MISSING IN ACTION!

from the highway continued to grow louder and louder and we asked ourselves if our little protest was doing any good? It wasn't long before we realized that the horns grew louder and longer as vehicles began to pull off the highway to visit.

We had already shared our own horror stories of Job Loss, Lockouts, Separation, Segregation, Coercion, Discrimination and Jab Injury. We found passers by pulling off the highway to share their stories with anyone that would listen. I don't believe any of us were ready for this but we all learned that all we had to do was Listen, Hug and Cry over & over again as the vehicles came and went. Everyone just wanted to share their stories with someone that would not judge, discriminate or tell them that this was all normal so just get Jabbed and get over it!

Collin "porta potty" seen in the picture played a very large role as strangers wiped away their tears and took a quick break before continuing their journey. Those of us at the Freedom Field also found refuge with Collin as we could stay longer and welcome more visitors.

We are sad to say Collin "and its contents" have been stolen from the Freedom Field. This greatly shortens the time any of us or our highway visitors can stay and share Stories, Tears & Hugs.

To the "???" that stole Collin, you have no idea what you have done! You are a Thief pure & simple much like the individuals in this country and around the world that seek to steal our freedom among other things. PS. If you are the proud new owner of Collin you should know you bought from a Thief!

If whoever stole Collin had a conscience, Collin would reappear in the morning light and life would go on. PS, bring it back clean, it will be easier on your back.

Signed: Ken, one of 744 proud members of the Yellowstone Freedom Field.

DECEMBER REGULATED NATURAL GAS RATE REMAINS STEADY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's natural gas rate remains stable for December, with protection in place to shield Albertans from future price spikes.

Alberta's economy has recovered strongly, but Albertans are struggling to heat their homes and feed their families and the government wants to help.

In the coming weeks, Alberta's government will announce new measures to increase protection from natural gas and electricity price spikes this winter, all part of the Affordability Action Plan.

Alberta's natural gas rebate program continues to offer price protection for Albertans from volatile natural gas prices. As December's highest monthly default natural gas rate will be $6.167 per gigajoule, the rebate will not be triggered.

How the rebate works

To support natural gas consumers this winter, the natural gas rebate program is ready and in place to protect Albertans. The exact rebate amount that consumers will receive depends on the default natural gas rate each month.

Should the monthly default natural gas rate from any of the regulated utility providers (ATCO Gas North and ATCO Gas South, as served by Direct Energy Regulated Services or Apex Utilities) exceed $6.50 per gigajoule, the government will provide rebates to all eligible consumers covering the difference. For example, if the highest regulated rate is $7.50, eligible consumers would get a rebate of $1 for every gigajoule used in that month.

More than 1.6 million Albertans are eligible for a rebate, including consumers connected to the natural gas distribution system and those not connected to the natural gas distribution system but using natural gas, propane, kerosene or heating oil for heating purposes. More details can be found in the affordability programs section on alberta.ca.

THE TARGET AREAS

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

Every good company has a Mission Statement and a Vision. These are intended to be the guiding principles to fall back on: an optimal standard for all that are part of the organization to aspire to. A healthy business plan, prudent management, customer service, quality products, great staff, strong leadership, and adaptability are all ingredients in the recipe of a successful company. Solid controls and process typically fill in the blanks so that organizations will succeed even when there are personal changes; with planning and foresight an appropriate succession plan can be thrown in the mix for when the founders want to retire.

I'm used to that world; it gives me comfort when those types of controls and structure are being used to meet the needs of Albertans. When we use the wisdom of the provincial motto that our founding fathers created many years ago, it's a touchstone that can be said with pride when things are going well, and in times of real challenges we can use it to ground ourselves as a reminder of what needs to be done. Strong and Free. Freedom and Strength. When we have that, most everything else will fall into place.

With the recent leadership changes, restructuring of the organization, prioritizing our pillars, and utilizing our full bench strength, that theme of Strong and Free is going to be very relevant in everything that we execute as a team in representing this great province. There have been four committee groups formed that include full participation from all the elected representatives, MLAs and Ministers alike, that will concentrate on 6 basic pillars, supporting that Strong and Free vision for our province.

These include Economy and Affordability, Alberta First, Social Services, Building Communities, Legislative Review, and Treasury

Board cabinet committees. The pervasive theme to address the needs of Albertans will be focused within the Economy and Affordability, Alberta First, and Building Communities committees.

Economy and Affordability: Targeting the current inflation and affordability challenge is of the highest importance, as they will be dealing with 'Justinflation', logistic challenges, cost of energy, and cost of services. The team has all been rolling up their shirtsleeves and diving into this right away, and now that the full team is being used, the results are not only going to be timely, but practical. Short term relief is imminent, while looking at correcting the mid-term and long-range elements to fix the issues, not just promoting pitches with neat catch phrases.

Alberta First: This one should be self-explanatory. The goal is to ensure that everything that we do looks at what is in the best interest of Alberta, not just now, but for future generations as well. Federal overreach has been creeping in more and more in recent years, and this government strongly believes that those strings need to be clipped. Most would rather keep our wealth here, rather than have it recycled and given back to us at a lesser value, with hidden controls being implied. Albertans would rather work hard and pay their own way, than to give away their freedoms to be dependent on a federal government scheme. We will work hard to ensure that we collaborate with the other provinces that feel the same way, and recognize not only their position in the country, but ours as well. Prairie provinces need to work more closely, and ensure we have strong relationships and economic ties. We need to make sure that our territorial neighbors to the north are not left out, and that we only strengthen our ties for mutual growth and development for generations to come.

Building Communities: Keeping what we have, building on it, and making sure we have a sustainable future that is inclusive of both urban and rural objectives. Giving Albertans and Canadians a chance to all be a part of the Alberta Advantage. Economic corridors fit squarely within this area, and I am very happy to be part of this committee. I strongly believe that when we tie communities together, everyone wins. When we work alone in silos, we will inevitably fail. Healthcare reforms also ensure we have the services that we need when we need them, directly contributing to the longevity of any community.

I am happy to say that the several caucus and committee meetings that we've had have been extremely productive; we are firing on all cylinders again. It turns out that a leadership change is just what the doctor ordered. It's great to see the team pulling together again, and I'm happy to be part of an energized and enthusiastic group that has the absolute best interest of Albertans at heart. We are all feeling empowered again to make a difference to our province, and to ensure that we remain Strong and Free.

SUDOKU

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
