NEW DOWNTOWN FOSTERS ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND COMMUNITY

Submitted by Stony Plain

Stony Plain's new downtown signifies a major milestone for the community and primes Stony Plain for a future of growth. The community was joined by Knowledge Keeper Phillip Campioui, government partners, and stakeholders to celebrate the grand opening of its new downtown core on May 19.

The event marked the completion of the Downtown Redevelopment project, a five-year, $15.8 million project aimed at revitalizing the downtown area and positioning Stony Plain as a prime locale for entrepreneurial growth. Construction involved an overhaul of the downtown core, encompassing underground infrastructure replacements and upgrades, re-paving of roadways and sidewalks, pedestrian safety upgrades, and landscaping. The project is a significant milestone for Stony Plain and marks a key step in achieving the community's strategic vision to transition from a small town to a more self-sustaining urban municipality.

"Stony Plain is one of the fastest growing communities in the Edmonton Metropolitan Region, our population growing over 50 percent in the last 20 years," says Mayor William Choy. "The grand opening of the new downtown signifies Stony Plain's commitment to growing into a more connected and competitive centre that fosters innovation, cooperation and entrepreneurship."

The development project was supported by multiple levels of investment, including $5.8 million from the Government of Alberta's Municipal Sustainability Initiative and $4.2 million from the Canada Community-Building Fund.

"The Government of Alberta is pleased to have supported the downtown redevelopment in Stony Plain with funding from the Municipal Sustainability Initiative. Also, through the use of the federal Canada Community-Building Fund, our government delivers support for projects of local significance, like this one, across Alberta. The long-term vision of this revitalization will spark local economic development that contributes to a more vibrant community and Alberta's economic recovery plan," says Ric McIver, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

"I am pleased with the Town of Stony Plain's vision for our downtown to be a vibrant community and business hub.

I commend them for their commitment to its redevelopment. More than ever, and especially as we recover from COVID-19, our communities need the stable, predictable, and long-term support provided by the Canada Community-Building Fund, which became a permanent Government of Canada funding program in 2011. I know residents of Stony Plain will benefit from this investment and redevelopment for decades to come," says Dane Lloyd, MP for Sturgeon River-Parkland.

"The downtown of Stony Plain remains the cultural hub of the entire region. This incredible investment by the Government of Alberta continues to reflect our commitment to making investments that support the livelihoods of Albertans," says Searle Turton, MLA for Spruce Grove-Stony Plain.

THE SILLY SEASON

Submitted by MLA Shane Geston

I was told several times by folks who have been in politics for longer than I have that during election periods it's often called "The Silly Season". Having been through one election cycle in 2019, I got a small glimpse of what they meant, but this year: WOW. I get it now in full detail. With all of the restrictions over the last 2 years, a federal election taking place during that time, a municipal election in Alberta, a Leadership Race for the Federal Conservative Party, a leadership review of the Provincial Conservative Party, and now a leadership race kicking off for UCP members, the media is having a field day, as are some of the political figures.

Over the last week I've been in the "Big City" newspapers twice. One article read like an episode of Jerry Springer regarding a caucus meeting I was in, and just like that show of old, reality is never that exciting or dramatic. This week because of a post I made on social media about a market that took place at the Magnolia Hall showing some of the items that local folks had for sale, I again made the newspapers. Twice in one week, and now the phone lines at the office are just buzzing with outraged people, lots of folks who lean hard left that are rattling off lists of profanities, threats, and the outrage of: 'how dare I criticize the Prime Minister'. People who say that they are pro-freedom of expression, inclusion, and are 100 percent opposed to violence are in the same breath rattling off prejudicial slurs, and threatening violence. You just can't buy that kind of pure hypocrisy.

We are living though a time, in my humble opinion, where we have the most incompetent Prime Minister our country has ever seen. The outrage was fueled by a photo of a sticker that was made by a local lady, that referenced a "train station". There is no outrage on prolonged travel restrictions, ceasing bank accounts, and having people in jail since February on mischief charges, or in regard to evoking the Emergencies Act. There is no outrage for trying to pass censorship laws, or for multiple ethics violations, or driving the economy into the ground, with a massive trillion-dollar deficit. Perhaps there are $600 million reasons why the corporate media is passing a blind eye to all of this.

Here is something that many may find hard to believe: I don't watch television. We don't have cable, or satellite TV. Since free TV is no longer available over the airwaves, that is out as well. You see, about 11 years ago my wife and I stepped away from paid TV. Not out of principle, but because she and I had a bit of an engineering dispute, and since we are both stubborn, neither of us gave in.

After being up in the bucket of the backhoe in the middle of winter, on an extension ladder, communicating over a walkie talkie trying to adjust the satellite dish for an hour, while she gave me direction on which way to move the dish, and having bad communications the entire time, I quit. I suggested she get Bell to do it, because I was not going to break my neck over TV and I wasn't going to waste more of my home time trying to get it just right. After several failed attempts by Bell to bring a long enough ladder themselves to adjust the dish, she too gave up. No more satellite TV.

We then just decided to buy DVDs, when we wanted to see a movie, and although water cooler conversations on POP culture have never been quite the same, in the big scheme of things, it never really hampered my life. We have a TELUS hub now, and streaming is not exactly the best, so we get our clips here and there from the internet. Our entertainment at home is reading books, buying movies, being outside, learning to play instruments, or making things with the kids. So, when it comes to a series called Yellowstone...I kind of get the high-level overview from others.

In my former industry, I have heard several colorful, and imaginative ways to describe having one's employment position being terminated. At no one given time, did I ever take these references to be a threat to the person's life. Being "Ran Off", "Fired", "Gunned", "Gassed", "Frog Marched", "Punted", "Bounced" were just some of the ways I've heard to describe a person's contract, or employment coming to an abrupt close.

Recently speaking with a young married mother of two about her home-based business at a craft show, many familiar points of recent conversations were repeated several times. They were in regard to the rising costs of life, covid restriction impacts, inflation, and challenges small farms and businesses face. I did not think that the signs or stickers she had made, had any nefarious meaning or malicious intent. In fact, I found that several of her items used humor to deal with those frustrations, and from the reactions of others at the craft show, they took it the same way. I thought the play on words and the sticker showing folks riding horses, being requested to take someone who is ultra-green to a well-known mode of public transport, given that this same individual is responsible for driving the costs of life through the roof, and that folks are having trouble at the gas pumps with the cost of fuel, was quite witty. I took it as "We need to fire this guy, get rid of him, because he is doing a terrible job!" I sure as heck didn't take it that this mother of 2 was suggesting someone take a hit out on the Prime Minister.

So why did this all go sideways? Ah yes, enter "The Silly Season". When something gets negative attention on social media, we have communications folks that help us MLAs navigate through the swamp; as social never sleeps, yet we do. I received a call from them several days after posting pictures of the local event, and they too needed to look up the reference that was causing people such a concern. My swamp navigators advised that there was a story looming and wanted to give me the heads up. After they told me the reference, I told them I'd pull down the post which happened to contain the "Train Station" sticker made by the young mother of 2, that was only one of 8 pictures from the event that day. However, that story was just too juicy for some, and they decided that it needed the attention of the public.

The real issues, that most people are calling my office about, however, are in regard to the rising fuel costs, inflation, and rising interest rates. People are still very concerned about the travel restrictions imposed in our country, when all other countries are taking them away. People are concerned about the quality of education and what real challenges our youth are experiencing. They are concerned with property rights, personal freedoms, and the struggles we have ahead of us in order to be considered a meaningful part of a country with our Federal Government seeming to drive a wedge between us at any opportunity.

Why are the papers not covering that? I believe that it is because the 'Silly Season' is upon us, and it is way easier to run a story that keeps people distracted, and an outspoken rural MLA makes it far too easy for them. So for the remainder of the 'Silly Season' I'll keep my sticker posts to a minimum, and possibly watch more TV to educate myself. This will give the corporate media free time to report on the absolute dumpster fire that the Liberal / NDP alliance has caused in our country, so that the rest of us can all work toward getting our country back to normal.

MORE SUPPORTS FOR STUDENTS AFFECTED BY THE PANDEMIC

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is investing an additional $113 million to provide targeted supports for students experiencing both academic and mental health challenges.

As part of the Alberta Child and Youth Well-being Action Plan and through Budget 2022, Alberta's government is allocating an additional $110 million over three years to address mental health, specialized assessments and learning loss supports. Alberta's government will also reintroduce a pilot program to provide $3 million to non-profit organizations to lead innovative school nutrition projects next school year.

"Alberta's government helped students with increased supports when they needed them most during the pandemic. Now, as we emerge from that difficult time, we will continue to fund initiatives that build resiliency and improve students' well-being. We are committed to Alberta's recovery by providing supports to students. This will have long-lasting positive impacts for students and will be integral to the future prosperity of the province."

Adriana LaGrange, Minister of Education

"The last couple years have been challenging for all but especially for children and youth. We're taking action across government to expand and provide a variety of more consistent supports for kids and families."

Rebecca Schulz, Minister of Children's Services

Mental health

The Government of Alberta has allocated up to $10 million per year for 2022-23 and 2023-24 to support pilot projects focused on improving delivery of mental health supports and services for students, and tools, training and resources for the school community. Understanding and promoting positive mental health in schools is a shared responsibility of parents, educators and community partners.

"A comprehensive and coordinated approach is the best way to promote positive mental health. Current research clearly identifies the importance of mental health to learning, as well as to students' social and emotional development. Students and staff who experience positive mental health are resilient and better able to learn, achieve success and build healthy relationships."

Specialized assessments

Alberta's government is also investing up to $10 million per year for 2022-23 and 2023-24 to support increased access to specialized assessments. This includes funding to ensure children and students, who may not have had access to specialized assessments during the pandemic, can be assessed by qualified professionals including speech language pathologists, physical therapists, occupational therapists or psychologists.

"Alberta School Boards Association appreciates government's announcement of supports to address challenges due to the pandemic, including mental health and... "

GOLFER'S GUIDE

DRIVE HOME A WINNING GOLF TOURNAMENT

The arrival of warmer weather has many Canadians dreaming of the hitting the local golf course. It is also the time that many companies, organizations, charities and other groups start planning their golf tournaments.

Hosting a golf tournament is a great way to entertain customers, thank employees or raise funds for your group. While there are many details to arrange, organizing such an event doesn't have to be distressing.

Experts recommend that you cover the basics first. Picking the right date and a course that is suitable for your group is the first priority. The earlier you do this the better as you will get a wider selection of dates and courses.

Ensuring your guests are well fed and hydrated out on the course should be another priority. In the heat of summer, a good supply food and non-alcoholic beverages will ensure your participants enjoy a healthy and safe round.

What about prizes? The excitement of winning something is always a big draw, so hit up local businesses, suppliers, business partners and friends for prize donations.

To take your tournament to the next level, you could offer hole-in-one prizes such as a car, boat, trips or cash. "Adding big prizes to your golf tournament doesn't have to be an expensive or worrisome endeavour," says Andrea Martin, Senior Underwriting Manager, Wayfarer Insurance. "You can get insurance coverage that will pay for the prize in the event that a golfer hits an ace."

One of the biggest tips is speak to the professionals at the golf course where you book your tournament. Often courses will have staff to assist you, or at least literature that will help you plan a successful event.

First Responders Appreciation

On May 27th, 2022, Council of Alberta Beach, Sunset Point and Val Quentin held a recognition ceremony for our first responders. Alberta Beach Council had been challenged by the town of Onoway to recognize our First Responder and Council was pleased to be able to take them up on the challenge. Our first responders were presented with posters, signed by community members residents. The community had been invited to sign the posters to show their appreciation, and they sure showed up, there was barely any free space left by the time they were done. The students at Grasmere School also showed their appreciation with banners, artwork, and poetry. Thank you to everyone who signed the posters or attended the event. Thank you to the students and staff of Grasmere School. Most importantly, thank you to the Parkland RCMP, Onoway Regional Fire Services, and Alberta Beach EMS Responders for your commitment and dedication to the safety and wellbeing of our community. We are proud to honour your service.

...the long-term effects of learning loss. These assessments are critical for student success and targeted supports will assist school boards as they continue to make informed decisions based on the needs of their local school communities.”

Marilyn Dennis, president, Alberta School Boards Association

Learning loss supports Assessing students in the critical early years of their education is key for ensuring long-term learning success and ensuring early interventions are in place to prevent future learning challenges. Up to $10 million for the 2022-23 school year, as a one-time extension of the 2021-22 funding, will support additional interventions for students in grades 2-4 to continue getting back on track.

School authorities must have participated in the 2021-22 learning loss funding program and filed their required year-end report with Alberta Education by June 15 to qualify for the extension funding. They will be required to administer literacy and numeracy screening assessments selected from the approved list. This approved list was made available in April when the government announced that school authorities will be required to administer literacy and numeracy screening assessments starting in September 2022.

“Today’s funding announcement is evidence of the government’s continued focus on enhancing student success. Increasing access to specialized assessments and mental health supports will directly impact learning, achievement, and overall well-being for Alberta’s children.”

Wilco Tymensen, president, College of Alberta School Superintendents

School nutrition

Alberta’s government will also reintroduce a pilot program to provide $3 million to non-profit organizations to lead innovative school nutrition projects during the 2022-23 school year. As part of Alberta’s Recovery Plan, non-profit organizations selected through a call for proposals will collaborate with schools to pilot innovative ways to support vulnerable youth and reduce operating costs and the administrative burden on schools while ensuring students receive healthy, balanced meals.

“I’m pleased to see non-profits and civil society coming together with Alberta’s schools to improve outcomes for vulnerable children. I’m confident these partnerships can be extremely effective and informative in helping ensure students receive the quality food they need to succeed.”

Jeremy Nixon, parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Community and Social Services for Civil Society

Alberta Education will also explore research partnerships to investigate ways to improve school nutrition in Alberta.

RESPOND TO COLLISION INVOLVING STOLEN SCHOOL BUS

Submitted by Parkland RCMP

Parkland RCMP continue to investigate a collision involving a stolen school bus on Highway 43 in Lac Ste. Anne County. The collision occurred just west of the intersection between Highway 43 and Highway 33. The school bus was left locked but unattended with the keys inside, parked on the road near Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton. Further details will be provided once charges have been laid.

PREVENTING FALLS FROM WINDOWS AND BALCONIES

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

In the past year, 39 children were brought to emergency departments in Alberta due to window and balcony fall-related injuries. Every year, this type of child injury results in Emergency Medical Services calls, emergency department visits, and in serious cases, hospitalization or even death. With the return of warmer weather, many people will want to open their windows and doors. However, open windows and balcony doors can be hazardous for young children.

Parents and guardians are encouraged to take safety precautions to prevent falls from windows or balconies:

- Beware of open windows. Remember, screens are not strong enough to keep in children.
- Install window guards on all windows on the second floor and above. These act like gates in front of windows.

• Consider installing safety devices that limit the distance to which a window can open to a maximum of 10 cm (four inches).

- Safety devices should be able to release quickly in case of an emergency.
- Ensure your balcony's vertical railings are not more than 10 cm (four inches) apart.
- Move furniture such as cribs, beds, stools and change tables away from windows to prevent access to the windows. Outside, remember that furniture and other items stored on balconies and decks can be used to climb, resulting in a fall over a railing. It's best to remove these if you have children at home.

Toddlers and preschoolers are at highest risk of falling from a window, or balcony, but falls may happen at any age. Direct supervision of children is the most effective way to prevent falls and other childhood injuries.

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
