STONY PLAIN FIRE DEPARTMENT KICKS OFF FIRE PREVENTION WEEK: EMPHASIZING SMOKE ALARM SAFETY

Submitted by Town of Stony Plain

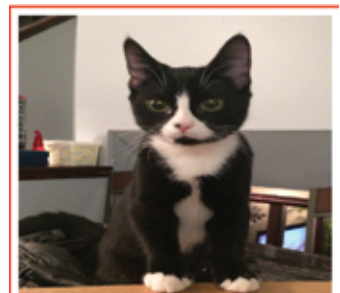

The Stony Plain Fire Department (SPFD) is teaming up with the National Fire Protection Association® (NFPA®—the official sponsor of Fire Prevention Week™ (FP-WTM)—to promote this year’s FPW campaign, “Smoke alarms: Make them work for you!™” The campaign works to educate everyone about the importance of having working smoke alarms in the home.

According to NFPA, smoke alarms reduce the risk of dying in a home fire by more than half (54 percent). Meanwhile, roughly three out of five fire deaths happen in homes with either no smoke alarms or no working smoke alarms.

The Stony Plain Fire Department encourages all residents to actively support the 2024 FPW theme, "Working smoke alarms can make a life-saving difference in a home fire, giving people the time to get out safely," says Chief Nesbitt. "This year's Fire Prevention Week campaign is a great way to remind everyone about these messages and to act on them."

Mayor William Choy added, "Fire Prevention Week is a perfect time to remind our community about the life-saving role of working smoke alarms. I encourage all residents to take a few moments to ensure their smoke alarms are working and to participate in the safety initiatives led by our dedicated Fire Department."

Smoke Alarm Safety Tips and Guidelines:

Install smoke alarms in every bedroom, outside each separate sleeping area (like a hallway), and on each level (including the basement) of the home.

Make sure smoke alarms meet the needs of all family members, including those with sensory or physical disabilities.

Test smoke alarms at least once a month by pushing the test button.

Spring forward or fall back, don't let safety slack—change smoke alarm batteries when you adjust your clocks for time change.

Replace all smoke alarms when they are 10 years old.

The Stony Plain Fire Department is hosting a series of events in support of Fire Prevention Week:

ENHANCING EARLY DETECTION OF CERVICAL CANCER

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is piloting a project that will allow Albertans to screen themselves for cervical cancer using a take-home kit.

Early detection of cancer is crucial to saving lives, and Alberta's government continues to prioritize opportunities that make early detection more accessible and convenient. When it comes to cervical cancer, the majority of cases are preventable with routine screening and treatment.

As part of the Cervical Cancer Screening Program, Alberta's government, along with partners

Alberta Health Services (AHS) and Alberta Precision Labs, has launched a pilot project to look at innovative ways to expand cancer screening opportunities for Albertans. The pilot project will invite eligible Albertans to participate, including Indigenous people and individuals living in rural and remote communities.

"We know cervical cancer is almost entirely preventable with routine immunization and regular screening, which is why this pilot project is so important. This represents a vital next step towards eliminating cervical cancer altogether."

Adriana LaGrange, Minister of Health

The cervix self-screening test is a more predictive test than routine pap testing. It detects high-risk strains of human papillomavirus (HPV), identifying individuals at risk for developing abnormal cervical cells, allowing for early treatment to prevent cancer.

The test kits contain the supplies people need to test themselves safely at home or wherever they are most comfortable. After testing, the kits are sent to a lab and results are provided to patients and health care providers.

The first 300 kits are currently available for eligible participants at the first pilot project site in Edmonton. Expansion to community partners and rural sites will follow.

"Self-sampling allows the person to collect their own sample in a location that feels safe and comfortable. HPV self-sampling looks for the virus that causes cervical cancer. If found early, it can be treated so cervical cancer does not develop."

Dr. Laura McDougall, senior medical officer of health, AHS

This pilot project will help develop effective and sustainable HPV self-sampling strategies for under-screened populations and validate the necessary pathways and protocols for expanding cervical self-screening provincewide.

One morning Emma woke up with a start. Her husband Jim asked what was the matter, she told him, "I just had a dream that you gave me a pearl necklace for Valentine's day. What do you think it means?"

"You'll know tonight," Jim said.

That evening, Jim home with a small package and gave it to his wife. Delighted, Emma opened it - only to find a book entitled "The meaning of dreams".

ALBERTA RCMP COORDINATE WITH COMMUNITIES TO CURTAIL COPPER WIRE CROOKS

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

The Alberta RCMP is launching a community initiative in response to concerns about ongoing copper wire theft in eastern Alberta.

To reduce the amount of theft the RCMP's Eastern and Central District's Crime Reduction Units, along with K Division Criminal Analysis Section (K/DCAS), and Community Safety and Wellbeing Branch will be working with industry partners to determine areas that are being targeted and develop strategies to investigate, identify, and ultimately arrest the individuals who are causing the most harm related to copper wire and precious metal thefts.

Precious metals like copper are used in a variety of projects ranging from large scale industrial sites like power plants, cellphone towers, and pipelines, to smaller uses like the wiring in homes.

Copper wire and other precious metals can be difficult to track making them ideal targets for criminals to steal. The theft of copper wire can have a large impact on the public, whether it's having spare wire stolen from your personal property or damage caused to vital infrastructure across the province.

Last year in Alberta losses from copper wire theft including damages to property was in excess of 10 million dollars. There are a variety of things that the public and companies can do to help reduce the likelihood of copper wire theft in your communities:

- Consider installing an alarm system with remote monitoring of surveillance cameras.

- Ensure each entrance and exit of your commercial property has proper lighting and surveillance cameras clearly visible to deter criminal activity.

- Arrange to have your precious metals laser engraved, so they can be easier identified and returned if recovered.

- For metal purchasers, be cautious about purchasing material from unknown or suspicious sellers.

- Always secure your valuables in a secure area.

- Invest in fencing for extra protection and ensure it's well-maintained

- Always report suspicious persons you see at work sites, or on your property.

"The reality of the situation is, because copper wire is so common and can be almost impossible to identify if it isn't laser engraved, catching and charging copper wire thieves can be very difficult," said Staff Sergeant John Pike District Advisory non-commissioned officer of the RCMP Eastern Alberta District. "There are thousands of sites using copper wire, and we can't be at all of them. That's why it's so important for everyone do their part whether its securing your property, reporting suspicious activity, or questioning sellers."

If you have any information about crimes in your community, please call your local RCMP detachment.

SEPTEMBER 30: NATIONAL DAY FOR TRUTH & RECONCILIATION

Submitted by GYPSD

This year, students and staff acknowledged September 30th National Day for Truth and Reconciliation and Orange Shirt Day on Friday, September 27, 2024, as the Board of Trustees made Monday, September 30 a non-instructional day to allow students and school staff to participate in events taking place locally or regionally. Division schools participated in many events, presentations, and performances that reflected on the past and taught the truth of residential schools, as well as honouring the survivors and children who never came home. Many students and staff wore orange and a number of schools throughout the Division hosted Orange Shirt Day activities including Harry Collinge High in Hinton - bringing all three GYPSD schools together to share in this important work. Thank you to everyone who took the time to recognize the history and impact of residential schools at the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation events. We encourage everyone to take the time to participate in the many events happening throughout our communities to share in these important conversations as #everychildmatters.

SCHOOL LEADERS USE RESULTS TO DIRECT CONSTANT IMPROVEMENT PLAN

Submitted by GYSPD

Grande Yellowhead School Division's leaders met in September to review last year's Assurance Measure results, student achievement data from June Diploma exams, and June literacy and numeracy screens assigned to at-risk students in Grades 1, 2, and 3.

Every fall, school principals and their admin colleagues analyze the Assurance Measure Survey Results report based on responses from the teachers, students in selected grades, and parents at their school. Questions in the survey create a range of data points - focusing on Student Growth and Achievement, Teaching and Learning, Support, and Governance. School leadership reviews the survey responses to identify areas to celebrate, and areas where further investigation is needed. Principals then include their teaching staff in a deeper review: teachers look at individual student and whole class achievement in the specific curriculum or course they teach - including the Provincial Achievement Test (PAT) results from June which are released in late October.

The Results Review process of data analysis and exploring the root causes for the results is critical to informing the current school improvement plan which identifies the actions the school will implement to meet student learning and achievement goals informed by the results review process. Principals share the plan with their School Councils for support and additional insights.

In the primary elementary grades, teachers in Grade 1 - 3 will soon be reviewing literacy and numeracy data from screens applied to all students in September.

Kindergarten students also complete screens beginning in January.

MORE ALBERTA, THAT'S WHAT THEY ARE ASKING FOR

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

The last time I had an article in the paper it was August 25. I had touched on our "Alberta Culture" and that I was the legislator selected by CSG Midwest to take their legislative leadership training course held by the Bowhay Institute at the University of Wisconsin located in Madison. Time Flies it appears, so I'll give you an overview of what I learned, which other engagements I had south of the Border representing Alberta, and who came to visit. I'll also touch on some local items, and some of the items regarding our Alberta Bill of Rights.

"Legislative Boot Camp" this is how a colleague from North Dakota described the training he was receiving from his local radio station in an interview. Considering he was an army officer graduate from Westpoint I considered his description very accurate! The training was intense, lots of self-reflection, self-discovery, group exercises, and quite frankly made to tear down some of the preconceived notions we may have had coming in so that we could grow not only as legislators, but as people. The group was a fairly well represented balance between republicans, and democrats. The Canadian provinces represented were Ontario, Manitoba, and me from Alberta. We had minimum 15-hour days, a few a little longer when you consider the evening hour networking up to midnight on a couple occasions. It was a mental workout to be sure.

It gave us opportunities to not only discover what our personalities were, how we tick, but to be able to assess how others work, and think. To allow us to re-evaluate our approaches, communicate, and to be able to share ideas, collaborate, and compromise as well. To work across the isle as it were in a safe environment where the cameras were not rolling or the papers waiting to catch a "Scoop". It allowed me to make new contacts, friends, colleagues that I can reach out to, to be able to bounce ideas off, and to reciprocate the favor.

I can tell you, I went from being known as "The guy from Canada", within a few days to being known as "Shane from Alberta". The group knew full well where I was from, what we do within our nation, but moreover how important we really are to the USA. I had a grin as big as the great outdoors when our Canadian consulate wanted to make sure I met the Senator from Ohio, because he had heard him talking about a great concept which included Canada in a big way regarding USA being called "Fortress North America. When the Consulate went to introduce us, he suggested we should talk about the concept, the senator laughed and said, "Where in the heck do you think I got it from, it was from this Albertan, I love the idea, Fortress North America, let's make it happen!" We have some great new friends carrying our message now down south, so when they are passing legislation, we will have folks who know who we are, and how it may impact us.

The next trip I was on was a speaking engagement being held in Dickinson North Dakota, it was the Ports to Plains Alliance AGM. Ports to Plains is a group based out of Texas, and they are looking to connect Mexico through Texas, the Midwest, up to the norther border through North Dakota, and Montana. For us, that means our Wild Horse crossing, up to the Veterans Highway, all the way up to Fort McMurray. I was asked by their president to speak about our work on the economic corridors, and the concept of Fortress North America. It was extremely well received and had led to a number of follow up discussions with a number of the state representatives as well as with folks from Mexico.

From North Dakota I was then off to Tulsa Oklahoma to represent Alberta at the Energy Council. This group comprises of energy producing states, as well as the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. We are affiliate members due to the organizational structure, and when the council was formed to mitigate any foreign entities (Canada) from directly influencing USA energy / environmental policy. I can tell you full well however, we are greatly respected and welcomed for full participation in the meetings and the votes that take place. There was even a "Canadian Panel" in one of the afternoon sessions, chaired by our Canadian Consulate General based out of Texas, the Energy Ministers DM from Ontario, and our own Washington Based Representative who heads up our USA relations team. In addition, our Minister of Affordability was included on a panel discussion about hydrogen. We were well represented! Outcomes include a special project with several states and us to work some common challenges and share information between our universities, and industry. I was happy to be approached by several senators to see if I was interested and to be able to help them on this.

Last October I was asked to attend a 9-day exchange in Germany, funded and hosted by the German government to view their energy transition. I was very engaged, and vocal on a number of items and approaches that they were taking that would not work here. In addition, I shared some of the approaches we were taking, and looking for opportunities to share ideas, and have them come to Alberta and see firsthand what we are working on, what path we are taking, and looking to help them as well. A small delegation took us up on that offer and came over to meet prior to Christmas last year. This summer a second delegation, through the same project that had several USA senators, a fellow MLA, and myself meet with them in Germany, took me up on my invitations to come here.

We acted as host, and I was very happy to chair a stakeholder round table discussion for several hours to talk about what we are doing here in Alberta. The conversations were straight forward, and I found that when the German delegates had a chance to meet with us directly, in our own backyard, they had a different perspective. It really opened doors, conversations, and led to an appreciation that although we have differing approaches, we are looking to solve common problems. It was also very encouraging to hear firsthand from a number of German corporations who also are wanting to make large

Fire Prevention Patrol

Always keep looking for ways to prevent and protect yourself against fires, especially during

Fire Prevention Week

Try these helpful tips to get you started with fire safety:

- Replace smoke alarm batteries at least once a year.
- Teach children that fire is a tool, not a toy.
- Replace old, worn or damaged appliance cords.
- Keep matches and lighters in a locked drawer or cabinet, away from small children.
- Test smoke alarms once a month.
- Plan two exits out of every room.
- Always make sure candles, matches and cigarettes are properly extinguished.
- If you believe fire may be outside the room, check the door and doorknob for heat before opening it.
- Practice fire drills at home and at school. Find the fastest, safest exit route.
- In the event of a fire, leave the house quickly and don't go back inside! Call for help from a neighbor's house.

long-term investments in our province, because they too see the advantages we have to offer. The outcomes will be an annual visit from the German delegation, and we will have quarterly working meetings to ensure we are engaged and look for opportunities for sub national agreements between Alberta and German States.

I know I have said it before, but it never can be understated that when we tell our own story firsthand, that the results are simply amazing. People can see for themselves, that we are the real deal. We have been vilified on several files for years, wrongly. When we are open and honest, discussing some of our failings, our solutions, and our aspirations, it is extremely well received. You can't fake authenticity, and it shows, because people genuinely want to work with us, they want to trade with us, they want closer ties with us. When I have USA senators sending me pictures of them wearing my ballcap out in their constituencies, it's not staged, it's out of friendship and respect. When we have foreign dignitaries hanging local artists paintings on their wall of their offices back home, it's because they genuinely want a little piece of Alberta with them, and a view to remember us by. My ask of you is to be you, to be genuine, and to be an ambassador for our province in your own right. There are far too many that want to take a run at us for who we are and what we stand for, but I can tell you full well, the folks I've met, they want more Alberta in their lives, not less.

With that in mind, we are going to be modernizing, or updating the Alberta Bill of Rights. Over the summer, consultations took place, and a task force led by our MLA out of Red Deer heard from many Albertans directly and stakeholders as to what they thought should be included in our Bill of Rights. If you have not seen the Premier's update on this subject, I highly recommend it. It is timely and topical, covering people's freedoms of choice, property rights, and as well, firearms ownership. The bill will be introduced in the house this fall, and we can't go into any fulsome details until that happens, but I can tell you full well from what I've been able to see so far in regard to a policy, I am very proud of the work to date, and will be very happy to support this in the house.

I hope that you have a great week, sorry again for the gap in articles, and I hope to see you out and about before we head back into session. I want to hear what matters to you, so that when I am in there, giving speeches, debating, and voting on laws that I can be as effective as possible as your MLA.

THE WALKING DEAD HOUSE AND HALLOWEEN HAUNTED HOUSE HUNT RETURN!

Submitted by Town of Stony Plain

Halloween season is here, and Stony Plain is excited to bring back two beloved Halloween events! The Halloween Haunted House Hunt returns, and for the second year, The Walking Dead House will be open at Heritage Park, hosted by the Town of Stony Plain and Parkland Search and Rescue (PSAR).

The Walking Dead House will transform Heritage Park into a spooky playground for those looking for family fun and a few chills. The event, free for all to attend, will take place on October 26, from 10 AM to 4 PM. The Walking Dead House will feature two haunted house routes; one for the younger or more timid guests (recommended for ages 0-8) and a scarier route for those seeking a bigger thrill (recommended for ages 8+). Attendees are encouraged to bring non-perishable food items or cash donations, which will benefit the Parkland Food Bank and Parkland Search and Rescue.

In addition to the haunted house, attendees can enjoy a variety of family-friendly activities along with two feature films: one suited for families and the other for those seeking a spookier experience.

Additional activities at The Walking Dead House include:
 Balloon Twister
 Mad Science Show
 Magician Show
 Slime Making
 Axe Throwing
 Rage Room

“We’re thrilled to bring back The Walking Dead House for a second year at Heritage Park,” says Event Coordinator Tevra Graham. “It’s quickly becoming a must-attend Halloween event for families in our community, and this year’s activities are sure to bring even more excitement.”

In addition to The Walking Dead House, Stony Plain is also excited to host the return of the Halloween Haunted House Hunt. Starting October 21, daily clues will be posted at 9 AM on the Halloween webpage, guiding participants to miniature haunted houses hidden throughout public spaces in Stony Plain. Once a house is found, a new one will be hidden until all five are discovered. Lucky finders can bring the haunted houses to the Town Office during business hours to claim a prize with a limit of one prize per person.

“I’m excited to see the return of these exciting Halloween events in Stony Plain,” says Mayor William Choy. “Halloween is a time for fun, creativity, and community spirit, and these events offer something for everyone. I encourage everyone to come out, take part in the festivities, and make some great Halloween memories!”

Visit the Halloween webpage for all event details including daily Halloween Haunted House Hunt clues.

SMOKE ALARMS CHECKLIST

1. Have you installed smoke alarms on every level of your home and near every sleeping area?
2. Are smoke alarms located well away from the path of steam from bathrooms and cooking vapors from the kitchen, which can result in false or nuisance alarms?
3. Are smoke alarms mounted high on walls or ceilings away from windows, doors and ducts where drafts won't interfere with their operation?
4. Have you considered installing hard-wired, interconnected smoke alarms with battery back-up so that if one alarm operates, they all signal together?
5. Do you replace your smoke alarms when they are 10 years or older?
6. Do you test your smoke alarms once a month to make sure they are working, and replace the batteries every year?
7. Have you pushed the "test button" on smoke alarms to ensure everyone will recognize the sound of the alarm?

Follow these 9 tips to help protect yourself, your family and your property against fire hazards.

1. Install a fire alarm in every sleeping area and on every level of your home, and be sure to test alarms every month. Working smoke alarms reduce the risk of death in a home fire in half.
2. Check the manufacture date on the back of your home's smoke alarms. Smoke alarms should be replaced at least every 10 years! Batteries should be replaced every year.
3. Never leave burning candles unattended, and always keep matches and lighters out of reach from children.
4. Make a fire action plan, so every member of your household knows how to escape and where to meet outdoors.
5. Over half of home heating fire deaths are caused by equipment being placed too close to things that can burn. Make sure furniture, clothing, mattresses and bedding are at least three feet from heating sources.
6. Always turn off space heaters when you leave the room or go to sleep. Space heaters are the cause of about 79 percent of fatal home heating fires.
7. Remain in the kitchen when frying, grilling or broiling food. Turn off the stove whenever you leave the kitchen, and never leave home while food is cooking.
8. Inspect electrical cords regularly, and replace cords that are cracked or damaged or have broken plugs or loose connections.
9. In the event of a fire, crawl to safety. Use the back of your hand to see if a door is hot before opening it. If it feels hot, try to use another exit.
