JOKE of the week

Just before Christmas, two brothers were spending the night at their Grandma's house. At bed time, they knelt down to say their prayers. As they closed their eyes, one boy said in a loud voice, "Dear Lord, please ask Santa Claus to bring me a Wii, a telescope and a new bike."

His older brother said,

"Why are you shouting? God isn't deaf."

"I know," said his brother, "but Grandma is."

Albertans are encouraged to celebrate the giving season by supporting a non-profit organization or charity in their community through Crowdfunding Alberta.

Crowdfunding Alberta makes it easy for non-profits to raise funds quickly, and for Albertans to donate to trusted organizations and causes they care about. Donors can have peace of mind that their dollars are making a difference because all non-profits and charities on the platform are pre-screened, ensuring donations are going to legitimate and credible Alberta organizations.

Alberta's government matches 50 percent of funds raised by an eligible campaign, up to $5,000 annually, making every donation even more impactful.

TIS THE SEASON TO PRACTICE ROAD SAFETY

Submitted by Alberta RCMP

December is often a month full of celebrations with family and friends. If you're partaking in holiday festivities this season, make sure to plan for a safe ride home.

December 1-7 is National Safe Driving week, and this year focuses on driving under the influence of cannabis. According to MADD Canada, in 2022 nearly a third of Canadians reported using cannabis in the past 30 days, of which 12% of users drove while believing they were impaired.

Last December, Alberta RCMP officers removed 537 drivers from roadways as a result of being impaired. Of those removed, 49 of them were under the influence of drugs or a combination of drugs and alcohol. This December, as part of National Safe Driving Week, we're reminding all Albertans to keep their head out of the clouds. If you have consumed drugs or alcohol, do not get behind the wheel. Find a sober ride home or a safe place to spend the night.

Your Alberta RCMP would like to remind everyone, this December, and always:

- Driving while impaired by alcohol or drugs is never okay. Impaired driving is criminal and dangerous.
- Impaired driving is always preventable and can always be avoided. Call a taxi or rideshare service, use a designated driver, or stay the night.
- Party hosts aren't off the hook. If you're guests have been drinking or using drugs, make sure they have a safe place to stay, or a sober ride home.
- Individuals with a Graduated Driver's Licence must abide by the zero-tolerance law (Government of Alberta, 2023).

• Call 911 immediately if you witness or suspect impaired driving.

"Alberta RCMP officers will be focusing on Impaired Driving enforcement this month," says Sgt. Darin Turnbull, Alberta RCMP Traffic. "With all the festivities that December brings, we have planned checkpoints all month long and specifically this Saturday, December 7, for National Impaired Driving Enforcement Day. This December, and always, look out for one another. If you suspect an impaired driver, call 911 immediately. You never know whose life you could be saving."

4-H ALBERTA EXPANDS PARTNERSHIP WITH FEDERATED CO-OPERATIVES LIMITED AND LOCAL ALBERTA CO-OPS TO GROW THE CO-OP GROWING LEADERS PROGRAM

Submitted by 4-H Alberta

4-H Alberta is pleased to announce that we will continue the strong partnership with Federated Co-operatives Limited (FCL) and a growing group of local Alberta Co-ops in support of our organization and the invaluable programming that we bring to young people each year.

4-H Alberta is thrilled to receive another $50,000 sponsorship investment this year.

The key component of this partnership is the CO-OP Growing Leaders Program. The innovative and ground-breaking program is designed to remove barriers and provide easy access for youth who may have been curious about 4-H Alberta, but have never enrolled in a local club. During the inaugural rollout in the 2023/ 2024 club year, 209 members joined through the CO-OP Growing Leaders Program!

"We were thrilled to see so much success during the CO-OP Growing Leaders Program's pilot year and are proud to continue this partnership. This 'out of the box' initiative has helped 209 new members experience the 4-H Alberta youth program, giving them an opportunity to grow their leadership and life skills, make lifelong friends, and have a lot of fun in the process. We appreciate FCL and the growing number of participating Co-ops; they are like-minded community partners who value and support Alberta's youth as much as we do," said Kurt Kinnear, CEO of 4-H Alberta. "Federated Co-operatives Ltd. and the participating Co-ops understand and appreciate the importance of our young members who will become the future leaders in our communities."

This generous investment and support will continue to position FCL and 13 Alberta Co-ops as one of 4-H Alberta's top funders in the Gold Clover sponsorship category, with the following Co-ops participating in the CO-OP Growing Leaders Program.

"We are committed to supporting people and places across our Co-operative Retailing System and across Western Canada," said Ron Healey, FCL Vice President,

Energy & Ag. "Our partnership with 4-H Alberta will build on that commitment as we work together to provide local youth with new opportunities that will ultimately lead to exciting and positive life experiences."

About 4-H Alberta

4-H Alberta is the new streamlined youth development body that combines the former three-party organizations that operated 4-H in Alberta; the 4-H Council of Alberta, the 4-H Foundation of Alberta, and the 4-H Section of Alberta Agriculture and Forestry.

4-H Alberta was developed after extensive consultation with Alberta's 4-H community. It involves a new governance, structure and operating model that is efficient and effective, and supported by a modernized constitution/by-law alignment to coordinate 4-H staff and volunteer roles, and build operational harmony for the growth of the 4-H youth leadership program in Alberta.

About Federated Co-operatives Limited and the Co-operative Retailing System.

Federated Co-operatives Limited (FCL), based in Saskatoon, is focused on providing more than 160 local Co-ops across Western Canada with strategy and leadership, wholesaling, manufacturing, logistics, operational support, business-enabling services and marketing support. Together, FCL and those local co-operatives form the Co-operative Retailing System (CRS). The CRS serves our members and communities with products and services that help build, feed and fuel individuals and communities from Vancouver Island to northwestern Ontario. Our total workforce of over 24,900 employees serve more than 2 million active individual members and many more non-member customers at 1,500 retail locations in more than 630 communities. We are a different kind of business – we are locally invested, community-minded and offer lifetime membership benefits including patronage refunds, quality products, quality service and fair prices. More information is available at www.fcl.crs and www.co-op.crs.

A MESSAGE FROM PARKLAND COUNTY FIRE SERVICES

PARKLAND COUNTY FIRE SERVICES

COST RECOVERY FOR EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Starting January 1, 2025, Parkland County Fire Services may issue invoices to recover costs from certain types of Emergency Response including:

- Motor Vehicle Collisions and Vehicle Fires on Parkland County roads.
- Structure Fires
- Outdoor Fires
- Public Assist
- False Alarms

Large complex fires and preventable responses increase our costs to operate.

For most scenarios, the costs will be recouped from insurance policies that already cover these incidents. That means we can fund the response without having to pass the costs on to all residents through higher tax rates.

This is a cost recovery system, meaning the County doesn't profit from emergency responses and similar policies are in place in municipalities across Alberta.

Does your insurance policy cover fire department response costs? It's important to check your policy to see if you have appropriate coverage.

For more on the policy, visit www.Parkland County.com/FireCost

WATER STORAGE REVIEW UNDERWAY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is undertaking a provincewide review of potential sites for dams and other infrastructure to help meet future water needs.

As Alberta's population and economy grow, demand for water from communities and industry increases at the same time. Due to the province's prairie geography and climate, the amount of precipitation received varies a lot from season-to-season and year-to-year. Creating more dams, reservoirs and other infrastructure is one way to potentially help capture and store more water.

Alberta's government has now begun a provincewide study looking at more than 100 locations across the province. This study will be used to help the government plan long-term ways to maximize Alberta's water supply, reduce the risk of future droughts and floods, and support thriving communities.

"We are making sure that Alberta has the water it needs to support our growing communities and a thriving economy for generations to come. This study will take a hard look at sites across the province to help us identify the most effective places to build future water storage projects."

Rebecca Schulz, Minister of Environment and Protected Areas

Dams, reservoirs and other water storage infrastructure play a vital role in irrigation, drought management, water security, flood protection, and supporting a healthy environment. At the same time, they can be costly to build and affect local ecosystems and environments.

The provincial study will identify, review and assess potential locations where water storage infrastructure could be most effectively developed to help meet the province's long-term water needs. Various sites will be assessed based on new and existing information regarding hydrology, dam design, environmental, social and cultural impacts, and the potential costs, benefits and risks or uncertainties for each site.

"Water is a precious resource and one that is essential for agriculture. Our government is always prepared to help ensure our producers and processors have the water they need to help put food on the tables of Albertans and others around the world. Now, more than ever, we need to do more with the water we have. Identifying potential opportunities for new reservoirs will help continue to grow our province and ensure our agriculture industry has the water it needs."

RJ Sigurdson, Minister of Agriculture and Irrigation

The Water Storage Opportunities Study is expected to be completed in 2025. Alberta's government will use the results to help identify the most effective options to improve water storage in a responsible and cost-effective way. Some of the top-ranked sites may be selected to undergo a full feasibility study in the future.

This study is part of the Alberta government's work to modernize the province's water system and make every drop count. Along with this study, the province has feasibility studies in progress for the Ardley reservoir and Eyre-more dams, launched the $125 million Drought and Flood Protection Program, and is currently engaging on potential ways to increase water availability and improve the water management system in Alberta.
