International Overdose Awareness Day (IOAD) is a global event held on August 31st each year and aims to raise awareness of overdose and reduce the stigma of a drug-related death. It also acknowledges the grief felt by families and friends remembering those who have met with death or permanent injury as a result of drug overdose.

AHS WARNS ABOUT CALLER ADVISING BREAST SELF-EXAM

Submitted by Alberta Health Services -- Public Service Announcement

EDMONTON/NORTH – Alberta Health Services (AHS) is warning women in the Edmonton area and northern Alberta to be aware of misleading telephone calls regarding breast cancer screening results.

AHS has received reports eight women in the Edmonton, Barrhead and Athabasca areas have received a phone call from a man claiming to be from a medical imaging facility. The caller relays breast screening exam followup information and advises an immediate breast self-exam must be conducted while on the phone.

Although AHS representatives may call to discuss a mammography appointment, they will never ask a patient to conduct a breast self-exam over the phone.

If you receive a phone call from anyone requesting you complete a breast self-exam while on the phone, please hang up, note the time and any other call details, and immediately contact local police on their non-emergency line.

If you are uncomfortable with calling police directly or are uncertain whether the call is legiti-mate, you can call AHS' Screening Program Client Support Line at 1-866-727-3926.

AHS has informed law enforcement and encourages anyone who has experienced this issue to please work with their local police or RCMP.

Alberta Health Services is the provincial health authority responsible for planning and delivering health supports and services for more than four million adults and children living in Alberta. Its mission is to provide a patient-focused, quality health system that is accessible and sustainable for all Albertans.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson decide to go on a camping trip. After dinner and a bottle of wine, they lay down for the night, and go to sleep. Some hours later, Holmes awoke and nudged his faithful friend. "Watson, look up at the sky and tell me what you see." Watson replied, "I see millions of stars." "What does that tell you?" Watson pondered for a minute. "Astronomically, it tells me that there are millions of galaxies and potentially billions of planets." "Astrologically, I observe that Saturn is in Leo." "Horologically, I deduce that the time is approximately a quarter past three." "Theologically, I can see that God is all powerful and that we are small and insignificant." "Meteorologically, I suspect that we will have a beautiful day tomorrow." "What does it tell you, Holmes?" Holmes was silent for a minute, then spoke: "Watson, you idiot. Someone has stolen our tent!"

MINISTER'S SENIORS SERVICE AWARD

Submitted by Connie Gatzke

On Monday, August 14, Anna Hutchison was recognized as one of 84 nominations across Alberta for the 2017 Minister's Senior Service Award.

The Wildwood Seniors Club chose to nominate Anna for her dedicated volunteer work for the club. For years Anna was an extraordinary caterer in our community and now as a senior she continues to prepare meals for the Wildwood Seniors fund raiser suppers held 5 times a year at the Seniors Centre. Her written nomination detailed countless hours she donates to her community to benefit seniors. She has been a regular "granny" in the grandparent program. She supervises sewing once a month at the Seniors' Center. She sews and donates to the silent auctions for various organizations. Produce from her garden comes to the Seniors' suppers as pickles, or mashed turnips. She makes Christmas pudding especially for the Seniors' Christmas supper. Her constant knitting is seen at silent auctions, in the children's' Christmas bags at the Grandparent program, or as toys and hats for premature babies in hospitals. She helps with all the seniors' fundraiser and recently helped organized this year's silent auction. Presently she is vice president. She is an invaluable member to the Wildwood seniors.

Her value extends to other organizations. TOPS is a weight loss program for people of all ages but many of our members are seniors. Anna's weekly dedication for over 30 years to that program is unbelievably consistent.

Wildwood is so fortunate to have many volunteers who support the community activities and we are certainly very proud of Anna who does so much for us.

The provincial committee who decides which of the 84 nominees who will be awarded the service medal will make its decision known later in the fall. In the meantime, Anna was recognized with 21 other nominees in Mill Woods at a special ceremony. A few of her friends were pleased to attend. We congratulate Anna and thank her for all she does.

ANNOUNCED PROPOSED CHANGES TO CANADA'S TAX SYSTEM TARGETS SMALL BUSINESS OWNERS

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Starting a small business is not easy and the Liberal government's proposed changes to Canada's tax system is making it harder for small businesses to continue operating. When small businesses are successful they benefit the broader community by growing the economy and creating jobs.

Increasing the tax burden on these job-creators will decrease the incentives for individuals to take important risks and rob people of their livelihood.

On July 18th the Trudeau Liberals announced proposed changes to Canada's tax system that target small business owners – farmers, restaurant owners, retail and convenience store owners, as well as important service providers such as accountants and doctors.

Canada already has one of the highest effective tax rates on business investment in the G7. Business owners already pay tax twice: first when their business earns money from sales and then again when they withdraw money from the company for their personal use. Two years ago, when the Liberals took office they increased the tax rate on investment income by over 17%.

The Liberals are hoping to have legislation passed as early as October. If passed, small businesses, farmers and their employees will suffer as a result. This could make it more difficult for Canadians to find a family doctor, increase the costs of local produce at the grocery store, discourage young Canadians from starting their own businesses, and make Canadian businesses uncompetitive. This may result in many small businesses making hard decisions resulting in layoffs, fewer working hours, and reduced health insurance and other employee benefits. It will also make it more expensive, if not impossible, for parents to pass on family businesses or farms to their children due to these proposed tax changes.

Justin Trudeau says a "significant portion" of small businesses serve as a screen for wealthy Canadians who want to avoid paying taxes and that is "unfair." Does he really understand business and the economy go hand-in-hand?

Small business owners do not have job security, employment benefits, employer sponsored pension plans, employment insurance, sick days or vacation days. As a result entrepreneurs rely on their ability to save from their earnings to retire. These proposed changes will also be retroactive without the ability for taxpayers to plan ahead.

Justin Trudeau is out of touch with the plight of farmers, professionals, small business owners and their employees—a demographic that makes up nearly 97% of Canadian businesses and approximately 70% of Canada's workforce.

Our Conservative Party believe taxes should be lower for all Canadians: for businesses, families, and individuals. This is a core part of our Conservative vision of prosperity and opportunity for all Canadians.

YELLOWHEAD COUNTY COUNCIL HIGHLIGHTS

Submitted by Dan Ivanov | Yellowhead County

August 22, 2017

Revenue Sharing Agreement – Pursuant to the terms of the Revenue Sharing Agreement, the towns of Edson and Hinton presented a letter to council declaring where the funds were utilized. Hinton's funds ($1.9 million) were used to offset mill rates. Edson split the funding ($5.1 million) between policing costs, a utilities project, and reserves for future capital initiatives. Council accepted the Revenue Sharing Agreement accounting from the Town of Edson and the Town of Hinton for information purposes.

Land Use Bylaw, Hamlet Rezoning – An application was submitted by a Niton Junction resident to amend bylaw 16.13 to allow provision for staff accommodation. The present zoning is Hamlet Commercial which does not allow for staff accommodation. Council moved to give the bylaw First Reading, and to move the bylaw forward to a Public Hearing on September 12, 2017.

Land Use Bylaw, Rural District Rezoning – Jesse Bowman Logging Inc. applied to rezone land from Rural District to Rural Industrial District in order to expand their logging business in excess of five commercial vehicles. Council passed this bylaw (08.17).

Reserve Bids for the 2017 Property Tax Recovery Auction – For each parcel of land to be offered for sale at public auction, a reserve bid was provided by independent assessor, Accurate Assessment Group (as reasonably close to the market value as possible). Council moved to adopt the reserve bids and terms and conditions for the October 25, 2017 property tax public auction as presented.

But as exacting as the game can be, it also can be just as rewarding, even for kids. Children who embrace the game of golf will learn a host of lessons they can apply in all facets of life. A humbling game even for professional golfers, golf can teach kids lessons in humility and the value of persistence even when things aren't going your way.

Though many people do not begin playing golf until they've reached adulthood, it's never too early for boys and girls to start learning the game of golf. Parents of preschoolers can start their kids off with a toddler play set. Though it's just a toy, a play set can help lay a solid foundation for future golfers. Kids who have watched Mom and Dad play golf or practice their swing can develop their own swings on their play set.

When kids move on from preschool to elementary school, some might want to tag along with Mom or Dad to the driving range. You should try to avoid overwhelming kids with too much instruction or information. Instead, keep things as simple as possible, teaching them the basic swing and encouraging them no matter how quickly they adapt.

As kids enter middle school and approach high school,

Help Kids Learn the Game of Golf

those who are enjoying the game of golf can take advantage of the driving range if they haven't already begun to. A driving range typically has markers that indicate the distance of a regular hole, regardless of which tee you will play from on an actual golf course. Kids can aim for holes at shorter distances to learn how far their drives are going. You can then adjust the lessons you teach your children based on how far youngsters can drive the ball.

As a child gets closer to high school, you might want to buy the child his or her own set of clubs. Look for inexpensive clubs (oftentimes, thrift stores or other second-hand retailers have clubs for sale) because growing children will eventually grow out of their first set of clubs. When your child finds a set of clubs that suits him or her, teach the proper way to swing and consider signing up your son or daughter for lessons. Those first few lessons can prove invaluable, turning a pastime into a passion kids will carry with them throughout their lives.

HOW TO PREVENT MOLD GROWTH IN YOUR HOME

Mold plays an important role in nature. Mold breaks down dead organic matter, including fallen leaves, and speeds up the decomposition process so nutrients can return to the soil as quickly as possible. But mold inside a home can be a formidable foe, triggering allergic reactions and increasing a person's risk of developing respiratory problems. Mold can even cause damage to a home by attaching itself to wood and breaking down that wood.

Because the consequences of mold growth inside a home can be so dire, it's important that men and women take steps to prevent mold growth in their homes and apartments. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency notes that controlling moisture levels in a home or apartment is the key to controlling mold as well.

• Address spills quickly and properly. Many instances of mold infestations can be traced to leaks or spills that were not quickly or properly addressed. The EPA advises that wet or damp materials or areas should be dried within 24 to 48 hours to prevent the growth of mold. Make sure spills are thoroughly cleaned as opposed to a cursory cleanup of only the areas visible to the naked eye. Inspect nearby crevices when spills occur to ensure the area where the spill happened and all surrounding areas vulnerable to mold growth are dry. In addition, fix leaky plumbing fixtures immediately, hiring a professional if necessary.

• Inspect the ground surrounding your home. Factors outside a home can sometimes contribute to mold growth within a home. Make sure the ground outside your home slopes away from the foundation. If the ground slopes toward your home, rainwater or runoff from sprinkler systems may direct water into your home, creating conditions favorable to mold growth inside. Gutters and downspouts also should be inspected to ensure they are working optimally. If not, they can contribute to water damage on the roof that can ultimately lead to mold growth.

• Monitor indoor humidity. The EPA advises that homeowners keep indoor humidity below 60 percent relative humidity, which can be measured with humidity meters available at many hardware stores. Homeowners who can keep indoor humidity at levels 30 to 50 percent below relative humidity might be even more successful at keeping indoor mold growth at bay.

• Dry wet surfaces immediately. Surfaces can become wet even if a home has no leaky fixtures and no spills have occurred. For example, the surfaces of bathroom walls, ceilings and floors get wet when a home's inhabitants take hot baths or showers. That condensation is natural, but such surfaces are also susceptible to mold growth. Make sure to dry wet surfaces immediately, and keep exhaust fans on or windows open when bathing to decrease the likelihood of mold growth.

Mold growth can be detrimental to human beings and their homes. But many mold infestations are easily prevented.

FINISHED BASEMENTS SAVE ENERGY AND DELIVER MORE LIVING SPACE

By finishing your basement, you can gain more living space while reducing the amount of energy loss from downstairs. Basements that are not fully finished typically do not have insulated walls or covered flooring. This can result in heat loss and cause your furnace to work overtime.

A remodeled basement offers more than additional storage space. It can provide a lot of extra room for a growing family, such as space for a gym, home theatre, office, guest suite, or a playroom for the kids.

To ensure a comfortable and inviting basement, there are a few project components to consider:

- Insulation will make sure your space warm and comfortable. For the best results, install a stone wool insulation product, a measure that can be done easily with the ROXUL ComfortBoard IS. This product is mechanically fastened or adhered to the concrete foundation wall, offering you a higher

R-value and better acoustics.

- Drywall will help define the space and make it feel like a part of your home. If you haven't tackled drywall before, consider hiring a pro to ensure your walls are seamless.

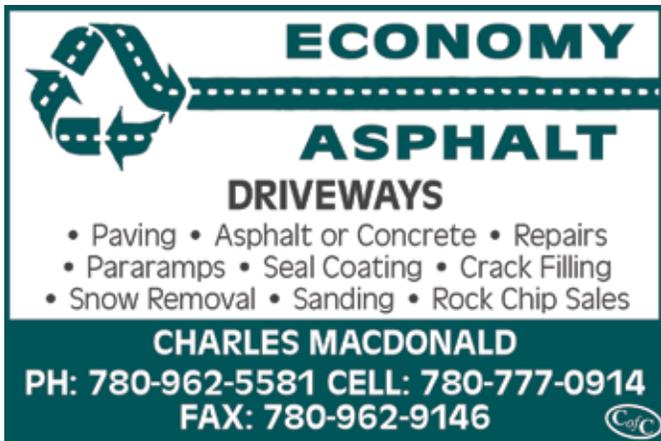

- Flooring should be water sealed and covered with an insulated material. There are many products on the market, but consider laying padding before carpet or in-floor heating before tiles.

- Personalize it with finishing touches. Select furniture that can fit down a typically steep staircase and choose items that complement the rest of your home's décor.

HOW TO SOUNDPROOF YOUR HOME

(MS) - What's the first step in sound proofing your home? Finding which rooms have the least amount of sound resistance.

To do this, make sure everyone is out of the house, unplug all electronics and close all doors and windows. Take a quick walk through your house and pause for a few moments in each room to evaluate which ones are the noisiest. Now consider if you're installing a media room or teenage recreational room where volumes will be blasting on TV's and stereos.

With this information, you should have a good idea of where you need to soundproof and create barriers against noise. Here are some tips to help you achieve the optimal result of peace and quiet:

- Plant trees and hedges along the exterior of your home, perhaps along a fence. Not only do trees and hedges help with the environment and provide a good amount of privacy, they also slow down the travel of noise from the neighborhood into your home.

- Insulate your walls and ceilings. Better insulation in your interiors and exteriors won't just drive away excess noise, it will also reduce your heating and cooling bills during the hot and cold months. For the best sound proofing and easy installation quality, a professional-grade product by ROXUL called Safe'n'Sound is very popular.

- Seal up all cracks and holes around windows and doors, and add double glazed windows to your current glass panes.

Once you've selected the best soundproofing method, implement it and enjoy the bliss of silence throughout your home.

CREATE DRAMA WITH BOLD PAINT COLORS

Painting is one of the easiest and least expensive ways to transform the look of a space. Paint colors can dramatically change the mood and the design of a home. And depending on a homeowner's goals, paint can make a statement or blend into the background.

Many people are now looking to bold colors to make spaces stand out. But choosing a paint color can be challenging. Homeowners looking to update walls and complement decor may want to look at some of the more impactful colors that Pantone indicates will be popular for the 2017 season. Primrose Yellow, Lapis Blue, Flame, Pink Yarrow, and Greenery are some of the more eye-catching selections. Once colors are selected, consider these guidelines for using bolder colors in room designs.

- Decide how big an impact you want to make. Are you looking for color overload or just a small focal point of vivid color? Remember, using bold color doesn't mean every wall must be lathered in that hue. Instead, select one wall to serve as an accent point and use that spot as your bold color display. Otherwise, rely on bold colors to dress up otherwise mundane areas, such as the back wall of a cupboard or moldings and trim.

- Try bold in a small space. Many people are surprised at how well bold colors work in small spaces. Powder rooms can be an ideal spot to experiment with paint colors. Try deep colors that can make the area seem intimate and even exotic. Dark, bold hues can be toned down by different accents, such as neutral colored fixtures and towels.

- Go bold in the kitchen. Incorporate a splash of color in the kitchen without going overboard. Try an appliance or design fixture in a bright shade. Or paint the inside of the cabinets in your favorite color and install glass inserts in the cabinet doors so that everyone gets a peek of the color beyond. A neutral kitchen also can be brightened up with the use of silverware, dishes, pots and pans, and other kitchen items featured in bold hues.

- Stick to boldness on interchangeable items. Those who like to experiment with color may find that they like to switch out the colors now and again. Instead of having to repaint every few months, use decorative items in bright shades to make swapping out color that much easier. For example, replace area rugs, throw pillows and draperies. Paint over terra cotta flower pots when the mood strikes.

- Establish balance. Rely on neutral furniture, rugs, moldings and baseboards if you decide to take bold colors up a notch. This will help create a sense of balance in the room.

Painting is a fun way to experiment with color. Many homeowners are not hesitant to use bold shades of color when they learn the right techniques. And because paint is an inexpensive option for making over a room, homeowners who find they do not like a particular color can easily paint over it with a new color.

HOW BUILDING PERMITS PROTECT HOMEOWNERS

You are thinking of making a major renovation to your home. Perhaps it's time to create that master bedroom suite you long have admired or install that wrap-around porch? What is the first thing that should be done before getting down to business?

The correct way to begin a home remodeling project is to obtain the necessary permits for the job. Many municipalities request individuals obtain permits for a range of work on homes or other structures, such as office buildings. Permits are generally required for all new construction as well as specific modifications that will affect structural, plumbing, mechanical, and electrical systems. It's important to check with the local building office prior to beginning work to see which permits you will need before the project can begin. Permits are necessary whether a homeowner is doing the work or hiring an outside contractor.

Due to the cost and time involved with securing permits, some homeowners skip this step so they can begin a project promptly. However, this can end up being a costly mistake. Permits might seem like a nuisance, but they actually protect homeowners in various ways.

Permits ensure safe workmanship. Permits provide a blueprint by which contractors and do-it-yourselfers must complete renovations. Because inspections will take place, there is no wiggle room. Shortcuts often translate into subpar work that may lead to malfunction and injury in the long run. Safeguarding against poor workmanship means homeowners can feel confident in the work being done.

Permits reduce the likelihood of costly mistakes

As inspectors go through their checklists, they may notice things that were done incorrectly and will offer advice about how to mend the problem before it becomes a larger headache. If left unchecked, an electrical error could lead to a fire or another dangerous situation. Repairs that are not structurally sound may pose problems or deteriorate more quickly than structures that are constructed correctly. Furthermore, catching improper technique early on eliminates having to tear down and redo work, which can be a costly and time-consuming endeavor.

Permits protect against fines. Sometimes work goes as planned even for homeowners who did not obtain the necessary permits. However, years later, when other work needs to be done, inspectors may discover homeowners never secured proper permits and inspections years earlier, leading to fines.

Furthermore, if work is done without a permit and an accident occurs, any damages or injuries may not be covered by a homeowner's insurance policy.

Permits are an important part of the home improvement process. Homeowners should not skirt the responsibility because the permit and inspection process is in place to provide protection to occupants.

FALLIS COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION PRESENTS ITS 11TH ANNUAL SHOW AND SHINE

Submitted by Laurence Waring | Fallis Show and Shine Coordinator

On September 9th Fallis Community Association will present its 11th Annual Show and Shine. This event is a major fund raiser for the small hall located at Range Road 52 and Highway 16 approximately 80 km west of Edmonton between the Villages of Wabamum and Seba Beach. Maureen Mazerolle, the Association President, notes that "this year is an important year as we are hoping to undertake some major renovations to the hall, not the least of which will be a new roof."

The event will be a mix of old and new. As always car enthusiasts will be there with their custom and classic cars on display with the show starting at 11:00 AM. There will be prizes awarded in categories based on domestic makes and a category for imports. The car enthusiasts will vote for their favourite in each category but their own. The prizes and 50/50 will awarded at 3:00 PM.

Laurence Waring , a volunteer working on the Show and Shine, pointed out that "there will a contest to select the King and Queen of the Show sponsored again this year by the Canadian Brewhouse." There will be other contests and raffles as well. Another returning component of the Show and Shine will be the Kid's Model Race Car Clinic. Dan Chugg, a community volunteer, builds the wooden race car components. "The kids can assemble, fine tune and customize their cars and we race them right here at the Show and Shine on our race track" noted Dan Chugg.

As in past years, there will be a concession running from 11:00 AM to 4:30 PM. As well, there will be an ice cream sundae bar at 2:30 for a toonie. A beer gardens will run from noon to 4:30.

The big change this year will be live music. EQUUS, the power cooperative that is celebrating 70 years of operation this year, is sponsoring the live music. Maureen Mazerolle noted that "... the community was thrilled when EQUUS stepped up to help the event. It is really special when a rural community gets this kind of help and especially this year when we are at the start of major renovations." The featured artist is emerging singer-songwriter Maddie Storvold. Maddie Storvold is coming off of the release of her CD "The Old Brag of My Heart" which was released in June of 2017. "She recently performed at the Edmonton Folkfest so we are really pleased to have her perform three sets at our Show and Shine" noted Laurence Waring.

Maureen Mazerolle put in one last pitch for the event. "It will be a great afternoon. There are no gravel roads enroute to Fallis for those bringing their classic vehicles. Registration will start at 10:00 AM and the show starts at 11:00. The beer gardens will open at noon and the first set will be at 12:30. Come out enjoy the cars, the live music and with the Kids Model Race Car Clinic there will be something for everyone."

OVERDOSE PREVENTION AWARENESS

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

August 31 is International Overdose Awareness Day, a global event to raise awareness of overdose and reduce stigma of drug-related death.

In Alberta, opioid related overdoses are occurring at an alarming rate. Fortunately, many overdose deaths are preventable if medical help is given when you first begin to notice any symptoms. Here are the signs of an opioid overdose:

- Their breathing is slow or they may not be breathing at all
  - Body is very limp
  - You can't wake them up
  - Blue lips and nails
  - Skin is cold and/or clammy
  - Gurgling or snoring sounds
  - Choking or throwing up
  - Pupils are tiny
  - Seizures
- If you come across someone or are with someone who may be overdosing, call 911 and, stay with them until we arrive. They may need your help while the ambulance is on its way. Due to the Good Samaritan Drug Overdose Act people who experience or witness an overdose and who call 911 for help will receive some protection under the law.

While you wait for help, keep checking on them. Are they breathing? If not, begin rescue breathing. Are they responding or breathing on their own? If they are still unresponsive and you have naloxone – follow the step by step instructions and administer naloxone. Naloxone can temporarily reverse the symptoms of an opioid overdose.

For more information on opioid overdose, or how to get help for yourself or a loved one, including where to get naloxone, visit www.stopods.ca.

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

4	2	8	7	5	1	3	6	9
5	7	3	6	9	2	8	1	4
