ALBERTA TO RUN OUT OF COVID-19 VACCINE SUPPLY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Premier Jason Kenney issued the following statement on vaccine supply in Alberta: "Alberta Health Services has administered nearly 90,000 doses to eligible health-care workers and staff and residents in continuing care around the province to date. We continue to lead the large provinces in the pace of COVID-19 vaccination. This is positive news.

"I am also pleased to report that first dose vaccinations have wrapped up at all 357 long-term care and designated supported living facilities in the province.

"However, due to the unexpected supply disruption the federal government announced last week, Alberta will have no more vaccine doses available to administer as first doses by the end of today or early tomorrow.

"Accordingly, no more new first dose appointments will be accepted and some first dose appointments already booked will be rescheduled over the coming days to accommodate limited supply. Doses have been allocated to ensure second doses are available for committed appointments.

"As I have stated several times since our vaccine roll-out started, our ability to get needed vaccine in the arms of Albertans is limited by the number of vaccine doses we have on hand. It is frustrating to see this happen while other countries, like the United States, the United Kingdom, and Israel have received significantly larger quantities of vaccines.

"I am deeply disappointed at the situation we are now facing. The news on January 15 that Pfizer shipments would be cut by 20 to 80 per cent over the coming weeks only adds to our frustration and means we have had to significantly slow down our vaccination plan.

"Alberta currently has the capacity to deliver 50,000 doses per week. In March, we expect to be able to administer about 200,000 doses per week. But we do not have the supply to match. Unfortunately, this means that the planned vaccination of First Nations and Métis individuals and seniors over age 75 has been put on hold.

"I want to assure Albertans that despite this setback, we remain in position to immediately ramp-up and get back to record vaccination numbers once sufficient doses are delivered. We remain undeterred in our efforts to get vaccines to those who need them most."

RURAL DUGOUTS FOR RURAL PROPERTIES:

More than just a hole in the ground

Submitted by Lorraine Taylor, Horticulturist/Conservation Coordinator | Lac Ste. Anne County

Over the last 100 years more than 250,000 dugouts have been constructed on rural properties across the prairies. Four counties are partnering to host a two-part Zoom webinar with information about ways to care for these important sources of water on farms and other rural properties.

During his presentation, Shawn Elgert, Agricultural Water Engineer with Alberta Agriculture and Forestry, will cover a wide range of topics including planning considerations, design, construction, operation and protection, water quality issues and treatment solutions, and dugouts for stocking fish. The sessions also include time for questions.

These water reservoirs serve many uses: for live-stock watering, outdoor and greenhouse irrigation, recreation, and a source of water for pesticide application and fire fighting. Elgert says dugouts are miniature ecosystems and require proper design and maintenance to provide suitable water quality and quantity for the intended uses. Because runoff surface water is usually the source of water for dugouts, the water quality can be poor. However, dugout water quality can be managed, improved, and treated to meet most farm needs. Good dugout management starts with the dugout watershed and extends right through to the final use. As dugouts age they fill with sediment and their water storage capacity becomes smaller. The life span of a dugout can be extended significantly through effective management.

The webinar series runs

Wednesdays on February 10 and 17, 2021 from 7:00 – 8:30 p.m. Admission is free. To receive the Zoom link for the webinar please register before 4:30 p.m. February 10. Register online at www.leduc-county.com/rural-dugouts. For more information residents may call their County Agricultural Services Department or contact Kim at kimb@leduc-county.com or 780-387-6182. Offered in partnership between Leduc County, Lac Ste. Anne County, Parkland County, and the County of Wetaskiwin.

WHITCOURT LAUNCHES ONLINE SURVEY ON RESIDENTIAL WASTE AND RECYCLING SERVICES

Submitted by Town of Whitecourt

JANUARY 14, 2021

Whitecourt has launched an online survey to provide community members the opportunity to share their opinions on residential waste and recycling programs provided locally.

The Ad Hoc Waste and Recycling Services Review Committee was established to gather information on municipal best practices and complete a needs analysis regarding the collection, transportation and disposal of solid waste, and recyclables. The data gathered through this online survey will provide valuable information about current and future service levels, needs and priorities for residential curbside programs in our community. The service contracts for residential curbside collection expire later this year, and the recommendations made by the Committee to Council will be considered during the development of this tender package.

"The Committee is excited to offer the opportunity to Town residents to share their feedback on recycling programs that will have a positive impact on both the environment and the value of our tax dollars," stated Committee Chair Koren Scott. "Resident engagement and participation are critical to helping provide Council with recommendations on the programs and services we as residents want to see in our community."

Survey participants will be asked about their recycling habits, and also their opinion on expanding residential services to include composting services. The survey is limited to Whitecourt residents only, and it is asked that only one survey be submitted per household.

As an incentive to participate, there will be a draw for $150 in Whitecourt Bucks for those that have completed the survey.

"The Town of Whitecourt has been working to expand local programs in an effort to divert waste from the landfill and promote environmental stewardship," added Whitecourt Mayor Maryann Chichak. "I'm looking forward to reviewing the survey results, and hearing the recommendations from the Ad Hoc Committee."

A link to the Whitecourt Waste, Recycling and Compost Programs Survey is available on www.whitecourt.ca. The survey will close at 4:00 p.m. on Friday, January 29, 2021.

SUDOKU

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
