Message from the President:

It was a full house for the Veterans' Dinner on May 4 at the Onoway Legion.

Although we do our best to get, and keep updated, a list of veterans in our community, no one is perfect. We regret that a few veterans were missed for this celebration and hope those people will be able to attend next year.

We also honour community veterans at each Friday night dinner, inviting three veterans, along with a guest, to enjoy a meal on the house at our special Veterans' Table. If you are a local veteran, and especially if we missed inviting you last week, we want to invite you to be our guest at a future Veterans' Table. Please contact the legion at 780-967-5361 to ensure your information is on our growing list of veterans.

Did you know: If you are still waiting for your membership card or sticker you can now pick them up at the bar. Not a member. Why not visit www.legion.ca and join today. Anyone 18 years or older can join the Royal Canadian Legion. Help support Canada's Veterans and the community while participating in some great benefits.

up their final projects to submit for judging.

Remember to come to see all seven lifeskills projects displaying their year's work at Life skills Achievement day on June 8th. The open house is from 1-3 pm at the Cherhill Community Hall.

The sheep project leaders went on tour to everyone's houses to see where the lambs live, what they eat, and to meet the other sheep on the members' farms. The sheep members attended Mini Livestock Achievement Day in Darwell this past weekend to have their sheep sheared and to practice for the real Beef and Sheep Achievement Day being held June 3rd at the Mayerthorpe Ag Grounds.

The beef project watched a grooming and showmanship video and attended the "Where's the Beef" workshop. These members are busy halter training their cows for livestock achievement day on June third, and also attended Mini Achievement Day in Darwell.

In other news, we have the scores back from Consumer and Livestock Multi Judging in March, and several of our club members have placed, including our very own club president, Anthony Bouious.

For community service

our club is scheduled to clean the Cherhill hall, do some roadside cleanup, and prepare the Cherhill sports grounds in advance of Cherhill Fun Days. We will also be participating a tire recycling campaign on June 9th. Hopefully we get good weather for those important events!

Thank you for reading and have a good day.

HELPING COMMUNITIES SAVE MONEY, LOWER ENERGY COSTS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's new $6-million program will help municipalities make energy-saving upgrades, reducing costs and emissions.

Arenas, community centres and other facilities consume large amounts of energy. These facilities can be costly to operate and upgrades are often expensive to implement. With inflation and energy costs on the rise, many municipalities want to improve energy efficiency and save money.

Thanks to funding from the Alberta government, municipalities can now apply to the Community Energy Conservation Program to make energy-efficient upgrades to municipally owned buildings. This will help communities of all sizes save energy, lower energy costs and reduce emissions.

Helping Communities Save Money, Lower Energy Costs

ities make the practical upgrades they need to increase energy efficiency and lower energy costs. By making upgrades to rec centres, arenas and community halls, we can reduce emissions while supporting growing communities for years to come.”

Rebecca Schulz, Minister of Environment and Protected Areas

Under the new Community

Energy Conservation Program, up to $500,000 is available per municipality, including community-related organizations. The funding can be used for recreation centres, libraries, community halls, transit centres, fire halls and waste water treatment facilities, among others.

“Local facilities, from community halls to hockey rinks, are at the heart of every municipality in Alberta. Urban or rural, large or small or mid-sized, the municipalities of Alberta have been calling for an energy conservation program to make a difference in their communities. I am looking forward to seeing this program in action and to see the efficiencies and savings it will create at the local level.”

Ric McIver, Minister of Municipal Affairs

Communities can apply for funding to help conduct energy audits of existing community facilities. They can also receive funding for a wide range of projects, including upgrading insulation, heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems, interior and exterior lighting, and more. Municipalities are encouraged to visit the Municipal Climate Change Action Centre’s website for more information.

“This funding will empower municipalities across Alberta to reduce emissions and energy costs in municipal buildings, thereby supporting sustainable and thriving communities for generations to come. Alberta Municipalities is proud to be the lead partner for the Municipal Climate Change Action Centre and is thankful for the continued support from the Government of Alberta.”

Tyler Gandam, president, Alberta Municipalities

The Community Energy Conservation Program is part of an $18-million investment by Alberta’s government to help reduce costs for municipalities through the Municipal Climate Change Action Centre. It is part of Alberta’s Emissions Reduction and Energy Development Plan, which is reducing emissions, creating jobs and supporting a strong economy.

“The Community Energy Conservation Program provides an opportunity for rural municipalities, which may otherwise not have access to funding, to improve the energy efficiency of their buildings. This will allow rural municipalities to continue to fund their core services while reducing their energy usage.”

SUPPORTING COMMUNITY JUSTICE INITIATIVES

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is investing $961,000 to support community justice initiatives that serve the unique needs of Alberta communities.

Resolving legal matters outside the traditional court system is faster, cheaper and less stressful for everyone involved. The Alberta Community Justice Grant reflects the Alberta government's commitment to making the justice system more accessible, inclusive and responsive to the needs of the province's diverse communities. It will give more options for resolving criminal, family and civil justice matters through a process that is culturally sensitive and aligns with people's values.

For the 2023-24 fiscal year, 39 grant recipients from across the province were selected to receive grant funding, including nine in Calgary, nine in Edmonton, five in southern Alberta, 11 in central Alberta and five in northern Alberta. The organizations support families and communities and include Indigenous-based organizations, as well as those dedicated to criminal matters, family law matters and multiple other legal issues.

"I am proud of this innovative approach to alternative justice for Albertans.

This grant will support organizations to boost community-driven alternatives to the formal court system to better serve their communities."

Mickey Amery, Minister of Justice and Attorney General

The Alberta Community Justice Grant provides up to $25,000 in one-time payments to organizations that provide community-based initiatives aimed at addressing a range of legal issues. These include the development or enhancement of restorative justice programs and increasing access to justice in family law matters.

Other programs include initiatives that provide cultural safety training to justice system professionals, increase access to legal information for new Canadians, and carry out assessments to identify justice needs and service gaps within the community.

"Youth Justice Committees across Alberta provide meaningful community-based alternatives to the formal justice system by helping young people to make amends for their actions, access needed resources and contribute in a positive way to their community. This grant will amplify this restorative approach, resulting in immediate and long-lasting benefits for young people, their families, victims, our justice system and our communities."

Denise Blair, executive director, Calgary Youth Justice Society

"The Fort Foundation Community Justice Hub empowers individuals to navigate the complexities of the legal system. We are deeply honoured to receive the Alberta Community Justice Grant, which will enable us to expand our community-driven programs and increase access to equitable justice in Fort Saskatchewan and Rural Communities."

Sarah Spence, executive director, Fort Foundation

"This grant will allow staff from our agency, along with the YMCA staff, to increase their knowledge related to restorative justice practices and Indigenous teachings, which will enhance and deepen our work with the youth in the Diversion First program."

DROUGHT AND FLOOD PROTECTION PROGRAM NOW OPEN

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's new Drought and Flood Protection Program is now accepting applications for projects to help protect homes, businesses and lives.

Many parts of Alberta have experienced flooding in recent years, while others have seen water shortages and may face severe drought this year. Many communities need assistance in developing the expensive local infrastructure needed to protect residents from extreme weather events.

To help, Alberta's government is launching the new $125-million Drought and Flood Protection Program. Municipalities and Indigenous communities across the province can now apply for funding to improve their drought and flood resilience and adapt to severe weather.

"We are helping communities build the infrastructure they need to help protect people's homes and keep businesses going during droughts or floods. These emergencies can devastate public infrastructure and private property, damage the environment, disrupt our economy and put lives at risk. That's why I encourage any and all communities to apply."

Rebecca Schulz, Minister of Environment and Protected Areas

The Drought and Flood Protection Program builds on the work of the Alberta

Community Resilience Program. This year, $25 million is being made available for projects to benefit communities across the province that are facing drought and flood. Another $100 million will be available for funding over the next four years, with applications accepted each year.

The Drought and Flood Protection Program will help communities design and construct projects that protect critical infrastructure from drought and flooding and help ensure public safety is protected. This could include important drought-related projects to improve water storage, upgrading open-ditch irrigation canals to reduce water loss through evaporation, or relocating water intakes to help communities access water during dry periods. It could also include flood-related projects, such as berms, flood walls and other infrastructure.

Applications for shovel-ready projects are strongly encouraged, but all projects that meet the eligibility criteria will be considered for funding. All municipalities, Improvement Districts, Special Areas, Metis Settlements and First Nations are eligible to apply by June 6, 2024.

SUPPORTING WILDLAND FIREFIGHTING HEROES

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Families of wildland firefighters are now eligible for Alberta's Heroes' Fund.

Alberta's first responders put their lives on the line each day to protect their communities. The Alberta Heroes' Fund for First Responders (Heroes' Fund) was established in 2020 to recognize those risks and sacrifices. Alberta is the only province with a fund of this kind. It provides a one-time, tax-free payment of $100,000 to eligible families of first responders who have lost their lives performing their duties, such as police officers, paramedics and firefighters.

Alberta's government is now expanding the fund's eligibility, through an order-in-council, to include the families of fallen wildland firefighters.

"There is no higher form of public service than to risk one's life to maintain public safety, and Alberta's government is honouring that. Being eligible for the Heroes' Fund recognizes the great risks our wildland firefighters take to protect our lives and communities. While I know the payment cannot bring back their loved ones, it will help ease the burdens for families of fallen wildland firefighters."

Matt Jones, Minister of Jobs, Economy and Trade

Eligibility for Heroes' Fund payments now extend to workers who fight, suppress or extinguish a wildfire, such as firefighters on the ground and helicopter and water bomber crews. The Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) is responsible for determining eligibility on a case-by-case basis.

"These fallen wildland firefighters and their families have made the ultimate sacrifice while protecting the people and communities of Alberta and their sacrifice will not be forgotten. This monetary support will never be enough, but it is hoped that it will ease some of the financial burden facing families who must deal with the loss of a loved one."

James MacKinnon, wildland director, Canadian Fallen Firefighters Foundation

In addition to wildland firefighters, those eligible for Heroes' Fund payments include the families of structural firefighters employed by a municipality or Metis Settlement, police officers, sheriffs, provincial correctional officers and paramedics.

"I'm proud that we're expanding the province's Heroes' Fund to include our wildland firefighters. They go to work every day, knowing the sacrifice they and their families may be faced with. Albertans owe a debt of gratitude to the brave men and women who work tirelessly throughout the wildfire season to protect our communities and forests."

TRAPPING SEASON IS NOW UNDERWAY

Exercise caution and keep dogs leashed in common trap areas

The County has begun setting beaver traps in problematic locations (ditches and ravines).

Residents are strongly encouraged to keep their pets on leashes if they plan to venture into ditches. If you encounter a beaver trap, do not go near or touch it; a beaver trap is a dangerous device.

If you are trapping beavers, please make sure to follow the Code of Responsible Trapping, available at albertaregulations.ca.

Finally, as stated in the 2024-25 Alberta Guide to Trapping Regulations - "Fur-bearing animals must be trapped using methods that are proven to avoid unnecessary pain and suffering. The manner in which animals are trapped is a concern of many Albertans, including trappers."

PARKLAND RCMP REQUESTS ASSISTANCE FROM THE PUBLIC

Submitted by Parkland RCMP

On April 29, 2024 at about 4:30 pm, Parkland RCMP began an investigation into a complaint of objects being launched at vehicles, where in this case, a school bus was struck.

Parkland RCMP are requesting assistance from the public who may have private dashcam footage while travelling along Golf Course Road, between Fairway Drive and Highway 628 on April 29, 2024 between 3:30 pm – 4:30 pm.

Police are also interested if the public has noticed any suspicious activity on or near Golf Course Road during the weekdays between the same time frame. Throwing or launching anything toward the highway at oncoming vehicles is extremely dangerous and it can cause serious harm to vehicle drivers, passengers and/or pedestrians. Police would like to speak with anyone who may have information about this event or dashcam footage, as this is a serious public safety concern.

PARKLAND RCMP INVESTIGATE CHILD LURING SEEKING TO IDENTIFY ADDITIONAL VICTIMS

Submitted by Parkland RCMP

On April 22, 2024, Parkland RCMP began investigating a complaint of child luring and sexual assault of a youth. The fast-evolving investigation included two judicial authorizations to search an Edmonton residence and a motor vehicle. With the assistance of the ZEBRA Centre and the Parkland RCMP General Investigation Section, on April 24, 2024, Parkland RCMP arrested and charged a 29-year-old male. Resources have been provided to support the family and the victim.

Edmonton resident, Kendrick Bozman (29) has been charged with:

- Sexual Interference;

Bozman was brought before a Justice of the Peace and he was released on a release order with conditions on April 25, 2024. His next court appearance is on May 8, 2024, at the Alberta Court of Justice in Stony Plain.

Police are investigating the possibility that there could be additional victims in Alberta. In this case the victim and suspect were not known to each other and that Snapchat was utilized to lure the youth. Bozman utilizes the Snapchat profile name “Dagshelgr” and police advise that it is not uncommon for perpetrators to utilize alternative social media platforms and different user names. Police encourage parents to talk to their children about this incident and immediately report to the police if there has been any contact with Bozman.

Police also encourage parents to talk to their children about internet safety. Parkland RCMP encourages the public, including parents, families and youth to visit the Canadian Centre for Child Protection website for additional resources.

To protect the identity of the youth, there is a publication ban, and the victim cannot be named.

Spring HOME RENO GUIDE

ARRANGE FURNITURE, DESIGN ROOMS MORE EASILY

Redesigning a room can involve several steps, from choosing a paint palette to taking down walls to buying new furniture. When it comes time to put the space back together, finding an appealing furniture arrangement or layout renovation that maximizes space efficiently can be challenging if it requires moving heavy pieces of furniture around. To make such tasks easier, homeowners can rely on a bevy of room-designing apps that enable one to manipulate a room in the digital realm.

Some people have great spatial reasoning and can work out designs in their head or by plotting items on graph paper. But many homeowners may need a little extra help. By figuring out a floor plan, anyone can start laying out their furniture and other design elements.

Room planners come in various forms, from free downloads available through popular furniture companies to pay-for-use, third-party software. The following are some the more popular room planners homeowners can utilize.

- Amikasa: This app enables users to create room layouts using furniture and more from real brands. It features a walk-through mode so you can take a virtual tour afterwards.

- Autodesk Homestyler: Brought to you by the company that produces professional design programs for architects and designers, like AutoCAD, Autodesk and Revit, this user-friendly technology allows you to create 3D renderings and move around furniture, decorative items, appliances, and other elements right in the app.

- Floor Plan Creator: Start with the Continued on Page 15

basics by plotting out precise and accurate floor plans. This app enables you to create multiple floor rooms in 3D and get automatic figures for perimeters, walls and more.

• Ikea Home Planner Tools: The free, easy-to-use home planner tool from the popular furniture giant enables you to see how items from the store can look in your space - before you bring it home. The Kitchen Planner from the company also makes it simple to enter Ikea components and see how much the proposed kitchen design may cost.

• Magic Plan: This is another popular feature-filled app for planning designs. The technology even allows you to take a picture of your existing room and create floor plans.

• Planner 5D: This is an extensive room-design tool that helps you design rooms down to the smallest architectural details. It also can be taken outdoors for landscaping and pools, utilizing 3D graphics.

• Room Scan Pro: This app draws floor plans simply by having you hold the phone up to a wall. The software will then scan the circumference and plot out the requisite measurements.

These are just a few of the room planners that can make it easier to see what a finished design product may one day look like.

ANTIMICROBIAL TILES HELP CREATE SANITARY SPACES

Tile can be a worthy addition to rooms with potential moisture issues or areas in a home that may routinely necessitate quick cleanup. Because they are not damaged by constant contact with water, tiled floors and walls are often found in bathrooms, kitchens, laundry rooms, and entryways.

Although tile is resilient, it is not impervious to the microorganisms that tend to proliferate in areas where moisture and humidity are commonplace. Microbes can grow rapidly in warm areas, especially if food is present. Mold or mildew issues also can become problematic seemingly overnight. But certain modifications can help homeowners alleviate the proliferation of microorganisms.

Various manufacturers have developed their own innovative tile that contributes to cleaner, and sometimes more eco-friendly, home environments. The application of certain treatments can make ceramic tiles even more impervious to water and moisture. Some tile may help reduce the spread of certain strains of bacteria, such as E. coli and staph, without requiring the application of potentially harsh chemical detergents. Others treatments may protect against yeast, molds and fungi that can cause stains and odors and result in the degradation of tile.

Antimicrobial products inhibit the growth of microorganisms and suppress their reproduction. For example, tiles with Microban protection employ an antimicrobial agent built into the product during the manufacturing process. When microbes touch the product surface, the agent penetrates the cell wall of the micro-organism. Other tiles are treated with micrometric particles of titanium dioxide (TiO2), which is activated by sunlight or artificial light. This causes a photocatalysis process, which is responsible for the product's antipollution and bactericidal properties. Examples of TiO2-treated tiles include Active Clean Air & Antibacterial Ceramic.

Antimicrobial ceramic tile can be advantageous in rooms where sanitation and hygiene are an utmost priority. This includes not only public places, but private residences. Worktops and floors where microbes can be transferred are particularly beneficial areas to install antimicrobial tile.

A potential side effect of antimicrobial tile is a reduction in reliance on harsh cleaning products. Although regular washing is recommended, residents may not need to use odoriferous or strong chemical cleaners to sanitize their homes. This helps improve indoor air quality and reduce the potential contamination of the environment from chemical runoff.

Homeowners thinking of installing antimicrobial tile in their homes should discuss their options with a tile retailer or contractor during the planning stages.

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!
