas, according to Leduc Fire Services.

"Outdoor fire safety is paramount for outdoor enthusiasts," says Deputy Fire Chief Gerry Kelly with Leduc Fire Services. "And with any outdoor activity, it's extremely important to be prepared for any emergencies that may arise. Having your own 72-hour emergency kit is the easiest method to be prepared, whether it's for in your home or when out camping with family and friends."

Being safe outdoors covers a variety of activities, from campfires and recreational vehicle use to overall safety for children. Some helpful tips include:

- Know your location in case of an emergency and confirm that 911 service is available

- Always be aware of area/regional fire bans before starting a campfire and model campfire safety practices

- Develop, practice and know your fire escape plan for your RV

- Ensure children/youth tell adults where they are going. Review the 'Hug-a-Tree and Survive' safety plan with youth before your scheduled trip

"It's better to be prepared than to be caught off guard not knowing what to do in an emergency," says Kelly. "Having and practicing an escape plan, preparing a 72-hour kit and reviewing safety tips with loved ones puts you in the best situation where you hopefully will never have to use it."

Visit ofc.alberta.ca/camping-and-outdoor-fire-safety to learn more about outdoor safety as the website clearly outlines what people need to know.

For more information on emergency preparedness, visit Alberta Ready online (<http://albertaready.aema.alberta.ca/#/id/m01-co01>) or call 780-980-7177.

Parliament Update

The President of the Canadian Environmental Assessment Agency, the Deputy Minister, and the Chief Executive Officer of Parks Canada were also in attendance.

On Tuesday, I attended the official launch of the Arctic Aviation Tour 2017, which will take-off from Rocky Mountain House on June 1. The tour will be performing at 97 airshows across the arctic, flying 31,000 km. I want to encourage constituents in the area to come out and see the record-breaking show!

Also on Tuesday, I briefly met with students from Edson after they visited the War Museum in Ottawa.

On Wednesday, ENVI continued a review of The Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999. For more information on these meetings, visit: www.parl.gc.ca/Committees/en/ENVI

On Friday, I met with constituents in my Hill office. If you are visiting Ottawa, please stop in to say 'hello'!

This week, I attended 12 meetings, four events, and recorded a radio message. My next update will be on the happenings of Parliament as it continues to sit next week.

Week of May 8, 2017

This week in Parliament, we discussed topics including genetically modified foods, railway crossings, and palliative care.

The following was debated in the House:

- Bill C-338 – An Act to amend the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (punishment) (Second Reading)

- Conservative Motion – Minister of National Defence

- Bill C-44 – Budget Implementation Act, 2017, No. 1 (Second Reading)

- Bill C-277 – Framework on Palliative Care in Canada Act (Report Stage)

- Bill C-4 – An Act to amend the Canada Labour Code, the Parliamentary Employment and Staff Relations Act, the Public Service Labour Relations Act and the Income Tax Act (Consideration of Senate amendments)

- Bill C-291 – An Act to amend the Food and Drugs Act (genetically modified food) (Second Reading)

- NDP Motion – Canada Infrastructure Bank

- Bill S-231 – An Act to amend the Canada Evidence Act and the Criminal Code (protection of journalistic sources) (Second Reading)

- Bill C-23 – An Act respecting the preclearance of persons and good in Canada and the United States (Report Stage)

- Bill C-7 – An Act to amend the Public Service Labour Relations Act, the Public Service Labour Relations and Employment Board Act and other Acts and to provide for certain other measures (Consideration of Senate amendments)

- Bill C-322 – An Act to amend the Railway Safety Act (road crossings) (Second Reading)

On Monday, I took part in the Conservative motion, asking the Minister of National Defence two questions on how he still thought he had the respect and trust of the people or the military: <http://www.parl.gc.ca/HousePublications/Publication.aspx?Language=E&Mode=1&Parl=42&Ses=1&DocId=8927248> on pages 20 and 23.

On Tuesday, I was extremely disappointed to learn that six Liberal Members used their majority in the Standing Committee on Justice and Human Rights to vote against Bill S-217, effectively defeating it without a vote by the House of Commons. This bill, also known as Wynn's Law, would have closed a fatal loophole in the Criminal Code, a loophole that cost Const. Wynn his life when he was murdered by a career criminal who was out on bail.

In the Standing Committee on Environment and Sustainable Development (ENVI), we continued our review of The Canadian Environmental Protection Act, 1999 and the consideration of a draft report. For more information on these meetings, visit: www.parl.gc.ca/Committees/en/ENVI

This week, I attended 12 meetings and two events. My next update will be on the happenings of Parliament as it continues to sit next week.

CITY OF LEDUC LEADS THE WAY IN NEW REGIONAL ECDEV INITIATIVE

Submitted by Nikki Booth, manager of Communication and Marketing Services with the City of Leduc

Leduc City Council is pleased to announce its unanimous decision to become the first shareholder in a proposed regional economic development initiative created by the Capital Region Board.

"We're excited to be a part of this new Economic Development organization that will further enhance the long-term growth and sustainability of the metro region," says Mayor Greg Krischke. "We're eager to begin and look forward to working with our fellow shareholders come May 24."

The new initiative, the Edmonton Metropolitan Region Economic Development Entity (EMREDE), will develop a regional economic development strategy to market the metro region on a global scale, as well as attract businesses and talent from around the world. Member municipalities of the Capital Region Board will have an opportunity to join the EMREDE by May 24, 2017.

"Important to the council's decision was the understanding that available funding from the provincial and federal governments for regional economic development will be more accessible to meet growing demands of this metro region," says Mayor Krischke.

Once all new municipal shareholders are in place, the EMREDE will appoint a chief executive officer and board of directors.

"We're very pleased to see the City of Leduc become an early adopter in joining this exciting and new economic development opportunity to help bring further prosperity to the metro region," says Mary Cameron, interim chair of the EMREDE. "I expect the start-up process of this new entity will take a number of months as the shareholders will make any refinements to agreements and details of association," said Mary Cameron.

LEDUC COUNTY COUNCIL APPROVES 2017 BUDGET, SETS TAX RATES

Submitted by Katherine Degaust, Communications Coordinator | Leduc County

Leduc County council approved the final 2017 budget and set the 2017 tax rates at its regular council meeting this afternoon.

Council approved an $81.4 million operating budget and $36.1 million capital budget, which represents a zero per cent municipal tax dollar budget increase over 2016.

It's been an economically challenging year for many people in the region. As a council, we wanted to help our residents by keeping Leduc County's tax rates consistent. Ninety per cent of property owners will see a property tax increase of less than one-hundred dollars this year, which is substantial, especially when you take into account the provincial education property tax increase, which the County has no control over.

John Whaley, Mayor of Leduc County

The 2017 capital budget includes $9.4 million for the annual road surfacing program, $3.0 million for a new fire station in the Calmar fire district, $3.0 million for capital equipment and vehicle purchases for protective services, $2.4 million for bridge rehabilitation and $543,000 for parks and recreation purposes.

2017 tax rates

The zero per cent tax dollar budget increase resulted in a minimal tax increase for most land owners. Approximately 90 per cent of Leduc County property owners can expect a property tax increase of less than $100 over 2016. Five per cent of property owners can expect an increase between $101 and $250 and the remaining five per cent can expect an increase of more than $250.

Property taxes are comprised of municipal taxes, other requisitions and the provincial education tax. Leduc County is obligated to collect the provincial education tax, as set by the Government of Alberta, as part of its property taxes. Leduc County's total 2017 education property tax is $24.2 million, which represents an approximately 7.7 per cent, or $1.7 million, increase over 2016.

Tax notices will be mailed to residents no later than the last week of May 2017. Taxes are due by June 30, 2017.

CITY OF LEDUC INVITES CITIZENS TO PROVIDE INSIGHT INTO ANNUAL BUDGET

Submitted by Sherrie Mohr, Corporate Communications | City of Leduc

The City of Leduc is now planning for the year ahead and looking for input from citizens through their annual Budget Survey.

During the month of May, residents of Leduc can have their say regarding where tax dollars should be spent by participating in the 2018 Budget Planning Survey. The online survey contains questions designed to gather citizen opinions on how funding should be allocated in the City of Leduc.

"It is important that the budget aligns with citizen expectations," says Jennifer Cannon, director of Finance with the City of Leduc. "The feedback from the survey helps shape the direction and future of the City."

Citizen engagement is a major component of the City's budget planning process. The budget survey provides a month-long opportunity for residents to help identify community priorities, in addition to input on desired service levels. It also offers participants a better understanding and awareness of the City's annual budget process and pressures the City faces.

"Participation levels in last year's budget survey were remarkable," says Jennifer Cannon. "It's wonderful to connect with the community and provide a comfortable channel for them to identify which projects and programs are important."

Residents of Leduc can access the survey at: <http://www.leduc.ca/budgetsurvey2018>.

There will also be print copies available at the following City locations:

- Leduc Civic Centre (1 Alexandra Park)

- Leduc Public Library (2 Alexandra Park)

- Leduc Recreation Centre (4330 Black Gold Drive)

The survey is open to residents 16 years of age and older, and runs May 1 – 31, 2017.

As a thank you for completing the survey, citizens may enter a draw to win a Leduc Recreation Centre Family Flex Pass. Results of the survey will be shared with the public later this year.

Lawn & Garden

DESIGN A GARDEN FOR ALL SENSES

Gardens add visual appeal to a yard, but gardens also can appeal to individuals' senses of smell, taste, touch, and sound. Gardeners who want to create gardens that appeal to various senses can do so in the following ways.

Sight

Aesthetic appeal is one of the most sought-after benefits of gardening. However, many homeowners put in so much effort planting for one particular season that they may not give thought to ensuring the garden looks vibrant no matter the time of year.

Gardeners can research planting zones to find plants that will blossom at different times of the year so they can enjoy impressive, aesthetically appealing gardens year-round. Spring bulbs can bloom early on, while annual and perennial summer favorites will thrive under the summer sun. Beautyberry and caryopteris will fill out in the autumn, while holly or mahonia can look lovely in the winter.

Smell

Gardeners can dot their landscapes with aromatic trees, shrubs and flowers that will make stepping out into the garden that much more special. Some of the more fragrant plants include gardenia, dianthus, calendula, lavender, and jasmine. Shrubs such as fragrant pineapple broom, Anne Russell viburnum and Christmas box can add fragrance as well.

Sound

The lively sounds of the garden are created by the wildlife that come to pollinate and enjoy the environment gardeners have created. By choosing indigenous plants, gardeners can be sure that insects and small critters will seek refuge within the foliage.

Songbirds also will add character to a yard. The Audubon Society suggests including a water source and a songbird border of shrubs along your property's edge. Provide food sources and make sure they are located a fair distance from the main action of the yard so as not to scare off birds. Wait for musical chickadees, goldfinches, orioles, and cardinals to arrive and enjoy the accommodations.

Taste

Gardeners can expand their gardens to include fruit-bearing trees and rows of vegetables.

Produce can be harvested from early spring through late fall depending on the crops planted.

Touch

Apart from including trees and shrubs of various textures in the garden, look for other ways to stimulate a tactile response. Water features add relaxing sound and beauty. Stones, moss, mulch, and other accents have varied textures that can stimulate the sense of touch in various ways. Don't forget to include a sitting area so that you can immerse yourself fully in the garden.

Go beyond visual appeal when designing a garden. When gardeners tap into all five senses, they can enjoy their landscapes even more than they already do.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
