ALBERTA RCMP MEMBER CHARGED AFTER INVESTIGATION

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

Cst. Dorian Tooze, of the Stony Plain, Alta. RCMP, has been charged following a police investigation.

On Oct 24, 2018, members of the Stony Plain RCMP were in pursuit of a stolen work vehicle where they successfully deployed a tire deflation device. A short time later, the driver lost control of the vehicle while attempting to negotiate a turn. The driver exited the vehicle on the road and was taken into custody and handcuffed.

Through the course of the members restraining the driver, it is alleged that Cst. Tooze used excessive force.

After a statutory investigation was completed by a neighbouring detachment, Cst. Tooze has been charged with one count of assault. There is no change to Cst. Tooze's duty status.

Cst. Tooze first appearance in Stony Plain provincial court is May 1, 2019.

JOKE OF THE WEEK

An electrician went to a job at a house with a large dog and a parrot. The owner, sensing the electrician's nerves, said to the electrician that there was no need to worry about the dog, but whatever you do never say a word to the parrot. Relieved, the electrician got to work, the dog sitting there watching him the whole time. All of a sudden after the owner left, the parrot let loose with the meanest tirade of insults at the electrician who, after a few minutes of this, told the parrot to shut up. The parrot replied, "Sick 'em, Rex!"

Premier-Designate Kenney Announces Priorities to Get Alberta Working Again

“Yesterday’s election produced a strong mandate for change, a clear declaration of Albertans’ confidence in our United Conservative team and the new direction outlined in our platform,” Kenney said. “In the highest turnout since 1982, over 55 percent of those who voted expressed their support for a government committed to getting our province working again.”

Premier-Designate Kenney thanked and congratulated all Albertans who participated in the election as party leaders, candidates, campaign volunteers, and voters. “I especially want to thank and congratulate Premier Rachel Notley for her service to our province including her four years as premier,” said Kenney.

Noting that the urgent need for new pipelines was an issue all the major parties and leaders agreed on, Premier-Designate Kenney vowed that the new UCP government’s foremost priority will be getting the Trans-Mountain pipeline approved as soon as possible. Key to that objective, he added, will be building and strengthening Alberta’s alliances with supporters of responsible natural resource development across Canada. “These include other provincial governments, First Nations, communities large and small, and millions of Canadians who understand how important energy and resource development are to our economy and our future,” Kenney said. “Together with these allies we will fight the Trudeau government’s offshore tanker ban, Bill C-48, and its no-more-pipelines bill, C-69. In fact, I am sending a letter today to Senator Tkachuk, Chair of the Standing Committee on Transport and Communications to request the opportunity to formally articulate our incoming government’s position that bill C-48 presents a grave threat to the economic interests of Alberta and this great province. In our fight to get our resources to market, we will win, because there are far more Canadians with us than against us.”

And if the NDP government of British Columbia continues to obstruct the TransMountain pipeline, the Premier-Designate said, the new UCP government will enact legislation created by Premier Notley’s former government to turn off the flow of Alberta energy to BC. “This is not a bluff,” said Kenney. “Alberta will no longer stand by as others stand in the way of our future.”

Premier-Designate Kenney acknowledged the trust Albertans have invested in the new United Conservative government and its plan to get Alberta back to work, get pipelines built, and stand up for a fair deal in Canada. He promised relentless effort to deliver on the UCP commitments, including immediately scrapping the carbon tax, implementing a job creation tax cut that will rapidly create over 50,000 new jobs, and slashing red tape and speeding up project approvals.

“Alberta has nothing to apologize for and everything to fight for,” Kenney said. “That’s the clear mandate Albertans have given our new United Conservative government. Our plan for a strong and free Alberta starts today.”

Open Farm Days 2019 Call For Hosts

This year's event takes place on Aug. 17 and 18.

Alberta Open Farm Days is an ag-tourism event that offers an opportunity for Albertans and visitors to learn about and experience a rural agricultural lifestyle.

The event connects urban and rural Albertans, and supports rural communities. It features farm to table culinary events and free admission to farm tours throughout the weekend.

Last year's event set records for on-farm sales, reaching almost $190,000 over two days, and host participation was up 30 per cent over 2017. The overall year-over-year growth of Open Farm Days highlights ag-tourism's continued contribution to diversifying Alberta's economy and creating jobs.

Based on this strong performance, officials are hoping for an even bigger and better Open Farm Days showing this year.

"Open Farm Days is an ag-tourism event that helps farmers meet new customers, share their stories and grow their businesses," says Ricardo Miranda, Minister of Culture and Tourism. "It's also a fun and educational way for Albertans and our visitors to experience all the hidden gems rural Alberta has to offer. We hope even more farms and ranches sign up to participate in this year's event."

The weekend's selection of experiences also helps showcase the growing number of opportunities available to rural and culinary tourism entrepreneurs. There is a wide range of farms and ranches participating, such as:

- Alpaca, sheep, llama, goat, poultry farms
- Bison and cattle ranches
- Breweries, distilleries, wineries and meaderies
- Corn mazes
- Guest ranches, bed and breakfasts
- Honey, fruit, vegetable, grain and u-pick farms
- Organic operations
- Stables and petting zoos

Participating hosts can access product development supports such as business coaching, industry learning opportunities and regional networks. The deadline for host applications is May 31.

"Becoming an Open Farm Days host is a great way to grow your business," says Tim Carson, CEO, Alberta Association of Agricultural Societies. "Farmers and ag-tourism operators tell the story of agriculture in our province, produce some of the world's best food and create unique Alberta ag-tourism experiences."

OUR GOOD FRIEND FROM JORDAN IS COMING

Submitted by Lac Ste Anne Refugee Committee

Wednesday May 8th at 7pm in St Johns Anglican Church this amazing man is coming to meet us. He wants to meet the community that helped one of his Iraqi families.

Here is little about him and our family.

Jerusalem MERIT was founded in 2018 in order to support the Iraqi refugee community in Jordan. The ambassador of Jerusalem MERIT, The Reverend Canon Dr Andrew White, formerly known as the 'Vicar of Baghdad', was the main pioneer and religious leader supporting Iraqi Christians, Jews and Muslims and engaging in conflict resolution during the many years of national political and religious conflict and turmoil. Jerusalem MERIT continues to support this community which is largely a refugee community currently residing in Jordan. Jerusalem MERIT's projects include the provision of comprehensive education and medical assistance through the establishment of a school, medical clinic, the provision of food stamp projects and housing assistance for Iraqi refugees of all faiths. Jerusalem MERIT also supports Canon Andrew White in his international reconciliation and diplomatic work, focusing principally on the Middle East.

Canon White is the Anglican priest that recommended Our new family to us, Yasir, Sarah, Her dad Sami and the children Mallak and Matti. They have settled in so well and their English is so incredibly improved that Yasir works at Country Auto and he details cars to such a state of perfection that Dale Johnson was so impressed he got him to do his. Contact Country Auto if you need your car of truck cleaned and detailed thoroughly at much better prices than anywhere else.

The Refugee now Newcomer committee invite you all to come and Join us.

MAY 7th at 7pm in St Pauls Anglican Church on Stony Plain Road, Edmonton is hosting a talk from Canon White on the plight of refugees especially the Christians from Iraqis in the Middle East. This is a joint project of the Anglican and Catholic diocese so if you can come and listen the talk. It is NOT being repeated on the 8th in Onoway.

Letter to the EDITOR

NORTHERN GATEWAY DAY HOME BUSING POLICY LACKS PUBLIC INPUT

On March 12, 2019, after 3.5 years without incident, I was notified that my two children could no longer ride the bus after school from Onoway Elementary School to their day home in Sandy Beach, effective immediately (even though the bus stops at the day home anyway). A transportation policy barring the use of school buses for transportation to and from day homes had been enacted in September of 2018 (but was not communicated to our family or the day home). When I asked why the policy was put in place, the acting VP indicated that it was not appropriate for the school division to be "subsidizing" the day home's business by providing this service.

My family promptly requested the superintendent provide us with a written copy of the policy, indicate who reviewed and approved the policy, and what stakeholder consultation and demographic and impact analysis were done in the development of this policy. This information has not been addressed to date.

The superintendent indicated it was a local practice that was not formally approved by the director of transportation, and that the school had made the decision to cease the practice. However, in talking to parents, day homes, daycares, and agencies in the Valleyview, Fox Creek, Whitecourt, Sangudo, and Mayerthorpe areas, I quickly discovered that this is not a local issue at all. This "policy" is a top-down, unilateral decision made in isolation by the director of transportation and affects the entire school division.

The impact of this policy is far-reaching, including reducing the availability of already limited rural childcare options, and reducing affordability for working families. In the absence of stakeholder consultation, and demographic and impact analysis, the policy fails to address how childcare providers, working mothers, and families are affected. No consideration was given to the rural families, Indigenous families, shift workers, and families with special needs children, already facing barriers to accessing quality childcare. As this policy was not communicated to my day home for six months because the director of transportation did not know the day home existed, I can only surmise that no formal census of day homes/daycares was conducted. This policy also fails to address the unnecessary risk of transporting children privately versus riding the bus. At a municipal level, it paints a bleak picture of Lac Ste. Anne County, the MD of Greenview, and Woodlands County, as less attractive places to work, live, and raise a family.

Childcare providers across the school division have been told by the director of transportation to purchase a transport van or bus to get children to and from the school. That is not financially feasible for most providers who work for less than minimum wage. In my provider's day home, she has two babies that nap. It is not feasible for her to take the babies with her on the 46 km (round trip) to drop off and pick up the children from school (for a total of 92 kms a day). It impacts her ability to provide quality care, and to retain and attract clientele, and the added costs of transportation are quickly affecting her bottom line. Telling childcare providers to purchase a vehicle is a woefully inadequate and out-of-touch response to the shortcomings of this policy.

The school division's bus policy needs to be built on public consultation and local decision-making. It needs to be responsive to the needs of the community, and the process must be open. As working parents, our taxes contribute to paying for transportation services, and our concerns and suggestions should be considered in the development of policies that directly impact us, our families, and our communities. Top-down, unilateral decisions – with zero accountability and transparency – simply do not reflect good governance and the high standards to which Alberta taxpayers hold public servants.

Day homes provide a much-needed community service that reflects modern family realities. Help us affirm the pivotal role that childcare plays in supporting our communities' families. If you are a parent, day home, daycare, or agency affected by this transportation policy, or a community agency that supports barrier-free childcare, please contact me at ngcoalition@gmail.com.

ANTIMICROBIAL TILES HELP CREATE SANITARY SPACES

Tile can be a worthy addition to rooms with potential moisture issues or areas in a home that may routinely necessitate quick cleanup. Because they are not damaged by constant contact with water, tiled floors and walls are often found in bathrooms, kitchens, laundry rooms, and entryways. Although tile is resilient, it is not impervious to the microorganisms that tend to proliferate in areas where moisture and humidity are commonplace. Microbes can grow rapidly in warm areas, especially if food is present. Mold or mildew issues also can become problematic seemingly overnight. But certain modifications can help homeowners alleviate the proliferation of microorganisms.

Various manufacturers have developed their own innovative tile that contributes to cleaner, and sometimes more eco-friendly, home environments. The application of certain treatments can make ceramic tiles even more impervious to water and moisture. Some tile may help reduce the spread of certain strains of bacteria, such as E. coli and staph, without requiring the application of potentially harsh chemical detergents. Others treatments may protect against yeast, molds and fungi that can cause stains and odors and result in the degradation of tile.

Antimicrobial products inhibit the growth of microorganisms and suppress their reproduction. For example, tiles with Microban protection employ an antimicrobial agent built into the product during the manufacturing process. When microbes touch the product surface, the agent penetrates the cell wall of the microorganism. Other tiles are treated with micrometric particles of titanium dioxide (TiO<sub>2</sub>), which is activated by sunlight or artificial light. This causes a photocatalysis process, which is responsible for the product's antipollution and bactericidal properties. Examples of TiO<sub>2</sub>-treated tiles include Active Clean Air & Antibacterial Ceramic.

Antimicrobial ceramic tile can be advantageous in rooms where sanitation and hygiene are an utmost priority. This includes not only public places, but private residences. Worktops and floors where microbes can be transferred are particularly beneficial areas to install antimicrobial tile.

A potential side effect of antimicrobial tile is a reduction in reliance on harsh cleaning products. Although regular washing is recommended, residents may not need to use odoriferous or strong chemical cleaners to sanitize their homes. This helps improve indoor air quality and reduce the potential contamination of the environment from chemical runoff.

Homeowners thinking of installing antimicrobial tile in their homes should discuss their options with a tile retailer or contractor during the planning stages.

PREPARE HVAC SYSTEMS FOR WARMER DAYS AHEAD

The arrival of a new season can be an exciting time. Homeowners may have renewed vigor to start home renovation projects or even tackle some cleaning and organization tasks. Before the weather starts to warm up too much, homeowners may want to evaluate their home cooling needs and ensure that all equipment is in good working order.

Spring air conditioning inspections and tuneups are essential steps in system performance. Homeowners should not take for granted that a system that performed optimally last year will do so this year when temperatures climb. Various factors, including weather damage, dust and grime, mechanical wear and tear, and even rodent or insect infestations, can compromise HVAC systems. Since HVAC systems have so many moving parts, a thorough inspection of such systems can save headaches and money down the road.

According to Heating Ontario, the extreme weather conditions that come along with fall and winter can be especially taxing on homes and the systems that keep them comfortable. During a spring visit, an HVAC technician will perform maintenance on the air conditioner and make sure it is ready for the heat of summertime. This maintenance may include cleaning the unit, checking controls, calibrating the thermostat, lubricating moving parts, checking refrigerant levels, tightening electrical connections, and clearing any clogs. Homeowners are urged to also change the filter at the start of the cooling season.

Correcting any issues in the HVAC system well in advance of the arrival of warm weather can help ensure comfort when air conditioning is needed. As an added advantage, homeowners should install programmable thermostats if they do not already have them to keep cooling as cost- and energy-efficient as possible.

PITCH IN AND SAVE MONEY

Home improvement projects can be expensive. While the size and complexity of a project will affect how expensive the project is, homeowners can expect to shell out a pretty penny when they renovate or remodel areas of their home. According to HomeAdvisor, an online resource for homeowners looking to connect with home improvement, maintenance and repair professionals, the average bathroom remodeling project costs $9,348, while the average home addition costs slightly less than $41,000. But renovation-minded homeowners need not reconsider their commitment to remodeling, as there are various ways to cut the costs associated with home improvement projects.

One such way is for homeowners to pitch in and do some of the work themselves. Calculating labor costs can be difficult, as such costs can vary greatly depending on the project, the contractor and the amount of hired help that contractor intends to employ. However, some estimates suggest labor will account for anywhere from 25 to 50 percent of the overall cost of the project. So it's no surprise that homeowners can save themselves substantial amounts of money by doing some of the work themselves.

Homeowners who intend to do some of the labor themselves should discuss this plan with contractors during the vetting process. Before hiring a contractor, make sure homeowners' expected labor contributions are clearly defined in the contract.

While it's best to leave the most complicated parts of a project to the professionals, homeowners can pitch in during the following phases.

- Demolition: Demolition involves more than picking up a sledgehammer and swinging away. Some demolition projects are best left to the pros. For example, any projects that involve exposure to hazardous materials are risky and therefore best left to experienced laborers. However, many homeowners are capable of safely and effectively pulling cabinets from walls, removing flooring or knocking down drywall. Homeowners unsure of how to approach demolition tasks can ask their contractors to demonstrate the proper technique so the demolition is done right and on time.

• Salvage: Removing debris and items that will no longer be needed once the renovation is complete is another way homeowners can pitch in. Homeowners remodeling their kitchens may be replacing their existing stoves and refrigerators and hoping to donate these items. In such instances, driving the items to the donation site or arranging for them to be picked up rather than taken off the premises by the contractor or his employees can cut labor costs, as it allows laborers to keep working toward the end goal rather than requiring them to leave the work site to drop unwanted items off.

• Cleanup: Homeowners also can save costs by cleaning up after the contractors at the end of each workday. Speak with the contractor about cleaning up the site each day, asking him or her what can be discarded and what must remain on-site. Home improvements are costly. But homeowners who are capable of pitching in can greatly reduce the overall cost of their next renovation project.

HOW TO TAME INDOOR HOME ODORS

A clean home interior can make a strong first impression on prospective buyers, but only if that home is accompanied by pleasant scents. Odors can make a strong impact on buyers' perceptions of a home, including its level of cleanliness and upkeep. Although dirt and other grime can contribute to the odor of a home, additional culprits can contribute to foul smells as well. Everything from pets to the foods cooked in the kitchen to the hidden presence of mold can impact air quality and odor inside a home. Fortunately, there are ways to remedy stinky problems and come away with sweet-smelling solutions.

It's important for homeowners to realize that foul air inside a home can be the result of poor indoor air quality - which can be a health hazard. The United States Environmental Protection Agency ranks indoor air quality as a top five environmental risk to public health. EPA studies found indoor air pollutants were generally two to five times greater than outdoor pollution levels. In some cases, indoor air pollution was 100 times greater. The United States Consumer Product Safety Commission says the following can contribute to poor indoor air quality and also to some interior odors: combustion sources; tobacco products; building materials and furnishings; wet or damp carpet; cabinetry or furniture made of certain pressed wood products; products for household cleaning and maintenance and even outdoor sources such as radon, pesticides and outdoor air pollution.

So how does one remedy poor indoor air quality and odors inside a home? These tips can improve conditions.

- Ensure adequate ventilation. Open windows and doors when weather permits to eliminate the concentration of pollutants and help air out odors. Use exhaust fans in kitchens and baths to pull indoor air to the outside.

How to Tame Indoor Home Odors

- Invest in an air filter. A high-efficiency particulate air filter will force air through a fine mesh and trap harmful particles, such as pet dander, smoke, pollen, and dust mites, that can build up in a home. Remember to change the filter regularly.
- Increase the number of plants. Plants can brighten interior spaces, and they're also remarkable at cleaning indoor air. The Clean Air Study conducted by NASA set out to find out the best way to clean the air in space stations. The association found that the Boston fern, spider plant, Chinese evergreen, weeping fig, variegated snake plant, and English ivy, among many other plants, were ideal for filtering air and removing harmful contaminants.

- Ditch disposal odors. Food can become trapped and decompose in garbage disposals. Cut citrus fruit into chunks and drop them into a running disposal to remove many odors.
- Air out the washer. New washing machines have tight seals and gaskets that do not allow air to penetrate (or water to leak out). Mildew can grow as a result. Leave the washer door open after a round of laundry to let things dry and air out.
- Tame pet odors. Pets contribute heavily to odor in a home. Wet dog smells are prevalent on rainy days, while cat litter boxes can pack a pungent punch. Cleanliness can cut down on smells. Use activated charcoal in litter products to tame smells and empty the litter box frequently. Make sure dogs are dried off thoroughly when coming in from the rain, and use a deodorizing spray on pet fur. Regular grooming can help as well.

Odors in a home can be embarrassing and set a poor tone when inviting company over or showcasing a home for prospective buyers. Keep odors at bay by identifying the sources of smells and taking action.
