REMEMBRANCE DAY WITH THE ONOWAY LEGION

Submitted by Richard Moses | Onoway Royal Canadian Legion

Remembrance Day Services
 Even though November 11 falls on Sunday this year, the Legion will once again host a community service in the Onoway High School gym. People laying wreaths should check in (no later than 10:15 a.m.) at the Legion table. The public service will start at 10:45 a.m., followed by a march to the Legion cenotaph for a short ceremony there. The public is invited to attend that ceremony as well. Directly after, the Legion will be open to the entire community for socializing with our vets, serving members, family and friends.

From Vimy to Juno exhibit opens
 The national travelling exhibition From Vimy to Juno will be showcased at the Onoway Museum from Nov. 1, 2018 to Jan. 4, 2019. From the trenches of the First World War, to the campaign in Normandy and beyond during the Second World War, more than half a million Canadians saw action in the span of a single generation. Explore their legacies and Canada's military history at this feature exhibit.

Did You Know?

Cutline: Legion President Neil Gorman presented Onoway Mayor Judy Tray with the first poppy of the season. Councillors Lynn Tonita and Pat St. Hilaire were also honoured with a poppy.

- At the going down of the sun, communities across Canada will mark the 100th anniversary of the end of the First World War with the ringing of 100 bells. The ringing of bells emulates the moment in 1918 when church bells across Europe tolled as four years of war had come to an end. For more information, check <http://legion.ca/remembrance/promoting-remembrance/bells-of-peace>.
- The annual Lest We Forget: A Musical Tribute came to the Winspear Centre in Edmonton on Nov. 4, 2018. In a long-standing tradition, the Royal Canadian Legion and Cosmopolitan Music Society provided a stirring evening that included everything from ceremonial military marches to popular wartime music.

- Each year, Legion members provide Remembrance Day services in area schools. The services offer students who won't be able to attend the public service on November 11 an opportunity to learn about the sacrifices made by the previous generations.
- Each year, approximately 21 million poppies are distributed across Canada every year, worn to commemorate the men and women who served our country.

Letter to the EDITOR PETITIONERS OF ONOWAY

It has been a long process to express the views & concerns of the Residents of Onoway. As representatives on behalf of all the Residents who signed the Petitions for The Investigation and Viability Review.

We have had the opportunity to meet with people from Municipal Affairs who will report to the Minister, for his decision on both petitions to proceed further.

The concerns we expressed as on the Investigation Petition were:

1. Our High Taxes.
2. Our High Water Rates.
3. Overstaffing.
4. No Transparency or Openness
5. Council, Administration, and Public Works.
6. Accountability.

We had the opportunity to expand on the above items, and what we have found out since the Petitions were signed. Also concerns expressed by the Residents of Onoway when the petitions were taken around.

We found Municipal Affairs to be very open and receptive. We exceeded the time allowed and they allowed us the extra time to voice your views and concerns.

Thank You to the people who took the time to go out to get the signatures, and above all to You the Residents of Onoway who signed the petitions which exceeded the required number of signatures. This shows the Power of the People working together.

One more representative has yet to talk to Municipal Affairs, as she was unavailable, they will meet with her at a later date. As a note Municipal Affairs has also met with the Councillors, Administration Staff and Public Works Personnel.

We felt we were quite thorough with our presentation of views and concerns. Now we wait for the Minister to respond.

Thank you to Everyone Who Expressed Your Concerns and Caring for Your Community.

NATIONAL SENIOR SAFETY WEEK: COMMON SCAMS & CRITICAL THINKING

Submitted by Lewis Smith, Manager, National Programs | Canada Safety Council

and advantages, but sadly some users have nefarious objectives and use technology to prey on vulnerable members of our community, including seniors.

Technology offers many benefits In the context of 2018's National Senior Safety Week, held November 6 – 12, the Canada Safety Council and TELUS want you to be vigilant and on the lookout for these five most common types of scams that can impact seniors.

consider the rationale for the request and check the organization's privacy policy for insight into why they need your data, what they plan to do with it and who will have access to it. Keep in mind that the same information can be used for different purposes by different organizations. For instance, Facebook may ask for your birth date to let your friends know it's your birthday, however your bank might use this same information to verify that you are the owner of your account.

1. Identity theft

The ultimate objective of identity theft is financial gain. Scammers will search online and/or try to obtain private information including but not limited to addresses, phone numbers, personal email addresses and birth dates. They may also try to gain unauthorized access to online accounts.

In addition to using strong passwords (or even better, passphrases) the best way to avoid becoming a victim is to be very selective about the information you share. Before providing any information online or even over the phone,

2. Online dating

Seniors who engage in online dating need to be wary of catfishing, a process by which scammers pretend to be someone they're not in order to gain another person's trust.

If you want to try online dating, do your research and sign up for a reputable dating website. Protect your privacy by using an email address reserved exclusively for your online dating profile and remember not to include private information in your profile.

Further, be mindful that anyone can create a dating profile and that photos and even webcam footage can be falsified. Exercise the appropriate amount of skepticism and judgment when talking with someone online and be wary of those who work to gain your trust quickly, only to ask for financial help. Do not transfer money to individuals you meet online regardless of what situation they claim to be in – once you've sent it, it is almost impossible to get it back.

If you connect well with someone, consider meeting in person

JOKE OF THE WEEK

There were three men on a hill with their watches. The first man threw his watch down the hill and it broke. The second man threw his watch down the hill and it broke. The third man threw his watch down the hill, walked all the way to the bottom, and caught it. The other two men were puzzled and asked the third man how he did it. The third man said, "Easy. My watch is 5 minutes slow!"

(in a public place) to confirm they are who they say they are, before the relationship progresses further. Be wary of chatting with individuals who claim to be from another country as it's much harder to confirm their identity. If they avoid meetings or come up with excuses, it could be a red flag.

3. Phishing

Phishing is the fraudulent practice of sending illegitimate emails that appear to be from reputable organizations, when in fact they are not. The intent is to trick recipients into providing private information.

Telltale signs of emails of this nature include typos, grammatical errors, threats and ultimatums. Be suspicious of messages claiming to be urgent in nature with deadlines for action. Some messages demand an immediate response, relying on the would-be victim to call first and ask questions later. Always take the time to do your research and remember, banks, phone companies and government agencies will not ask you to share private information over email, text or via an unsolicited phone call.

Always double-check the sender's email address, even if the name is recognizable. Often, phishing-related email addresses contain a long string of letters or digits, or contain names that are slightly misspelled or otherwise altered. If there are any links within the message, do not click on them until you're certain the email is legitimate – and even then, confirm that the link is legitimate by hovering your mouse over it to see the destination.

4. Tech support pop-ups

This type of scam occurs via a pop-up window claiming you have a virus on your device. These windows offer a phone number to call for technical support, but the "solution" often involves payment for a fix or allowing the scammers remote access to your device.

Avoid this problem by ensuring you have anti-virus software installed on your device, and only browsing and downloading from trusted websites. If you see such a notice and can't close it down, don't call the number displayed; instead, bring your computer to a trusted technician who can help remove any malware or viruses.

5. Lottery winnings and sweepstakes

If you receive a message (or phone call) about winning the lottery or a sweepstakes prize, it's likely a scam - especially when you haven't entered any contests. Delete messages like this right away and do not click on any links.

If you did enter a lottery or sweepstakes, pay careful attention to the source of the message and consider the following questions to confirm validity:

- Did the message come from the same organization that offered the contest?
- Is there mention of the specific contest you entered?
- Does the message address you by name?

If your answer to these questions is 'no,' it's likely a scam and it may be wise to delete the message.

Although National Senior Safety Week ends November 12, the pursuit of online safety is a year-round job. Staying informed and knowledgeable about possible threats can help you use the Internet and all it affords us with greater confidence. Visit the Canada Safety Council's website for more safety information and a showcase of safety through the century as the organization celebrates 100 years in safety.

You can also take advantage of TELUS Wise, a free digital safety education program, offering Canadians of all ages interactive and informative workshops and resources. Topics include protecting your online security, privacy and reputation, rising above cyberbullying, and using technology responsibly.

CELEBRATING 40 YEARS IN ALBERTA BEACH!

Ecko Marine Ltd. came into existence when Marvin & Marlene purchased a small engine shop called Frank's Marine in 1978. The facility was adequate for the time but in 1979 a small section was added on in order to have running water and an indoor bathroom. At the time Ecko Marine repaired lawn and garden equipment, Johnson/Evinrude outboard motors and sold and repaired Moto-Ski snowmobiles.

In 1983 things started to change quickly for the company. We now became a Ski-Doo dealership and sales looked promising so another new section was added. Tearing down the oldest part was a bit sad as we were told it was the original Hudson Bay Trading Post but don't know that it was true, although under the slat board it was a log building.

Being a Ski Doo dealer was a better opportunity for us and the next big addition was when BRP reintroduced the exciting Sea Doo product line in 1988. It was a tremendous boost to the business and space became an even larger issue.

In 1992 up came the next big move, and it was big, we moved from a small building on a normal town lot to 1.98 acres and built a 2 storey building with a large shop and showroom. We would surely be set forever, so much space!

Sales and weather continued on its up and down course but in 1994 BRP again introduced an exciting new product line, the Sea Doo Jet Boat, the best way to have the maneuverability of a PWC and the comfort and towing ability of a conventional boat. It was amazing how these products appealed to the public and sales were good so once again space became an issue.

In 2003 we added an addition to the existing building and now had 18,000 sq ft to showcase our product lines. In 2004 the new BRP ATV line was added to our list of fun vehicles. We now had dirt, snow and water covered by a tremendous line of personal recreation vehicles.

In 2008 after 30 amazing years of fun and hard work the business was sold to Steven the son of Marvin and Marlene who continues to run it today. Since he has assumed ownership he has added a new division, Accurate Archery and also increased the land by an additional 1.5 acres.

We are proud of the 40 years that Ecko Marine Ltd has been operating and very grateful to BRP for their innovative products, to our amazing staff over the years, to our gracious family who stood by us and mostly to our customers who have supported us through the years. Thank you.

ITEMS NECESSARY TO FIX A FLAT TIRE

Flat tires are a nuisance, but even the most well-maintained vehicles can be vulnerable to the occasional flat. Ensuring tires are properly inflated and in good condition can help drivers avoid accidents, but won't necessarily make tires immune to flats. The following are some essential items that all drivers should keep in their vehicles so they can quickly and correctly replace flat tires.

- Spare tire: Spare tires are typically located in the trunk beneath the carpet-like mat covering the area. SUV drivers may have their spare tires mounted on the back of their vehicles, but some are located beneath the automobile. Periodically inspect spare tires to make sure they are inflated. When buying or leasing new cars, drivers should always confirm if the vehicle comes with a spare.

- Jack: A jack is necessary to change a flat tire. Scissor jacks are widely used and tend to be the jacks most people keep in their trunks. These jacks are lightweight and won't take up much space, and the handle is typically the tire iron that comes with the vehicle. Some jacks are specially designed to fit the vehicles they came with, so when shopping for replacement jacks, make sure any you are considering are compatible with your car or truck.

- Lug wrench: A lug wrench is necessary to remove hubcaps or wheel covers. Drivers should determine if their vehicles require a special tool to remove wheel covers. Such information will be indicated in the owner's manual, which should be kept in the vehicle at all times.

- Wheel wedges: Wheel wedges can be placed in front of or behind tires to prevent the car from rolling while drivers change their flats. When changing a rear tire, place the wedges in front of the front tires. When changing a front tire, place them behind the rear tires.

- Miscellaneous items: While the aforementioned items are all that's necessary to change a tire, some miscellaneous items can facilitate the process of replacing a flat. In their cars, drivers can keep a small cloth bag containing a pair of gloves, a flashlight, batteries to go with the flashlight, a poncho to keep them dry should they need to change a tire in the rain, and a ballcap that can keep rain or sunlight out of their eyes so they can focus on the job at hand. It's also a good idea to keep a blanket in the trunk of your car so passengers can stay warm inside while the flat tire is replaced.

NAVIGATE THESE DRIVER ASSISTANCE APPS

It is never a good idea to use smartphones or other devices while behind the wheel. In fact, distracted driving is a key risk factor for automotive accidents. However, certain smartphone applications and features can make road trips and other excursions easier, safer and more enjoyable - provided these apps are used before getting in the car, when safely pulled over, or in the hands of a passenger.

Make a pitstop

Drivers may not know where to pull off the highway when they need a mid-trip snack or a restroom run. iExit enables you to see all upcoming exits on a particular roadway (when location services are turned on) and which amenities are accessible at each exit. The app also tells drivers which way to go if they need to find gas stations or restaurants. Icons indicating food, fuel, hospitals, and even banks/ATM machines are included to indicate what's available at the exit.

Popular sights

Field Trip by Google will pull from categories you have selected and your location to indicate potential sites of interest around you. The app works off of recommendations from travel and lifestyle sources, and will provide Bluetooth-enabled alerts when you're close by.

Fill 'er up

Exclusively for locating fuel stations, GasBuddy also helps drivers compare gas prices so they can save money if they so desire. When fuel costs can make or break a trip, this app will keep your tank and wallet full.

Gain performance data

To keep track of vehicle performance, use Dynolicious Classic. While this app's not free, it's less expensive than a visit to a service station. Dynolicious relies on an iPhone's built-in accelerometers to gauge lateral and longitudinal acceleration and horsepower.

Get trusted repairs

It is important to find a trusted mechanic who will fix a problem for a reasonable price. Repair Pal is an app that has already culled quotes and reviews from nearby mechanics to simplify comparison shopping.

Navigation made easy

Smartphones already feature built-in map apps that offer navigation and directions, such as those offered by Google and Apple. But Waze is a community-driven app that provides real-time updates to traffic situations, gas prices, law enforcement sightings, and alternative routes to avoid delays.

No more lost cars

Finding that elusive parking spot can be challenging. When you finally grab a space in a parking garage or on city streets, you want to make sure you can find your way back there easily. Enter Honk, an app that can mark your vehicle's location with a GPS pin. You can also make text or verbal notes indicating position or how much time you have on a parking meter, as well as use the app to find businesses nearby.

Various apps can be assets to drivers, helping them to save both money and time.

HOW TO SAFEGUARD YOUR VEHICLE FROM THE ELEMENTS

In a perfect world, all vehicle owners would be able to park their cars and trucks in garages. In such a world, automobiles would not be vulnerable to sun, storms and other natural elements that, over time, can contribute to wear and tear.

But many drivers cannot or choose not to park their cars in garages. Some are content to let their vehicles brave the elements, while others look for ways to protect their cars and trucks as much as possible. Drivers who count themselves among the latter group can take these simple steps to protect their cars and trucks from whatever Mother Nature has in store for them.

- Park in the shade. Parking in the shade can protect both the interior and exterior of a vehicle. Shaded areas protect upholstery and dashboards inside the car from sun-induced fading, while also limiting the damage sun can cause to exterior paint. Faded paint may hurt the resale value of a vehicle, prompting prospective buyers to walk away or at least wonder if a vehicle with a faded exterior was well maintained.

- Wash and wax. Washing and waxing a vehicle helps to minimize damage that's inevitable regardless of where drivers park their cars. Dirt and debris litter roadways, and over time cars can collect a large amount of these unwanted stowaways. If dirt and debris are not removed, they can cause long-term damage to vehicle exteriors. Washing and waxing a car can ensure its exterior looks good and reduce the likelihood of rust and other corrosion from occurring.

- Don't write off bird droppings. Some drivers, especially those who do not park their cars and trucks in garages, may write off bird droppings as an annoying yet harmless side effect of vehicle ownership. However, bird droppings are acidic and, if left to their unsightly devices, can cause permanent damage to vehicle paint. Tree sap is an equally formidable foe, potentially causing scratching because it can be very difficult to remove without spreading. Specially formulated sprays can help drivers remove bird droppings and sap from their vehicles.

- Employ a car cover. Drivers who have garages but use them to store things other than their vehicles can use car covers when parking their cars in their driveways. Covers protect cars from the elements and can be quickly and easily removed.

Nature can be harsh on vehicles. Protecting automobiles from the elements should be a priority for drivers, especially those who do not park their cars and trucks in garages.

DID YOU KNOW?

Vehicle identification number etching, or "VIN etching," is a theft deterrent in which an automobile's VIN, a 17-character code consisting of letters and numbers unique to each vehicle, is etched onto the vehicle's windows. Some manufacturers may etch the VIN onto the windows of all of their vehicles, while others may not. Dealerships may charge VIN etching fees to buyers of new vehicles, but buyers should always consult their insurance companies before agreeing to pay such fees. Some insurance providers do not discount premiums for vehicles with VIN etching, while others might. Drivers may not want to pay VIN etching fees if their insurance providers will not discount their premiums, so it pays to consult with providers before purchasing a new vehicle. In addition, drivers who want to save money on etching fees but still do all they can to deter prospective car thieves may want to purchase their own VIN etching kits, which typically cost around $20.

Obituaries

Obituary for Sr. Bernice Mary Anstett SOS
April 8, 1920-November 1, 2018.

Our world has lost a precious, joyful spirit. Sr. Bernice Anstett was called home to God on Thursday, November 1, fittingly, All Saints Day. A member of the Sisters of Service, she was in her seventy-sixth year of religious life. She is lovingly remembered by the sisters of her religious community. She is predeceased by her parents, Lawrence Anstett and the former Josephine Lang, sisters Vera (in infancy), Catherine, Theresa and Mary, and brothers Allen, Rueben, Elroy, Maurice and Clarence. She leaves to mourn a sister-in-law, Jackie Anstett, and niece, Mary Therese Heidmiller. In fact a generation of caring nieces and nephews will remember their aunt with affection. A wonderful circle of extended family and friends will also grieve her loss. Bernice gave generously of her gifts and talents. She devoted her life to the service of others in several missions, in various apostolates: Alberta (teaching and parish ministry, Saskatchewan (religious education), Edmonton, Manitoba, Ontario, and Quebec (residence work). In her retirement Bernice was active in her faith community – pastoral care, VON, scriptures studies and CWL. Spiritual reading, reflection, and personal prayer enriched her daily living. Bernice spent her last years at the Houses of Providence, Providence Healthcare. Warmest thanks are extended to the staff of Redwood House for their kind attention and care, and to the two caregivers of the Sisters of Service. Reception of the Body will take place in the Chapel of 2 O'Connor Drive, Toronto, Residence of the Sisters of St. Joseph, at 9:30 a.m., Monday, November 5, 2018. This will be followed by a Wake Service. Immediately following this, there will be a Mass of the Resurrection at 11 a.m. Burial will be at Mount Hope Cemetery. Floral tributes are gratefully declined. In keeping with Bernice's spirit, donations may be made to the Women's Interval Home, (Sarnia), Food Bank (Petrolia), Development and Peace, or a charity of your choice (1) 06-11

SUDOKU OF THE WEEK

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
