LISTENING TO ALBERTANS ON RURAL CRIME

Submitted by Government of Alberta

What Minister Kaycee Madu heard on the summer listening tour reaffirmed that rural crime is a top concern for Albertans, and addressing it remains a government priority.

The Minister of Justice and Solicitor General toured all regions of the province, attending more than 60 events and meetings with citizens, police services, victims services organizations and more. He heard rural Albertans' thoughts and concerns on topics ranging from rural crime, inadequate police response time, victims services, a potential Alberta Provincial Police Service and the need for a better system to deal with repeat offenders.

"I want to thank the many Albertans who shared their concerns about rural crime. What you told us will help inform our ongoing work to ensure Albertans feel safe and protected in their homes, no matter where they live. We know the federal government must step up by enacting laws that put a stop to the revolving door justice system that allows repeat offenders to victimize law-abiding citizens over and over again, and we echo the call of Albertans for them to act quickly on this."

Kaycee Madu, Minister of Justice and Solicitor General

During his tour, the Minister held town halls in Barrhead, Cardston, Claresholm, Grande Prairie, High Level, Millarville, Munson and Redcliff, but also spoke to Albertans in La Crete, Olds, Spruce Grove, St. Albert, Strathcona County, Taber, Vermilion and Wabasca, among other places.

Rural participants throughout the province took the opportunity to have their say on government efforts to stand up for Albertans regardless of where they call home. With the provincial police service transition study underway and the results of the Police Act engagement under review, their conversations with Minister Madu came at an important time.

Standing up for rural Albertans
The Government of Alberta has already taken action on a number of fronts as part of its commitment to reduce rural crime:

- The Rural Alberta Provincial Integrated Defence (RAP-ID) Response system makes sheriffs and Fish and Wildlife officers available to respond to a wider range of calls to reduce response times in rural areas.

- The new, independent Alberta Parole Board aims to provide a fairer, faster, more responsive and responsible justice system that protects all Albertans from repeat offenders, including parolees.

- The appointment of Alberta's first-ever chief firearms officer to ensure the appropriate enforcement of firearms legislation in a manner that respects Alberta's traditions and law-abiding gun owners.

- The Trespass Statutes (Protecting Law-Abiding Property Owners) Amendment Act, 2019 protects property owners with strengthened deterrents to trespassing, such as five-fold increases to maximum fines and possible prison time. It also protects law-abiding property owners from civil liability for injuries to criminal trespassers.

- The Scrap Metal Dealers and Recyclers Identification Act and regulation makes it difficult for criminals to sell stolen metal for scrap and deters targeted thefts in rural communities.

- An investment in new Crown prosecutors and support staff improves the prosecution service's capacity to ensure rural Albertans are better protected from criminals by the justice system regardless of where crimes take place.

- The appointment of more judges to the provincial court, the commitment of two additional resident justices of the Court of Queen's Bench for Grande Prairie and an additional two justices for Red Deer.

- The Justice Transformation Initiative is helping to modernize justice services with technology and processes in every area of Alberta so services can be delivered more efficiently and every community receives suitable services.

RESTORING TAX ACCOUNTABILITY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Proposed legislative amendments would provide municipalities with a restored and clarified tool to help them collect overdue taxes from oil and gas properties.

Most companies operating in Alberta's energy sector pay their local property taxes but in recent years some have not, leaving municipalities with hard decisions about raising taxes for other taxpayers or cutting services.

If passed, amendments to the Municipal Government Act will restore a special lien that municipalities can use to require oil and gas companies to pay overdue property taxes. This means if a company becomes bankrupt or decides not to pay their property taxes, municipalities will have a tool to convince them to pay or else property may be seized to cover outstanding debts. As a result, municipalities will be more likely to recoup the revenue they are owed.

"An overwhelming majority of oil and gas companies are responsible job creators who pay their taxes. This legislation is intended to help municipalities go after those companies who refuse to play by the rules. Bad actors who ignore the rules and don't pay their taxes force everyone else to fill in the gaps - that's not fair." Ric McIver, Minister of Municipal Affairs

"Rural municipalities across the province have struggled to collect property taxes assessed from a small minority of oil and gas companies in recent years, leading to impacts on municipal service delivery and infrastructure investment. These legislative changes are an important step towards ensuring that municipalities have the tools to hold oil and gas facility and related infrastructure owners accountable for property tax payments at the same level of responsibility as all other property owners. RMA appreciates the Government of Alberta recognizing the importance of this issue and looks forward to working with provincial decision makers to ensure that the changes announced today make a meaningful difference for municipalities and all taxpayers across the province."

Paul McLauchlin, president, Rural Municipalities of Alberta

PERC program extended Restoring the special lien builds on a provincial program that already helps municipalities that are struggling to collect taxes related to oil and gas production. Since 2017, the Provincial Education Requisition Credit (PERC) has been allowing municipalities to offset uncollectable education property taxes on delinquent oil and gas properties with an equivalent tax credit. The PERC program will be extended to the 2023-24 fiscal year to give municipalities time to use the special lien, if necessary, to seek the taxes they are owed.

GOOD NEWS STORY

SUPERINTENDENT'S YOUTH COUNCIL

Submitted by GYPSD

The first Superintendent's Youth Council (SYC) meeting for 2021/2022 met on October 15, affording the 24 new and returning participants opportunities to build positive relationships with peers from across the Division, lead by example in their schools, provide valuable input on education initiatives, and participate in leadership opportunities under the support of Carolyn Lewis, Superintendent of Schools. SYC members are chosen from those who demonstrate a diverse range of interests, identities and perspectives, who were passionate about and willing to share experience, knowledge, and skills, and who are interested in leadership opportunities both at the Division and school level.

Superintendent Lewis shared words of welcome, kernels of wisdom, and personal anecdotes to create a welcoming space that encouraged every student to share with the group. The meeting's theme was about having a voice and identifying each member's "Superpowers". Students were introduced to Canadian Juno winner, singer-songwriter Kellylee Evans (a jazz singer) who spoke about the theme's importance in identifying individual strengths. It was moving to hear students share their own powerful traits. The meeting concluded with an exercise where all shared the Superpower that they aspired to have - being able to fly was the most popular Superpower wish!

SYC members also virtually attended Alberta Mentoring Partnership Summit

Supporting Adolescent Mental Health Through Strengthening Webs of Support on October 20. Along with informative key note speakers and presentations, there were several breakout sessions on youth mentoring, peer-to-peer learning, and a session on supports for Two-Spirit and LGBTQ+ Youth.

Help celebrate our GYPSD youth as they walk their "leadership excellence" journeys!

ALBERTA RCMP FEDERAL POLICING WARNS BUY-AND-SELL USERS OF ONGOING PAYMENT FRAUD

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

The Alberta RCMP Federal Serious and Organized Crime Unit warns online buy-and-sell users of an ongoing payment scam in which sellers using platforms like Kijiji or Facebook Marketplace are un-knowingly receiving money requests rather than money transfers. As a result, sellers are being cheated out of their money instead of receiving payment for their listed items.

Scammers will show interest in a listed item on a buy-and-sell platform, contacting the seller to coordinate payment. They then ask to send an online money transfer as a deposit to hold an item. In some cases, the scammer will even explain to the seller that the payment will be coming from a special company account, laying cover for why the supposed e-transfer will be received in a different language. A money request instead of a transfer is then sent in French to the seller. The victim, unable to translate the request or decipher the scam, accepts the transaction and the funds are pulled from their account.

There has been no specific trend in the type of listings or sellers being targeted by this scam. The Alberta RCMP cautions individuals listing items online to avoid interactions with potential buyers that involve money transfers in French or languages they are unable to translate.

“Online scams such as these are becoming more and more common. It is important that individuals using buy-and-sell platforms do their due diligence to ensure transactions are legitimate. We encourage Albertans to be cautious of these types of fraud trends and to question online interactions that seem unusual or out of the ordinary.” - Cpl. Sean Milne, Alberta RCMP, Federal Serious and Organized Crime

APPLAUDING ALBERTANS HELPING SENIORS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is recognizing nine individuals, organizations and businesses for their service to seniors.

The Minister's Seniors Service Awards honour Albertans who improve the lives of seniors and their communities through outstanding service. These dedicated individuals, businesses and non-profit organizations use their time and talents to provide services to seniors, help them stay connected and advocate for their well-being.

"This outstanding group of Albertans have gone above and beyond during these difficult times to step up and make a difference in seniors' lives. By helping seniors facing technology barriers with innovative solutions and the right supports, they helped keep seniors connected to their communities and remain valued members of our society." Jason Kenney, Premier

This year, a special service award category, the Spirit Award, was introduced to recognize an individual, group, business or non-profit organization that went above and beyond to bring joy to isolated seniors during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"All across the province, dedicated volunteers have stepped up to lend a helping hand to improve the lives of seniors. Even during a pandemic, these Albertans continued to offer their time, talent and dedication to support seniors when they needed it most. Congratulations to each of our 2021 award winners for your outstanding service to Alberta seniors." Josephine Pon, Minister of Seniors and Housing

ALBERTA'S GOVERNMENT WILL AWARD A TOTAL OF $125,000 TO YOUNG WOMEN PURSUING CAREERS IN SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING AND MATHEMATICS (STEM).

Submitted by Government of Alberta

This second intake for the Women in STEM scholarship, which was introduced earlier this year, demonstrates the Alberta government's commitment to supporting women in pursuing rewarding careers in these fields. Each successful applicant will receive $2,500 to support their studies. The scholarship is open to women currently studying in STEM fields.

"During the first intake, Alberta's government was able to support 50 young women pursuing studies in STEM. We are committed to supporting women and girls to succeed in whatever career path they choose, including STEM. This commitment is even more important now, as emerging technology and innovation play a significant part of Alberta's economic recovery and diversification. We want to inspire women and girls to write the next great chapter, code or formula in Alberta's story."

Whitney Issik, Associate Minister of Status of Women

"When we empower women and girls to enter STEM professions, we are investing in our future and tapping into a highly skilled workforce. As part of Alberta's Recovery Plan, I'm proud that we're investing in women and girls to pursue, impact and succeed in the fields of science, engineering, technology and math."

Demetrios Nicolaides, Minister of Advanced Education

The deadline for applications is Dec. 31. Those interested in applying can visit the program website to find the scholarship criteria and applicant information.

Quick facts

- The first intake of the Women in STEM scholarship closed on Feb. 21, 2021.

- o The scholarship received 106 eligible applications.

- o The majority of applicants were attending MacEwan University,

Mount Royal University, the University of Alberta and the University of Calgary.

ALBERTA RCMP WARNS CONSUMERS OF ONLINE HAY SALE SCAM

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

Alberta RCMP are warning rural and farming communities to be aware of fraud that affects consumers looking to purchase hay. Due to extreme drought conditions this past summer, there is now a high demand for hay which is being sold at increased costs. This may cause farmers and agricultural workers to make purchases without taking time to properly verify or research production sources.

Across various RCMP jurisdictions this year, various groups have scammed victims of approximately $64,000. With many cases potentially not being reported, this figure could be higher.

Recently, fraudsters have been placing listings for hay on social media and buy-and-sell platforms, requesting immediate payment before buyers have the opportunity to research the producer, see the product, or receive delivery. This summer, both Evansburg RCMP and Grande Prairie RCMP received similar reports of transactions on Facebook Marketplace for a purchase of hay where a quantity of money was sent through an e-transfer, but no hay was delivered, and the funds were lost.

In all reported cases of hay fraud, the maximum individual deposit sent to scammers was over $5,000, and the minimum was $1,000. For consumers, it is valuable to note that those who avoided being scammed had refused to give deposits in advance, insisted upon speaking on the phone, and had paid cash upon delivery of goods.

The following key indicators can help you to identify a potential scam across online selling platforms:

- Typically, sellers will only communicate through text messaging and avoid phone conversations.
- Sellers can be located anywhere in the world and will get the attention of buyers by having a specific or specialized knowledge of hay products.

- Pricing will be attractively low and will be consistent with the previous year's market price.
- Often, there will be an insistence of a 50% deposit but once the deposit is received, there may be excuses about delayed delivery and then communication stops.

DIAL INTO YOUR INNER TELECOMMUNICATIONS OPERATOR THIS #OCTOBER

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

On your mark, hand-set, go! The Alberta RCMP are inviting Albertans to get the Operational Communications Centre (OCC) experience through the #October campaign on social media. This campaign will spotlight the behind-the-scenes work of emergency telecommunications operators and will offer insight into various aspects of police operations surrounding the OCC. We hope to connect the dots and avoid crossed wires on topics such as priority level of incoming calls, questions the OCC may ask callers, RCMP response times and how individuals may become part of the team!

The primary OCC centres for the Alberta RCMP are located in Red Deer and Edmonton. The centres are staffed 24/7, 365. They provide service to 114 RCMP detachments, who in turn serve approximately 1.3 million Albertans. In 2020, a total of 890,972 calls for service were handled by these two locations.

When a phone call for service comes into the OCC it is assigned a priority level for the dispatcher. These priority levels are based on the information gleaned through the initial conversation and questions our telecommunications operators ask the caller.

Priority Level 1: Very Urgent – Immediate Dispatch – Major incident or incident in progress that requires immediate police presence, assistance, or service. Involves the report of a loss of life or need for police to prevent the loss of life.

Priority Level 2: Urgent – Dispatch as soon as possible – Urgent need for police presence, assistance or service. While there is no loss of life involved, the potential for escalation exists.

Priority Level 3: Routine – Dispatch as soon as reasonably possible – Reports that do not require immediate police presence, assistance or service.

Priority Level 4: No immediate action – Occurrences that do not require police attendance but may require further action.

Priority Level 5: Call Back Unit – Specialized team designed to handle non-emergency calls for service – when no risk to public safety and the investigation isn't time sensitive.

When someone calls the OCC they will be asked the "Five W's": What, Where, When, Who, and Weapons. This information is vital so that police are able to determine the resources needed in an emergency. Answering these questions can significantly help to determine the speed of response needed, additional resources required like police backup, specific safety equipment, or if a specialized unit should be deployed (like Police Dog Services).

What many people don't know, is that a number of factors impact RCMP response times. The dispatch centre queue time, length of the phone call to gather essential details, dispatching the file to the member, and the time it takes a member to receive the file and do initial checks and queries are all part of the response time.

Response times can differ across Alberta and are different based on call priority. In Alberta, 68% of criminal code files reported to the RCMP are "discovery crime", meaning that the incident has already occurred and the crime is essentially over. The remaining 32% of calls are reported as crimes in progress. This means that 32% of calls are classified as Priority 1 and 2 calls.

The response times between "discovery crimes" and crimes in progress are vastly different, as the safety of Albertans will always be our top-priority. In 2020, the average Alberta RCMP provincial detachment response time for Priority 1 and 2 calls in rural areas was 21.3 minutes. 38.6% of these calls for service were responded to in 15 minutes or less, 79.2% of these calls for service were responded to in 30 minutes or less, and 94.3% of these calls for service were responded to in 45 minutes or less.

Knowing all this, do you think you have what it takes to work in the OCC? This fast-paced environment requires a strong ability to multitask, while dealing with a multitude of situations. Not one specific type of person makes a great OCC operator. It might sound surprising, but people who enjoy video games have some of the skills that can be a great asset while on the job. If you have a good grasp of spatial awareness, are able to prioritize multiple scenarios, and can multitask under pressure, being an OCC operator just may be your calling!

SNOW TIRES A WORTHY INVESTMENT

Automotive experts say that snow tires are a worthy investment that improve maneuverability and stopping power on winter roads. Many people leave all-season tires on their vehicles throughout the year, but snow tires may help decrease snow-related accidents and may even help drivers save money on their auto insurance.

Consumer Reports says that autumn is the best time to buy snow tires. As drivers prepare their vehicles for winter, the following snow tire tutorial can shed some light on why driving in winter is safer with snow tires.

Snow tires are particularly helpful for people who cannot wait for roads to be cleared before they begin their days. Snow tires provide greater traction in wet, snowy or slushy conditions. Snow tires provide ample grip and make it easier for cars to turn corners and stop on slick roads.

As the mercury falls, the rubber used to make traditional tires can become hard and less pliable, compromising its ability to grip the road.

However, many snow tires are made with a specialized rubber that remains supple even in very cold temperatures, making it easier for the tire to hug the roadways even when those roads are in poor condition.

· People who live in very cold climates and areas where snow and ice dominate the landscape for several months per year often find all-season tires are inadequate and likely to slip. Snow tires make for safer alternatives in such regions.

· Snow tires are typically manufactured the previous summer, meaning inventory is finite, according to Consumer Reports. Drivers who wait until the first snowstorm to purchase their snow tires may encounter limited inventory and find it difficult to locate the right size tire for their vehicles. That's why it's important to shop early.

· Retire snow tires earlier than you would all-season tires. Snow tires lose almost all of their effectiveness once they reach 6/32-inch deep tread.

Snow tires can make roads safer for drivers who live in locales with long, snowy winters. They also are ideal for drivers who desire more traction, cornering and stopping capacity on winter road-

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
