WHITECOURT RCMP RECOVER CATTLE TRAILER & LIVESTOCK ON HIGHWAY 43

Submitted by Whitecourt RCMP

On Oct. 19, 2020, at 12:40 a.m., Whitecourt RCMP located an abandoned pick-up truck with an empty cattle trailer attached on Highway 43 west of Whitecourt in an area described as the Windfall.

Further investigation confirmed that the vehicle had been stolen from the Barrhead, Alta. area. Later that morning, at 10:15 a.m., Whitecourt RCMP received a complaint from a motorist that there were five cattle near the bush on the side of Highway 43 north of Whitecourt.

Whitecourt RCMP attended and further investigation resulted in confirmation that the cattle were also stolen earlier that morning from the Barrhead area. A search of the area resulted in another stolen trailer being located nearby and recovered.

The owner of the cattle attended the location and with the assistance of a number of volunteers, the cattle were safely rounded up into a trailer. None of the cattle were injured as a result of this incident.

and equipment so that the livestock could be safely rounded up and returned to the owner,” says Staff Sergeant Brent Meyer, Detachment Commander of the Whitecourt RCMP. “Live-

Remembrance Day 2020

There’s no large community Remembrance Day service this year because of Covid restrictions. You can still honour veterans at the small outdoor service at the Legion cenotaph. With masks and social distancing, the public is welcome to attend, however, only veterans and members will be allowed inside because of space limitations.

If you’re a veteran living in the area, but not a Legion member, you’re definitely invited to attend this ceremony of remembrance. Please call in advance to 780-967-5361.

Early Christmas Dinner: Mark your calendar for an early Christmas dinner with all the fixings on Friday, December 18. Watch for more details.

How Do I Know What’s for Dinner? With everyone restricting activities because of Covid, it’s sometimes difficult to get volunteers to cook Friday nights in time to publicize the meals in the paper. However, you can always find the information on FaceBook (the Onoway Wall for All, the Lac Ste. Anne News and Views, and the Alberta Beach Community Post).

The legion drop-in darts club runs each Tuesday night, but because of Covid restrictions, space will be limited. The bar will be open.

NEW COVID-19 PILOT PLANNED FOR INTERNATIONAL TRAVELLERS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

A joint pilot program from the Government of Alberta and the Government of Canada – the first of its kind in the country – will safely test an alternative to the current 14-day quarantine requirement for international travellers while continuing to protect Canadians from COVID-19.

Travellers returning to Canada continue to be legally required to quarantine for 14 days after entering the country. The new pilot announced Oct. 22 will explore the feasibility of using a rigorous testing and monitoring program as a strategy to reduce the mandatory quarantine period, while keeping Canadians safe.

Beginning on Nov. 2, COVID-19 testing will be offered initially at two ports of entry into Canada: the Coutts land border crossing and the Calgary International Airport in Alberta. Travellers who participate will receive a COVID-19 test upon entry into Canada before proceeding into the required quarantine.

Once the test comes back negative, they will then be allowed to leave their place of quarantine so long as they commit to getting a second test on day six or seven after arrival, at a community pharmacy participating in the pilot program.

Participants will be closely monitored through daily symptoms checks. They will also be required to follow enhanced preventive health measures, such as wearing masks in public places and avoiding visiting high-risk groups.

“This is an important step in Alberta’s Recovery Plan. This new pilot program will allow those who need to travel for work to have a safe path to a shorter quarantine period. Since the start of this pandemic, Alberta’s government has highlighted the importance to protect lives and livelihoods. Today’s announcement does just that.” - Jason Kenney, Premier of Alberta

“Our top priority is the health and safety of Canadians. To this end, the Government of Canada works in close coordination with provincial and territorial partners to limit the spread of COVID-19. We continue to review the latest evidence on how testing could be used to ease border measures.” - Dominic LeBlanc, president of the Queen’s Privy Council for Canada and Minister of Intergovernmental Affairs

“This is a significant initiative for our business community. Being able to safely

reduce returning travellers’ quarantine time by a matter of weeks means that Alberta’s business leaders can continue operating their businesses during these unprecedented times. Balancing the health and safety of Albertans with protecting the integrity of our economy remains top priority for Alberta’s government.” - Doug Schweitzer, Minister of Jobs, Economy and Innovation, Government of Alberta

“Any changes to public health measures, including testing and quarantine requirements must be supported by strong scientific evidence. This is why we are moving forward with this program, as part of our efforts to gradually restart economic activity and keep protecting Canadians at the same time.” - Patty Hajdu, Minister of Health, Government of Canada

PARKLAND RCMP REQUEST PUBLIC'S ASSISTANCE TO IDENTIFY SUSPECTS

Submitted by Parkland RCMP

Parkland RCMP are looking for assistance in identifying suspects responsible for killing cattle. Between Sept. 4, 2020 and Oct. 11, 2020, three separate occurrences were reported to Parkland RCMP and the RCMP Livestock Section. Unknown suspects shot and killed or injured cattle belonging to a beef producer in the County of Lac Ste. Anne. Two animals were killed and a third animal suffered serious injury. Police do not believe these incidents were accidental and believe the cattle were targeted. These animals are worth over $10,000.00.

If you have any information regarding these incidents, please contact the Parkland RCMP at 825-220-7267 or your local police. If you want to remain anonymous, you can contact Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477 (TIPS), online at www.P3Tips.com or by using the "P3 Tips" app available through the Apple App or Google Play Store.

New COVID-19 Pilot Planned for International Travellers

"We are excited to launch this bold new pilot project to look at ways to reduce quarantine periods while protecting the health of Albertans. Safety is our top priority. All participating travellers will be closely monitored to ensure that the pilot is not resulting in any increased risk of exposure for Albertans."

- Tyler Shandro, Minister of Health, Government of Alberta

Quick facts:

- The pilot will begin next month, with the start date expected to be Nov. 2.
- Non-exempt participants will be required to remain in Alberta for the first 14 days, the period normally associated with a quarantine. They may also be issued tickets if they fail to respect the public health requirements of the pilot.

- Eligible candidates must be returning Canadian citizens, permanent residents or foreign nationals currently permitted entry into Canada and who have no symptoms.

- The pilot will engage both levels of government as well as industry and research partners, and will help inform decisions on new measures for international travel.
- All returning international travellers who do not voluntarily participate in the pilot, must continue to adhere to the 14-day quarantine.

Message from Reeve Blakeman

The fall months are among the busiest as kids head back to school, farmers cut their crops, and the daily grind resumes for most of us. To state the obvious, COVID-19 has added a whole new dimension to our typical fall routines. Changes come fast and uncertainty continues to hang in the air; but signs of goodwill are also present as I see us adapting, improvising, remaining mindful of the safety of others, and generally making the best of a bad hand.

I'm never surprised by the decency and resiliency of our communities, but I am always grateful. As I reflect on what has been for most a year of challenge, I maintain that we have still have reasons for gratitude.

A soggy beginning to the growing season had us all wondering if we would see a repeat of last fall when much of the County's crop was unsalvageable. However, dry conditions in July and August gave our farmers a fighting chance at bringing in decent crops this fall. Not everyone is in the same boat, but provincial reports indicate that crops are doing better overall than the five year average in most of the region.

The excessive rainfall of recent years has not only challenged producers; it has also thrown a wrench into the County's roadway maintenance and infrastructure projects.

Not unlike farmers, our Public Works department is often at the mercy of the elements. Consistently wet weather hampers their ability to complete road repairs, which then creates the backlog in projects that understandably frustrates many County residents. With so few windows of opportunity for maintenance, our crews must triage the workload accordingly: emergency road repairs take priority, and scheduled projects that are important but less critical take a back seat. Multiply this scenario times several years of poor weather and shortened work windows: I am certain you can do the math.

Infrastructure Inroads and Additional Funding

Despite the ongoing weather-related maintenance challenges, our Public Works crews have achieved a few recent infrastructure milestones that I'm pleased to share with the community. The TWP 590 road construction project is in full swing, funded by $2.5 million as was approved in the 2019 budget. Having broken ground on July 29 this summer, Public Works has completed 7.5 of the 13 kilometers slated for construction along this stretch.

The goal with the TWP 590 project is to get to the halfway point before freeze-up occurs. At this pace, it looks as though we'll make that mark.

In addition to TWP 590, we're making some great progress on other road maintenance projects this fall — thus addressing problematic roadways and putting our hard-working local contractors back on the tools.

Much of the season's maintenance work is for projects that had already been budgeted and scheduled; but that crews were unable to address due to the issues I mentioned earlier.

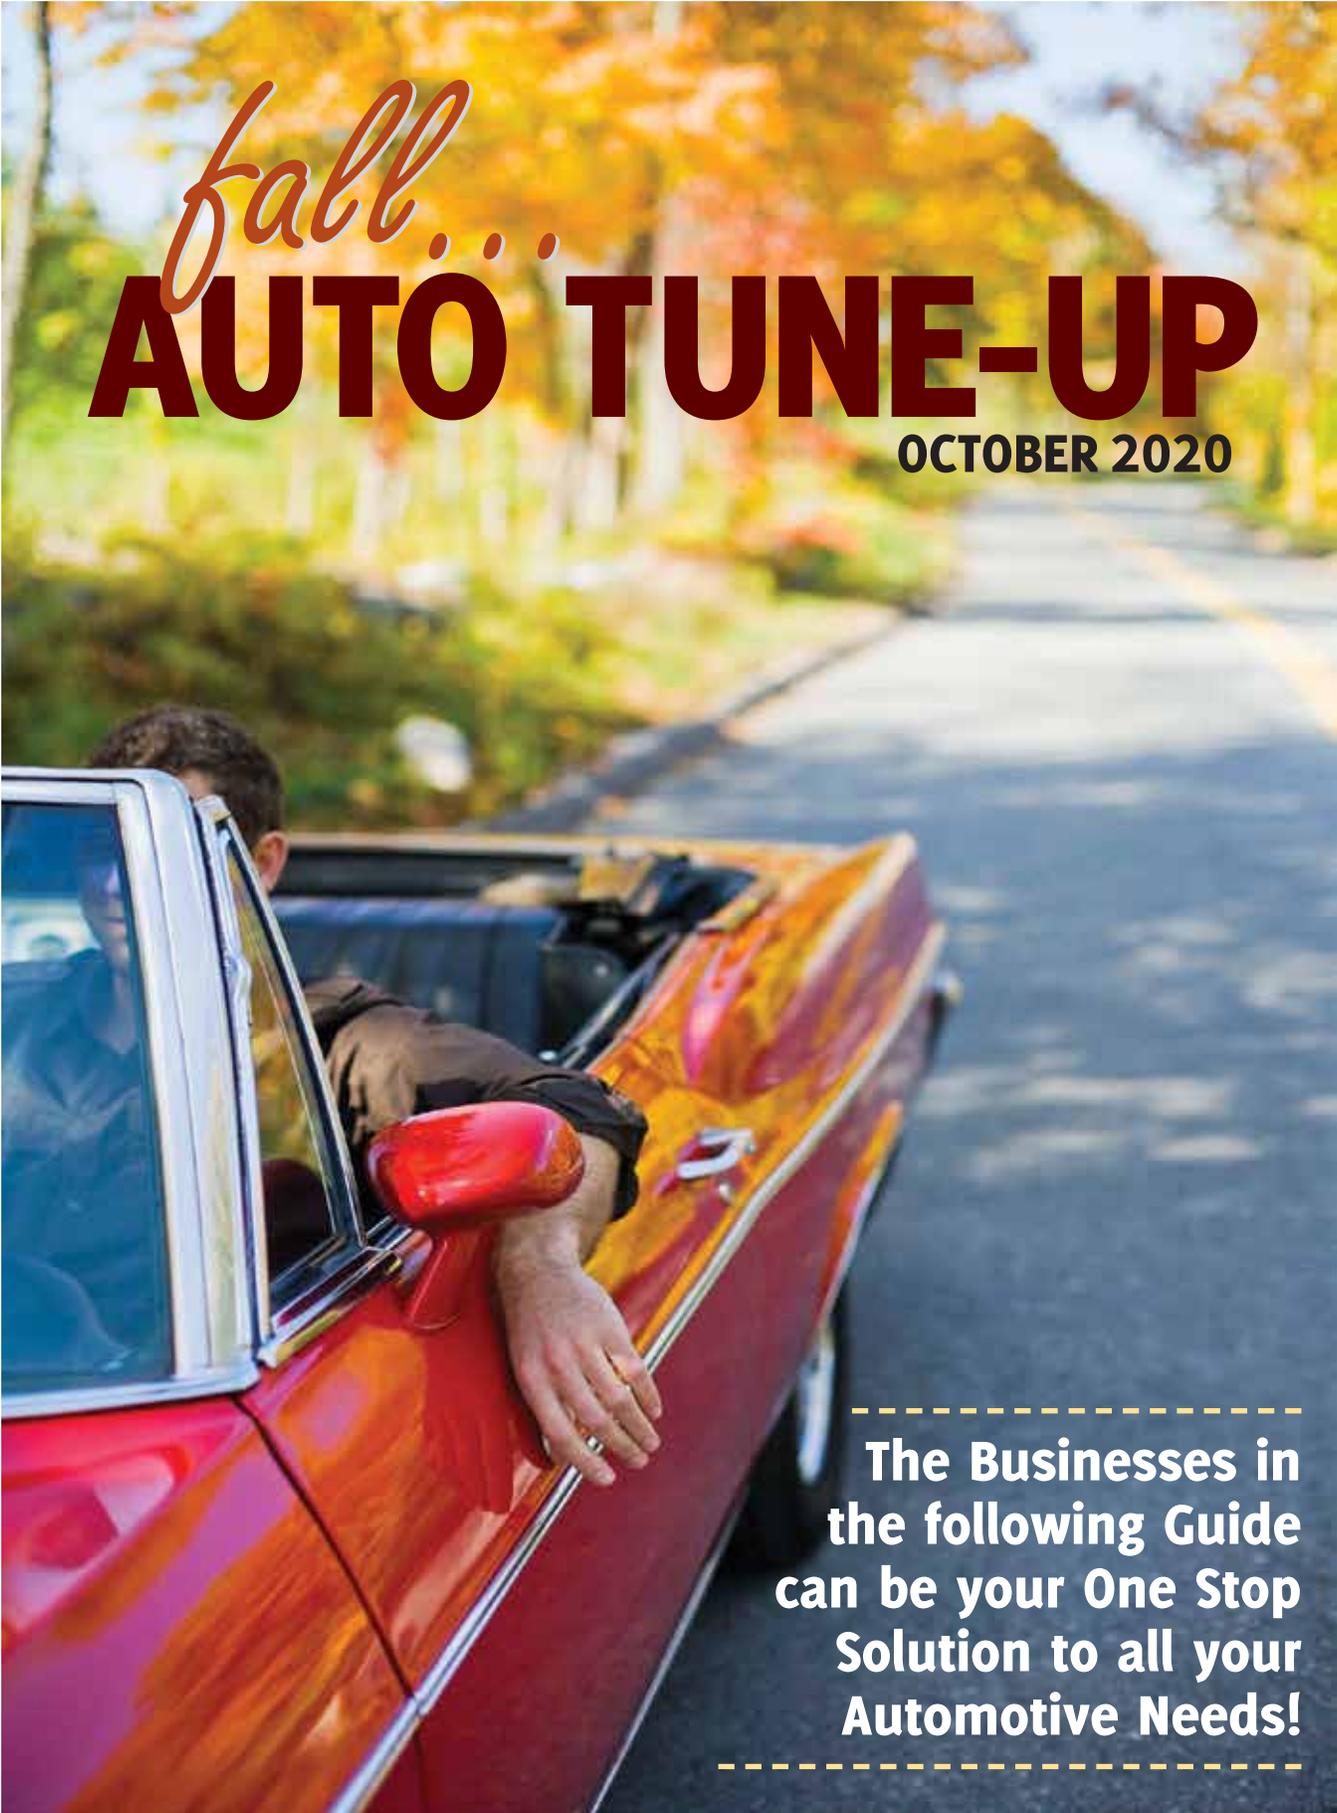

On top of these current and pending projects, the Government of Alberta has recently committed an additional $1.2 million toward infrastructure projects tied to job creation in the County. Rural Alberta will also be the beneficiary of $233 million in federal funds (matched dollar for dollar by the Province) under Canada's Safe Restart Agreement as relief for municipal operating costs during COVID-19. Council is doing its level best to ensure the County receives its fair share of this stimulus cash.

These infrastructure milestones and provincial/federal funding contributions are great news for the County. Maintaining our roads and bridges is always a good thing; getting local businesses back on the tools is even better.

I'd like to close by thanking County ratepayers, staff, and my fellow Councillors for their ongoing support during these chaotic times. Like all of you, I can only speculate what lies ahead with the pandemic, the economy, or the other shifting sands of change in our region. But I am certain of our resilience, and I'm confident that together we can weather whatever the future holds.

CAR TROUBLE? CHECK THE FUSE BOX

Modern automobiles are technological marvels that rely on electrical components more than ever before. According to The Family Handyman, vehicles have 40 or more fuses grouped in two or more places.

Just like fuses in a home's electrical panel, automotive fuses stop excessive current flow that can overheat circuits, damage equipment or cause fires. Any electrical component in a vehicle, such as the radio or headlights, are tied to a fuse.

When something goes awry with automotive electrical components, drivers may be quick to believe the components themselves or even the car's battery or alternator are to blame. Mechanics say that it's entirely possible that a blown fuse is the cause of the problem. Simply checking and/or replacing the fuse can alleviate the issue.

Finding the fuses

The location of the fuse box depends on the make and model of the vehicle. Drivers should consult their owner's manual to learn where the fuse boxes are located. Some vehicles have two fuse boxes that serve different purposes. Engine compartment fuse boxes protect certain engine components, including the anti-lock brake pump. Fuses inside or beneath the dashboard may protect dome lights or the air conditioning system.

According to How a Car Works, the individual fuses in the box are typically numbered. That makes it easier for drivers to determine which vehicle components aren't working. If the fuses are not numbered, then it's a matter of removing fuses to see which circuits stop working to help narrow down the issue.

Replacing fuses

Vehicles may have different types of fuses. It's important to know which ones are in the car so you can get the right replacement.

"Blade" fuses are common and have a conductive horse-shoe-shaped metal strip that runs through an outer plastic housing. If the metal strip appears broken, the fuse is no good.

Cylindrical glass fuses are found in some cars. They're also known as "Buss" fuses. If the metal strip that runs down the center is broken, the fuse needs to be replaced.

Older European cars have ceramic fuses built with an outer copper conductive surface. The narrow part of the copper piece breaks in the middle when the fuse blows.

Regardless of their design, fuses will be clearly labeled with their ampere ratings, according to CarID. Physically remove the fuse using a small, specially shaped fuse puller tool that may be included inside the fuse box. Replace the fuse with one of the same amperage by gently pushing it into place.

If the new fuse blows relatively quickly after replacement, or multiple fuses blow at one time, a larger current issue may be the problem. Consult a mechanic in this instance.

WHAT MAINTENANCE SCHEDULE DOES MY CAR NEED?

Vehicle maintenance schedules vary depending on manufacturer recommendations. In addition, the way a car is driven and the environment it's driven in can dictate if routine maintenance like oil changes needs to occur more frequently or if belts and hoses need to be replaced sooner than manufacturers recommend.

Many people drive in ways that align with routine maintenance schedules. However, drivers who put excessive wear and tear on their vehicles may have to follow a "severe" maintenance schedule. According to the automotive information site Car Gurus, many manufacturers adhere to a 30-60-90 schedule, meaning certain items need to be inspected, changed or replaced at 30,000, 60,000 and 90,000 miles. Certain vehicle parts wear out at predictable intervals, while others, such as rubber gaskets, windshield washer blades and tires, will degrade at irregular intervals.

It is generally recommended to speak with a mechanic and discuss driving habits to ensure vehicles operate efficiently and at peak capacity. The following are some conditions that may necessitate frequent maintenance.

- Urban driving: Stop-and-go traffic in an urban setting can wear cars out more quickly than highway driving. Experts say lubricants found in motor oil break down rapidly under these and other conditions, including especially hot temperatures.

- Short trips: Frequent, short trips can take a toll on a vehicle. Again, this may be a problem for those who reside in cities or bustling suburbs. Short trips of no more than five miles can contribute to an accumulation of water vapor that dilutes motor oil and adversely affects its efficacy.

- Heavy loads: Advanced Auto Parts says transporting or towing heavy loads can put more wear and tear on a vehicle. Loads can include cargo or passengers.

- Dusty or salty environments: Dust can accumulate in air filters and clog internal engine components. Similarly, living close to the coast and salt water also can cause car parts to rust or degrade quickly.

- Extreme temperature conditions: People who reside in extremely cold or extremely hot climates may find that their vehicles have to work that much harder to operate, reducing the life span of automotive fluids, parts (especially car batteries) and the overall vehicle unless action is taken.

For those who frequently encounter these severe conditions, switching to a severe maintenance schedule with the guidance of an automotive service shop can help. The added cost of more frequent fluid changes and other maintenance can be recuperated by fewer breakdowns and the reduced need for potentially costly repairs.

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
