Also on Thursday during Adjournment Proceedings, I had the opportunity to raise a question I asked last Friday, calling on the federal government to assist Alberta in our fight against the Mountain Pine Beetle infestation.

You can read my questions and comments in the House on the corresponding day's Hansard on the House Publications page at www. ourcommons.ca/en.

NATIONAL ADDICTION AWARENESS WEEK (NAAW)

Submitted by Alberta Health Services – Addiction and Mental Health

National Addiction Awareness Week (NAAW) is a national week (November 12-18) recognized by Canadians across the country. Every year Albertans participate in NAAW in their local communities with the goal of providing information and promoting activities that increase the awareness of substance use problems and the range of services available in the province - including information, prevention and treatment services.

NAAW is also a week to celebrate and recognize the capacity of our communities and individuals who work together every year to support and encourage addiction-free lifestyles.

This year, the theme is Words Matter, and focuses on how the use of stigmatizing language can perpetuate false and harmful myths around substance use, and act as a barrier to recovery.

To help individuals, community groups, schools and businesses across the province in hopes of reducing addictions, AHS has created an online Addiction Prevention Toolkit. To view the toolkit visit: http://www. albertahealthservices.ca/info/ Page14610.aspx.

The toolkit includes tips for building healthy relationships and positive behaviours for individuals, parents, communities, families, schools, and workplaces.

Here are some small actions you can take to make a big difference

• Know the facts. Educate yourself about substance use problems—what can bring them on, who is more likely to develop problems, and how to prevent or reduce the severity of problems.

• Be aware of your attitudes and behavior. See people as unique human beings, not as labels or stereotypes.  Choose your words carefully. Use accurate and sensitive words when talking about people with substance use problems. For example, speak about "people with substance use disorders" rather than an "addicts".
 Educate others. Chal-

Indexte outers: ond
lenge myths and stereotypes.
Focus on the positive. People with substance use problems make valuable contributions to society. Their health problems don't define them or their worth.

• Support people. Treat people who have substance use problems with dignity and respect.

• Include everyone. People with substance use problems have a right to take an equal part in society.

It is important to know if you are or someone you know is struggling with an addiction help is available. Albertans can get more information or help by calling Health Link at 811 or the Addiction Helpline 1-866-332-2322.

Influenza is serious. Immunization works. Get Immunized.

Alberta's Influenza Immunization Program is ongoing.

NELSON SAULTEAUX ARRESTED

Submitted by Leduc RCMP

St. Albert, Alberta – In collaboration with the Leduc General Investigation Section and St. Albert RCMP detachment members, Nelson Saulteaux was located by the newly formed Integrated Crime Reduction Unit (ICRU) and arrested, without incident, at a location in St. Albert. Saulteaux was previously charged in relation to an armed robbery that occurred in Calmar on October 15, 2017 and an arrest warrant was issued. RCMP felt that Saulteaux may be armed and dangerous, and public assistance was requested in locating him.

Saulteaux is also facing charges in connection with theft from a liquor store in Stony Plain on October 12 and an armed robbery on October 14 at the By the Way Liquor Store in Millet.

At the time of Saulteaux's arrest, he was wanted on a Canada Wide Warrant for being Unlawfully at Large. Saulteaux remains in police custody.

"Intelligence sharing between various detachments is crucial in solving these multi-jurisdictional crimes" says Corporal Peter MacMillan of the ICRU. "We are seeing the positive results already in relation to the implementation of this Integrated Crime Reduction Unit. It's our hope that solving these robberies and effecting this arrest may help to prevent future crimes."

These matters are now before the courts and further investigational information will not be provided by the RCMP.

Public assistance is being sought to help identify the suspects.

On November 1, just before 2:00 a.m., Wetaskiwin RCMP responded to an armed robbery at Barney's Pub and Grill. Two men, one armed with a gun, entered the bar and demanded money from the staff. One male was carrying a duffel bag, and cash was put into the bag, while the other male appeared to keep watch.

No one was injured during this robbery, and no shots were fired. The RCMP responded with the assistance of Police Dog Services, however, the suspects were not located. It is believed that they fled in a vehicle.

This morning, November 2, at 2:00 a.m. two male suspects entered the Devon Hotel bar wearing masks with one male carrying a shotgun. Pellets from the shotgun injured two of the patrons who were taken to an Edmonton hospital for treatment of non life-threatening injuries. There were four other people present, including a staff member, who were not injured.

One suspect took an undisclosed amount of cash from the bar and both suspects fled on foot. With the assistance of Police Dog Services, they were tracked down a nearby alley where it is believed that they left in a vehicle.

YOUTH AMBASSADOR BECOME A CANADIAN

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP - Yellowhead

OTTAWA: MP Eglinski, Member of Parliament for Yellowhead, is pleased to invite youth aged

13-18 from across his riding to apply to the Canadian Youth Ambassador Program, an initiative giving young people from across Canada the tools and opportunity to discover their true potential.

"For many young people, the idea that they can influence decisions made by government seems too abstract, and the issues that engage and concern adults seem both out of reach and, in many cases, irrelevant to their current lives," stated MP Eglinski. "However, even in their young age, students can influence decisions made by government and become politically active citizens."

The Youth Ambassador program is a public-private partnership to inspire youth from coastto- coast-to-coast to think 'future forward' by identifying a specific issue in their local community and propose an idea on how to address it.

Thirty Canadian Youth Ambassadors will be selected and given the opportunity to travel internationally to learn more about their place in the world. This year, Youth Ambassadors will travel to Ecuador and learn about environmental issues, visit indigenous communities, and participate in service learning activities. They will also reconvene in Ottawa to meet with MPs and present their action plans.

Applications open September 28, 2017 and will close on November 13, 2017.

"I encourage all youth interested in exploring and solving issues pertinent to their own communities to apply to the Canadian Youth Ambassador Program. I think some young people would be surprised how much they can influence change and serve as thoughtful citizens," concluded MP Eglinski.

RIDING UPDATE – WEEK OF OCTOBER 9, 2017

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Parliament was down this week, allowing me to spend time in the riding. I had the opportunity to meet with many constituents, attend events, and address important riding issues.

Over the Thanksgiving weekend, I enjoyed some quality time with my family in Edson.

On Tuesday, I visited grades 6, 7, and 8 students at Pine Grove

Middle School in Edson. We discussed the importance of voting, and how politics impact the community.

On Wednesday morning, I stopped in at Niton Junction and held a community discussion on the Liberal's proposed tax changes for corporations.

I was in Drayton Valley for the rest of Wednesday and Thursday. On Wednesday afternoon, I met with more local small businesses leaders regarding the tax changes. Later, I enjoyed an open house at the Breton fire hall that included tours, Fire Safety Awareness, and fire extinguisher demonstrations. I also attended the debate by Brazeau County's Zone Six candidates for the upcoming municipal election.

On Thursday, I took part in an event in recognition of Alberta Foster and Kinship Caregiver Week (October 15-21) at Drayton Valley's Town Office. In Canada, 83,000 children are living without their biological or adoptive parents. I was happy to help recognize our local foster and kinship caregivers, who play a critical role in providing our vulnerable children a safe and nurturing environment.

On Friday, I attended the Small Business Awards Ceremony in Edson. The event coincides with Small Business Week, which is a national celebration of Canadian entrepreneurs and their contribution to Canada's economy.

This weekend, I will be attending the 32nd annual Farmer's Appreciation Breakfast at Wildwood Community Hall. I will also attend Edson's Red Brick Harvest Bazaar and Tea before returning to Ottawa on Sunday.

Parliament will resume on Monday for the next four weeks. Look for my updates on my time in Canada's capital.

HOW TO HANDLE CAR TROUBLE WHILE DRIVING

Sudden car trouble is something no driver wants to experience, but many a driver has been driving down the highway only to feel his or her vehicle start to sputter. Such sputtering might indicate a car is running low on fuel, or it could be a sign of something more serious that requires motorists to think as quickly and safely as possible.

When car trouble strikes while a vehicle is on the road, the first thing many drivers do is check their fuel gauges. A car that runs out of gas is certainly inconvenient, but if you can pull over to the shoulder or make it to the nearest filling station, then this unfortunate situation can be remedied rather easily. But when a car's tank is full and it is still showing signs of trouble, drivers must take steps to protect themselves, their passengers and their vehicles. The following are a few simple tips motorists should keep in mind so they can safely handle any car trouble that may arise while they are out on the road.

• Keep a first-aid kit, spare tire and tire jack in the car at all times. Flat tires are no fun, but they are even more of a nuisance when drivers are not prepared to address them. Always keep a jack and spare tire in your car, even if the spare is a donut you can temporarily use to replace a flat tire until you make it to a filling station or automotive supply store. As an added safety measure, keep a fully stocked first aid kit in your vehicle in case you cut yourself while changing the tire or need to address another medical situation. Visit www.redcross.org for a list of items to include in your automotive emergency kit. Keep a blanket in the trunk as well so your passengers can stay warm should you experience car trouble on a cold day or night.

• Make note of your surroundings. Some car troubles can only be fixed by the professionals, so pay careful attention to your surroundings in case an issue arises and forces you to pull over and call for help. Always pay attention to mile markers and any landmarks that might help you describe where you are. Car troubles can strike at any time and anywhere, so be sure to pay special attention to your surroundings when driving in unfamiliar areas.

Pull over. Don't panic if an issue arises suddenly. Remain calm and pull over onto the shoulder. The right shoulder is the area for pulling over on most roads, but you may also use the left shoulder on multilane highways with medians. Try to get as far away from traffic as possible without driving off of level ground, and always use your signals when pulling onto the shoulder. If the vehicle can't make it to the median, put your emergency flashers on and get out of the car, moving away from both the vehicle and traffic. Immediately call for emergency roadside assistance, alerting the authorities if need be.

Use flares or trian-. gles to alert other drivers. So long as you are not risking your well-being, you can place flares and/or warning triangles behind your vehicle so oncoming traffic knows to drive around it. The popular not-for-profit motor club AAA recommends placing the first flare or triangle 10 feet directly behind the side of the vehicle that is closest to the road. The second should be placed between 30 and 60 feet (increase the distances as the posted speed limit increases) behind the middle of the bumper, while the third flare or triangle should be placed between 120 and 360 feet behind the vehicle's right side.

• Stay with the vehicle. Once you have called for help and set up flares or triangles, stay with the vehicle, though do so at a safe enough distance so you are not in harm's way.

• Sudden car troubles can be scary, but drivers who approach such issues calmly and quickly can reduce their risk for accident or injury.

STAY SAFE WHEN DRIVING IN WET WEATHER

Drivers must modify their driving habits when weather compromises their visibility and makes road conditions unsafe. Rain can fall any time of year, but tends to be most problematic in spring.

According to the Federal Highway Administration, wet roadways, and rain in particular, are the main cause of weather-related vehicle crashes. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration notes that, between 2004 and 2013, rain caused 573,784 crashes.

To drive safely in the rain and avoid accidents, drivers should follow certain precautions.

 Maintain windshield wipers. Inspect and, if necessary change windshield wipers regularly to ensure they are working optimally. Always test wipers before driving in rainy weather.

• Turn on lights with wipers. Reduced visibility is a major contributor to wet-weather accidents. Drivers' views may be hampered by falling precipitation and glare from wet roadways. Cloudy conditions and fog also compromise visibility. When using windshield wipers, turn on your headlights as well. This makes your vehicle more visible to other motorists and improves your own ability to see the road and pedestrians.

• Recognize changing road conditions. Roadways accumulate oil and engine fluids that can float in rainwater, creating slippery road surfaces. This is usually a problem during the first few hours of a rainstorm or in areas that receive little precipitation and then are subjected to downpours. These fluids make rain-soaked roads even more slippery. Slow down, leave more room between vehicles and try driving in the tracks left by vehicles ahead.

Reduce speed. The automotive group AAA says hydroplaning, when the tires rise up on a film of water, can occur with as little as 1/12 inch of water on the road. The group goes on to say that tires have to displace a gallon of water per second to keep the rubber meeting the road. Drivers should reduce their speeds to correspond to the amount of water on the roadway. New tires can still lose some contact with the roadway, even at a speed as low as 35 mph. Therefore, reducing speed and avoiding hard braking and turning sharply can help keep the rubber of the tire meeting the road.

• Rely on the defogger. Use the car's windshield defroster/defogger to improve visibility. Turn it on early and keep it on until the rain has stopped and visibility has improved.

• Recover from a skid. Skids can be frightening, but when skidding, resist any temptation to slam on the breaks. Instead, continue to look and drive in the direction you want to go and slowly ease up on the accelerator.

· Skip the cruise control. It's important to maintain control over the vehicle in rainy conditions, so avoid using cruise control.

• Maintain tires. Proper inflation and tire tread levels can improve traction. AAA recommends checking tread depth by inserting a quarter upside down into the tire groove. If you can see above Washington's head, start shopping for new tires. Check tire pressure on all tires at least once a month. Get an accurate reading when tires are cold and adjust air pressure accordingly.

• Avoid other distractions. Distracted driving can be hazardous during good road conditions and even more dangerous when visibility and other factors are compromised. Switch phones and other devices off so you can fully focus on the road and other drivers.

Rainy weather can contribute to poor driving conditions. Drivers should make changes to speed and other factors to make wet weather driving as safe as possible.

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
