UNITED CONSERVATIVES TO CREATE $1 BILLION CROWN CORPORATION TO WORK WITH FIRST NATIONS TO GET PIPELINES BUILT

Kenney pledges “transformational commitment to reconciliation” that will partner with Indigenous communities on major resource projects

Submitted by United Conservative Party

(April 3, 2019): In what he described as a “historic game changer” and a “huge win-win” for both Indigenous Canadians and Alberta’s ailing oil and gas sector, United Conservative Leader Jason Kenney announced that his party, if elected, will create an Aboriginal Opportunities Corporation to facilitate First Nations financial participation in major resource projects, including pipelines.

“We need to do something dramatically different to end the stalemate that has left Alberta energy landlocked and has led to a jobs crisis in our province,” Kenney said at a news conference held at the Enoch First Nation near Edmonton.

FIRE PERMIT SEASON NOW UNDERWAY, PERMITS REQUIRED

Submitted by Leduc County

Fire permits required for open burning from March 1 to Oct. 31

Individuals wishing to burn an open fire in Leduc County must obtain a free fire permit from a local fire guardian.

“In addition to helping us keep track of open burning in the county, fire permits provide Leduc County Fire Services with an opportunity to discuss safe burning practices with residents so we can work together to prevent brush-fires and out-of-control burning.” - Brad Gurmin, Fire Marshal

Fire permits are required each time an individual wishes to conduct an open burn, and can be obtained by calling a local fire guardian.

Fire Permit Season Now Underway, Permits Required

Fire guardians volunteer their time to provide fire permits to applicants and may not be able to respond immediately to requests. Applicants are encouraged to provide as much notice as possible in advance of an open burn.

Fire permits are not required when a fire is being used for the purpose of cooking or warmth in approved fire pits, or when the fire is contained in approved burn barrels.

There is no charge for obtaining a fire permit; however, there are penalties for burning without one and for burning while a fire restriction or fire ban is in place.

Fire permit holders must abide by all fire restrictions and bans issued for Leduc County; advisories, restrictions or bans are posted to albertafirebans.ca.

United Conservatives to Create $1 Billion Crown Corporation to Work with First Nations to Get Pipelines Built

“The Trudeau-Notley alliance has killed two pipelines, put two more on life support, and is threatening our future with anti-pipeline laws like Bill C-69 and C-48. We need a radically new approach from the failure of the past so we can get a fair price for our energy, and we need to move beyond empty words to give real, concrete meaning to reconciliation with Aboriginal Canadians.”

Kenney underscored how most First Nations in Western Canada support environmentally responsible resource development, but that their interests have been undermined by a small minority of typically foreign funded opponents of energy development.

“For too long all the legal, political, and media debate around energy and the environment has been dominated by the minority of anti-development groups. It’s time to give a real voice to those First Nations who want to be partners in environmentally responsible resource development so that they can help move their people from poverty to prosperity,” Kenney remarked. “This is the moral cause of our time: moving beyond empty gestures to empower Aboriginal Canadians to take charge of their own destiny.”

The UCP Leader pointed to several Aboriginal-led initiatives to advance both oil and gas pipelines and other energy infrastructure projects, including:

- The Eagle Spirit group’s effort to build a $17 billion oil pipeline from Alberta to Hyder, Alaska

- The Frog Lake Energy Resources Corporation, which produces 2,000 barrels a day of crude oil and is looking to buy more oil-producing properties outside of its territory along with stakes in tank farms and pipelines, ac-

ording to Chief Joe Dion

- Several First Nations who are pursuing the possibility of co-ownership of the Trans Mountain Pipeline, with discussions being facilitated by the Indian Resource Council, amongst others

- The Haisla First Nation who, amongst many others, have partnered with LNG Canada to advance the first major west coast LNG export facility

- The Fort Mackay First Nation purchase of a 34% stake in a major Suncor oil tank farm for $350 million

“These are just some of the growing number of First Nations who see resource development as a key to their social and economic future,” Kenney said. “But we need to move this momentum to a whole other level where Aboriginal people become real owners of major energy projects.”

Kenney committed that if elected, a United Conservative government will consult with First Nations in establishing the Aboriginal Opportunities Corporation (AOC) as a Crown Corporation to facilitate and backstop up to $1 billion in Aboriginal investment in natural resource projects and infrastructure, including pipelines.

“We will consult with First Nations on the design and mandate of the AOC, and ensure Indigenous representation on its board,” Kenney said. “The AOC will provide technical and advisory support to Indigenous communities interested in pursuing financial participation in energy projects and will offer a range of financial instruments on a commercial basis. We will be open to partnering with the Government of Canada and other provincial governments in expanding the fund”.

Kenney said that the AOC

would provide:

- Access to technical support on major project opportunities including feasibility and pre-feasibility studies, deal evaluation, and project support.

- Access to capital markets through effective loan guarantees on government backed projects - and in some cases, co-invested debt and equity lending from the Alberta government on a cost-return or shared-upside basis, depending on the deal structure.

- Practical legal and economic backing through the entire deal life-cycle to pro-development First Nations who want to move toward being long-term strategic partners with industry and the Alberta government, supporting and sharing in the long-term upside of Alberta’s infrastructure and resource development.

“Through the Aboriginal Opportunities Corporation, a UCP government will renew the Alberta government relationship with First Nations on the basis of self-determination, trust, and mutual respect. It will also provide shared economic opportunity between First Nations, the Alberta government, and industry.”

“Aboriginal Albertans were our first entrepreneurs. They want to benefit fully in the wealth generated from their traditional, treaty, and reserve lands. But too often they lack the financial equity that they need to make that happen. The Aboriginal Opportunities Corporation will bridge the gap between the ambition of First Nations to be full commercial partners in our energy industry, and their limited financial capacity” Kenney said.

“It should be absolutely clear that we are not going to get pipelines built and get our energy to global markets unless and until we have strong alliances with

First Nations. The Aboriginal Opportunities Corporation is a bold, innovative way of building those relationships to get pipelines built and get Alberta’s economy back to work.”

Kenney said that a UCP government would provide an initial investment of $24 million over four years to establish the AOC and would earmark $1 billion to facilitate and backstop financing for Aboriginal financial participation. These funds would be re-allocated from the NDP government’s $3.7 billion rail lease, which the UCP is committed to cancelling.

Kenney also outlined other United Conservative commitments to ensure the inclusion of Aboriginal Albertans, including:

- Supporting legal action for pro-resource groups in Indigenous communities with a $10 million fund

- Adding economic development rights to the preamble of the Alberta Aboriginal Consultation policy to explicitly consider support from Indigenous communities for projects that affect them

- Working with the federal government to streamline how Indigenous people access key services such as education and health care, including ensuring Indigenous students have access to a provincial education system (paid for with federal dollars) that enables students to succeed. For example, a United Conservative government will replicate the successful education partnership in the agreement between Whitecap Dakota First Nation and Saskatoon Public Schools signed in 2014. There, within one year of the agreement being in place, the percentage of Whitecap students in grades 1-4 reading at or above grade level rose from 40 per cent to 76 per cent.

SPRING FLOODING EXPECTED TO MAKE WAVES: FLOOD PREPAREDNESS TIPS FOR CANADIANS

Submitted by FirstOnSite Restoration

Sorry to rain on your parade, but with spring well underway, a downpour is next up on the forecast. As Canada faces April showers, flooding becomes an imminent risk for property owners, residents and businesses.

Each spring, regions across Canada experience the wrath of flooding. Last year alone, snowmelt led to evacuations in B.C., Alberta and New Brunswick, while areas in Ontario declared a state of emergency due to increased sea levels.

To provide insight of the damage ahead, last year alone insured damage from severe weather in Canada reached $1.9-billion, a majority of that due to flooding. Last fall's GTA flood alone caused over $80-million in insured damage.

Weather events and rainstorms have elevated the costs of flooding (now the costliest type of property damage) and the stakes for property owners are at an all-time high.

From urban sprawl developments on floodplains to the concrete landscapes of Canada's developing cities, the loss of absorbent ground is accelerating with ever-increasing amounts of water left with no place to go.

Localized flooding is a top concern for Canadians who are likely wondering – what's next and what can I do?

Water damage, mould and property loss are only some of devastating outcomes when property owners are unprepared, or unsure of how to deal with the after-effects of a flood.

FirstOnSite Restoration has spent the past decade mitigating floods and disasters for businesses and homeowners across Canada.

GRAY IS HERE TO STAY IN HOME DESIGNS

Decorating a home in neutral tones has long been recommended as a way to sell a home quickly. But the color gray also provides a blank canvas for homeowners who have no intention of putting their homes on the market anytime soon. Beige and white have long been go-to colors for neutral living spaces. But many interior decorators now look to gray as the neutral color of choice.

Design experts advise that gray has a broad range. Gray can include everything from silver to charcoal to a dusty cloud. According to the trendsetters at Glidden Paints, gray coordinates well with other colors. Plus, the neutral appeal of gray boasts a timeless quality.

Gray is not a clear-cut color that's simply a 50-50 blend of white and black. Gray has subtle nuances that can lean toward blues, greens, taupes, and more depending on the lighting and surrounding furnishings. That means that homeowners who are ready to replace their furniture or accessories need not necessarily repaint if they've previously decorated in shades of gray.

Individuals need only replace small items to produce a big effect in rooms where gray is dominant. Because gray is so neutral, it works with soft, calming colors in various pastels, but equally as well with bright reds, yellow and oranges, according to Scott Bodenner, a Brooklyn-based textile designer.

Gray also is a predominant color in natural stones used throughout homes in entryways, bathrooms and kitchens. It can make design sense to maintain continuity throughout by dabbling in gray elsewhere.

Designers have shown how gray does not have to be cold, industrial or gloomy. It can be sophisticated in just about any room of the house. More designers are now leaning toward warmer variations of gray, such as taupes and blends dubbed "greige," that are beautiful but not as stark as pure gray.

Spring Flooding Expected To Make Waves: Flood Preparedness Tips For Canadians

Here are several ways to protect properties against flood damage, whether commercial or residential.

Flooding prevention tips

1. Waterproof your basement, fill any cracks in the foundation, and put weather protection sealant around windows and the base of ground-level doors. Install flood shields or barriers for basement windows and doors.

2. Clear debris from your roof and eavestroughs so that they drain properly during heavy rains. Downspouts should extend at least six feet from the basement wall, well away from your and neighbouring properties.

3. Clear snow from roof. Your roof is designed to handle a certain load, but heavy snowstorms can cause snow to overload its capacity. A snow thaw can lead to roof leaks as water seeps into cracks and damaged vents. Basements can also flood when large amounts of snow and ice melt quickly. *Only a professional should attempt to access or climb a roof in the winter

4. Raise large appliances in the basement onto wood or cement blocks. If possible, raise electrical panels, switches, sockets, wiring and heating systems – otherwise protect them with a floodwall or shield.

5. Anchor furnaces, water heaters, and/or oil tanks to the floor.

Unsecured, they may tip over or float in a flood. A ruptured tank may leak fuel, creating a serious fire hazard.

6. Check that all basement flood drains are not blocked or covered. For extra precaution, you can install a water alarm to let you know if water is accumulating.

7. Make sure your sump pump is working and install a battery-operated backup in case of a power failure.

8. Install backflow valves for drains, toilets and other sewer connections in the basement. These valves automatically close if water or sewage backs up from the main sewer.

9. Turn off the electricity in flood-prone areas of the property if a flood is expected in your area.

10. Talk to your insurance agent about flood insurance. Standard residential insurance may not cover floods caused by water overflowing from lakes, rivers and other bodies of water (called overland flooding) but may be available separately. For business owners, flood insurance could be available as an add-on coverage to commercial property or to business interruption insurance policies. Commercial sewer backup coverage may also be available but usually purchased separately.

11. Stay informed. Follow the latest public weather alerts for your area at https://weather.gc.ca/warnings/index\_e.html.

PARLIAMENT UPDATE

Submitted by Jim Eglinski, MP – Yellowhead

Week of March 18, 2019

The following was debated in the House:

- C-83 – Corrections and Conditional Release Act (Third Reading)
- C-84 – An Act to amend the Criminal Code (bestiality and animal fighting) (Report Stage)
- C-92 – An Act respecting First Nations, Inuit and Metis children, youth and families (Second Reading)
- C-95 -- Appropriation Act No. 4, 2018-19 (Royal Assent)
- M-203 – Fraud Activities against Seniors (First hour of First Reading)
- NDP Question of Privilege – Government Accountability
- S-6 – Instructions to FINA

On Monday, in the Standing Committee on Public Safety and National Security (SECU), we heard from witnesses on Cybersecurity in the Financial Sector as a National Economic Security Issue. Also, on Monday, I attended a briefing session for parliamentarians who will be attending, as observers, the presidential election in the Ukraine.

On Tuesday, Budget 2019 was introduced.

On Wednesday, 61 votes were held on the Supplementary Estimates (B), 2018- 19 and 68 votes on the Interim Estimates.

On Thursday, an emergency debate was held that evening on the topic of the Prime Minister pressuring the former Attorney General to interfere in the prosecution of SNC-Lavalin.

You can read comments and questions from Debates on the House Publications page at www.ourcommons.ca/en

This week, I attended seven meetings, one event, recorded two messages and chatted with a local radio station in the riding.

Week of April 1, 2019

The following was debated in the House:

- C-278— Foreign Lobbyist Transparency Act ((Second Reading)
- C-420 – An Act to amend the Canada Labour Code, the

Official Languages Act and the Canada Business Corporations Act (Second Reading)

• C-438 – An Act to Enact the Canadian Environmental Bill of Rights and to Make Related Amendments to Other Acts (First Reading)

• Ways & Means Motion #27 – Budgetary Policy

• Motion 207 – Dutch Heritage Day

• S-238 – Ban on Shark Fin Importation and Exportation Act (Second Reading)

• S-1003 – The United Church of Canada Act (Passed)

• Conservative Opposition Motion – Vice-Admiral Mark Norman

Starting Monday to end of day on Thursday, Conservative Finance Shadow Minister Pierre Poilievre began a marathon speech in the House of Commons to demand the Liberals agree to re-open the Justice Committee’s investigation into Justin Trudeau’s SNC-Lavalin cover-up.

Also, on Monday, in the Standing Committee on Public Safety and National Security (SECU), continued to hear from witnesses on Cybersecurity in the Financial Sector as a National Economic Security Issue.

On Tuesday, I returned to Ottawa from Ukraine where I was part of an observer mission for the presidential election. The experience reminded how fortunate we are in Canada in being able to vote freely without fear of retaliation. In Lviv, where I was stationed as an observer, I found it to be very organized and at the end of the 12-hour voting period, no problems arose.

You can read comments and questions from Debates on the House Publications page at www.ourcommons.ca/en

This week, I attended three meetings, two events.

On Friday, I will be staying in Ottawa to catch up on correspondence and phone calls as I prepare for next week as Parliament continues.

Look for my next update for the week of April 8th on the happenings of Parliament.
