MP SOROKA COMMENTS ON THE SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Submitted by Gerald Soroka MP for Yellowhead

The 32-minute Speech from the Throne was more or less a repeat of the Liberals' major platform promises focusing on the economic recovery from COVID-19, reconciliation, and climate change, reiterating the Liberals' electoral promises. The political priorities announced by the Liberal government do nothing for Canadians worried about the cost-of-living crisis pricing families out of homes...

MP Soroka Comments On The Speech From The Throne

... and driving the cost of everyday essentials up, businesses crippled from supply chain constraints, and workers whose wages are stagnating.

Why didn't the Liberal government present an economic plan for families, seniors and small businesses that have been left behind? Justin Trudeau's approach means more of the same: more deficits leading to higher taxes, at a time when Canadians are barely making ends meet. Employment and investment to kick start our recovery and strengthen it should have been highlighted in the Speech from the Throne.

What about rural crime? Justin Trudeau's speech did not address or present a plan to deal with rural crime which has increased in violence and severity over the last several years. This is impacting families and communities across Alberta. Canada's Conservatives are the only party committed to taking action on rural crime.

We Conservatives are the voice of small business owners, of energy, auto and steelworkers, of farming families, and of parents and seniors. We will be the voice for the millions of Canadians left behind in Justin Trudeau's economy.

Again, where in the Throne Speech does it deal with inflation, the cost-of-living crisis, the national-unity crisis? There's no plan to get people working.

The Boss of our small company was complaining during a staff meeting that people didn't respect him enough. Trying to change the attitude in the office he came in the next day with a sign for his door it said, "I am the boss". # CHILDREN AGED 5-11 NOW ELIGIBLE FOR COVID-19 VACCINE

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Children aged five to 11 years old will soon have the opportunity to get protected from COVID-19.

Alberta's government welcomes the news that Health Canada has approved the Pfizer vaccine for children aged five to 11. Vaccines are expected to arrive in the province the week of Nov. 22.

Provided supply is delivered as expected, Alberta plans to begin administration by late next week. More information regarding bookings and appointments will be shared once they are available.

Currently, parents and guardians can pre-register their children in the Alberta Vaccine Booking system to be ready when appointments open.

Restrictions Exemption Program

Children under 12 will continue to have access to businesses and venues participating in the Restrictions Exemption Program, regardless of their vaccination status.

The Restrictions Exemption Program has been working well with these younger children being able to access facilities with their parents or guardians who are able to meet the program requirements, or participating in youth activities while following current public health measures.

Quick facts

- Pfizer-BioNTech's Comirnaty COVID-19 vaccine is the only vaccine approved for use in children aged five to 11 in Canada.

- Health Canada approved the Pfizer vaccine for children aged five to 11 on Nov. 19. It has also been approved for use in the U.S.

- More than 390,000 Albertans aged five to 11 will be eligible for the COVID-19 vaccine.

- To date in Alberta:

- o For children aged five to 11, there have been about 30,700 cases of COVID-19 diagnosed since March of 2020, with 78 of those cases ending up in hospital and 20 in intensive care.

COVID-19 in children

- Children under 12 years of age have the highest rate of new cases in Canada.

- Most cases in children are milder than adults but some kids can get very sick, have long-lasting symptoms or complications such as multisystem inflammatory syndrome in children (MIS-C).

- Children can spread the virus even if they don't have symptoms, potentially exposing vulnerable friends, family or community members.

- Each person infected with COVID-19 provides a chance for the virus to mutate and become more resistant to treatments or vaccines. Fewer infections means less chance of dangerous variants.

- The Canadian Pediatric Society recommends eligible children be vaccinated. While kids have a lower risk of severe illness, vaccines offer the best protection from getting or spreading COVID-19.

GET FULLY PROTECTED.

YOU NEED BOTH INFLUENZA AND COVID-19 VACCINES.

Children under five years of age and their households can get their influenza vaccine at an AHS clinic. Appointments are required.

All other Albertans can get their flu shot from a participating pharmacy or doctor's office.

Don't have your COVID-19 vaccine? It's safe to get influenza and COVID-19 vaccines together. Both vaccines are available at selection locations.

If you need help booking one or multiple appointments for children and family, call Health Link at 811.

MAKING CHILD CARE MORE AFFORDABLE FOR FAMILIES

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Following the signing of the historic child-care agreement with the federal government, Alberta is lowering child-care fees for working families.

Alberta's government is reducing fees for parents with kids aged zero to kindergarten in licensed daycares, preschools and family day homes.

Parents will see fees reduced by half, on average, by early 2022, with families most in need receiving additional subsidy. By 2026, families will be paying an average of $10 per day per child.

Beginning in January 2022, the government will reduce fees for more families by offering:

- Subsidies for families earning under $180,000. Parents can apply online starting in the new year.

- New operating grants for facility-based child-care programs starting in mid-January 2022. This will help providers lower fees for parents without shouldering extra costs.

“These investments will make a big difference for families, but we know that this targeted approach will also actually make sure dollars go to parents and kids who need it and really have an impact on economic recovery.”

Rebecca Schulz, Minister of Children's Services

“I'm a mom of a three year old with another one on the way. I was so excited when I heard about this plan because it means that I can use the money that I would have spent on child care in different ways, such as saving for my children's future.”

Mylissa Scutchings, Alberta parent

“My triplets are three and a half, and I work full-time. More affordable, high-quality child care will be hugely beneficial for my family now and into the future. I'm also grateful that this plan includes private and non-profit programs, because it means my kids can stay in the program that they love while my family still receives this new support.”

Aicha Camara, Alberta parent

Both the operating grants and subsidy will go to the provider who will then reduce fees for parents. The subsidy is layered in addition to the operating grant to make sure parents who need it most see greater benefits.

$170,000 to $174,999	45%	$120
$175,000 to $179,999	40%	$106

For example, a family earning $75,000 per year with one toddler attending a daycare program would be eligible for full subsidy. If the current fees are $1,000 per month, the daycare program will receive $510 per month in an operating grant and the family would be eligible for $266 per month. The remaining parent portion will be $224 per month or approximately $10 per day.

A family earning $130,000 per year with an infant attending a daycare program would be eligible for partial subsidy. If the current fees are $1,200 per month, the program will receive $635 per month in an operating grant and the family would be eligible for $226 per month in subsidy. The remaining parent portion is $339 per month or $15.60 per day.

These numbers are for licensed spaces in child-care facilities and preschools. Government is working with family day homes and family day home agencies to finalize the grants and subsidy levels for day home providers and parents in the coming weeks, but they are expected to roll out in mid-January as well.

Starting in spring 2022, the Alberta government will be making licensed child care more accessible by increasing the number of spaces to meet the anticipated demand. This includes adding spaces in locations with limited or no access to child care and making sure spaces are also available for underserved and vulnerable populations.

• $3.8 billion will be invested in child care for children kindergarten age and younger over the next five years:

- o $2.865 billion to lower child-care fees for Alberta parents

- o $240.64 million to increase the number of child-care spaces

- o $202.6 million to develop and fund child-care options to support vulnerable and diverse populations as well as children with extra needs

- o $306.16 million to support licensed programs and certified educators in offering high-quality support for families in their communities

- At least 42,500 new licensed child-care spaces will be created over the next five years.

FUNDING PALLIATIVE AND END-OF-LIFE CARE IN ALBERTA

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Grants totalling $11 million will transform palliative and end-of-life care that eases suffering for Albertans with a life-limiting illness.

In September 2020, the province announced $20 million for palliative and end-of-life care initiatives. Since then, Alberta's government has invested almost $9 million for new projects such as community hospice care, and education and training for health professionals.

The new grant program will use the remaining $11 million for projects that support four priority recommendations in the Advancing Palliative and End-of-Life Care in Alberta final report. These priorities include earlier access, education and training, community supports and services, and research and innovation.

"Accessible and compassionate palliative care requires a holistic approach from diagnosis to end of life. We're thankful for the health providers, researchers, educators, community organizations and volunteers that make compassionate care a truly 'whole of society' effort. This announcement brings us closer to keeping our promise to provide quality palliative care that eases suffering and supports families."

Jason Copping, Minister of Health

"Palliative and end-of-life care must start as early as possible for individuals with a life-limiting illness. We must support them in familiar settings as long as possible, in their homes and communities alongside their families and caregivers. Funding projects that enable this will lead to better palliative care supports and services for Albertans."

Dan Williams, MLA for Peace River

The deadline for submissions is Jan. 7, 2022, for eligible applicants. The application form, eligibility criteria and program guidelines are available online at Palliative and end-of-life care grant fund on alberta.ca.

Dan Williams, MLA for Peace River, was appointed to consult with palliative and end-of-life care Albertans and interest groups to gain further insights into the palliative care system, provide recommendations for the remaining $11 million in funding, as well as provide the final report to government.

Quick facts

- Palliative and end-of-life care is specialized medical care for adults and children diagnosed with a life-limiting illness.
- One of the government's priorities is to enhance the palliative care system for Albertans, ...

Funding Palliative And End-Of-Life Care In Alberta

... such as expanding supports for individuals and their families in their homes and communities.

The new grant program will be targeted to address the following priority outcomes:

o Albertans have earlier access to high-quality care upon diagnosis of their condition.

o Health-care providers, families, caregivers and volunteers have increased capacity to provide care and supports.

o Albertans have access to palliative and end-of-life care in their setting of choice.

o Academics, health service providers and community organizations will engage in additional research to advance navigation and care pathways.

To date, the government has invested almost $9 million of the total $20 million.

o More than $6.5 million to Covenant Health for public awareness initiatives, such as advance care planning and developing education for health-care providers.

o More than $1 million to the Alberta Hospice Palliative Care Association for in-person and online support groups for Albertans with a terminal illness, a telephone grief support service and expansion of workshops on palliative care for Albertans.

o $1 million for the government-sponsored Palliative Coverage Program to cover the costs associated with pre-filling syringes for palliative clients.

o $150,000 to Pilgrim's Hospice Society to advance community hospice care.

The government eliminated copayments for end-of-life-drugs for palliative clients that choose to remain at home or in a hospice under the Palliative Coverage Program.

One of the government's priorities is to transform the province's continuing care system to be more responsive to the needs of Albertans, which includes palliative and end-of-life care. Work is underway to expand home and community care, implementing recommended actions from the review of continuing care homes and new streamlined continuing care legislation.

Obituaries

HAZEL GERALDINE MONTY

June 27, 1934 - October 17, 2021

She is survived by her three sons, David, Michael and Gerald and her granddaughter, Miranda (Campbell). She is predeceased by her son, Kenny, and her husband, Tony, three brothers and her sister. Hazel was born in Prince Rupert, BC. She was in the RCAF for two years as Air Woman 1 (AW1), HG Paulson, Nurse Assistant, before marrying Tony on August 18, 1956, then moved to Wildwood, AB. She was a devoted mother to her children and a dedicated volunteer to the local groups in Wildwood. She helped her husband in business, making trips to pickup various items and deliveries to the jobsites. She was named Citizen of the Year in 2005; she volunteered wherever and whenever a volunteer was needed. She was an avid crafter and a gifted artisan. You could always find Hazel at the Farmers' Market, generally knitting. She loved sharing stories, laughing, travelling with friends on varied adventures and enjoying life. She babysat many children and worked casually in local businesses. Hazel lived for the times spent with all her "quilting buddies" and travelling to quilt stores. She cherished her memories and shared many with friends, generally resulting in laughter over and over. She was proud to be "Grandma Hazel" in the Grandparent Program with the Wildwood Senior Citizens Club. "Life provides Memories and Memories become Treasures. Rest easy Hazel, we shall meet again!" Celebration of Life will be at a later date. We thank the doctors, nurses and staff of the Royal Alexandra Hospital and the Drayton Valley Hospital for all they did for Hazel.

SUDOKU

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
