Submitted by Ella Nelson

Hi everyone!! Sorry for such a delay, we have been super busy with public speaking, multi Judging, projects, and other fun things. Our club public speaking went very well; everyone did a great job! Thank you to all of our judges!!! In first place for our junior speeches we have Brooke Nelson. In our intermediate speeches we had Rayel Chittick win first. Finally in our senior speeches Hayden Machan won. In our junior presentations we had Ella Nelson (that's me!) win. In intermediate presentations Cullen Chittick won. Finally in senior presentations Reese Prutton won. At the District level, we had Rayel and Ella move on to regionals. At the Regional level, I won for the first time. Rayel unfortunately couldn't make it.

For our club winter funday we went to Eastlink park in Whitecourt to go tubing. It was super fun and after that we had pizza and pop. At our District Funday we had a curling bonspiel. We had a great time!

Our beef kids have been working hard with their steers and had Calf Club Tour. Lots of the steers are gaining quite nicely. We sheep kids bought our lambs and are feeding them. Outdoor living kids have been building fires and making shelters. Small engine kids are working hard on their engines.

JOKE of the week

A policeman in the big city stops a man in a car with a pig in the front seat. "What are you doing with that pig?" He exclaimed, "You should take it to the zoo." The following week, the same policeman sees the same man with the pig again in the front seat, with both of them wearing sunglasses. The policeman pulls him over. "I thought you were going to take that pig to the zoo!" The man replied, "I did. We had such a good time we are going to the beach this weekend!"

BE PREPARED. KNOW YOUR RISKS AT EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS DAY 2025

Submitted by Stony Plain

Emergencies can happen anytime, anywhere. Are you ready? This Emergency Preparedness Week (May 4 to 10), take the time to learn how you and your family can stay safe when the unexpected happens. Join Tri-Municipal Region emergency services on Saturday, May 10 from 10 AM to 3 PM outside of Stony Plain Town Hall (4905 51 Avenue) for Emergency Preparedness Day, a free, family-friendly event featuring hands-on activities, safety education, and opportunities to connect with local first responders.

"Whether it's wildfire, flood, or extreme weather, our communities are not immune to emergencies," says Stony Plain Mayor William Choy. "We're proud to bring together regional partners and emergency crews to empower residents with practical tools and knowledge. Preparedness starts with awareness, and together, we can build safer and more resilient communities."

"Emergency preparedness is essential for protecting lives, property, and communities during unexpected events," said Spruce Grove Mayor Jeff Acker. "By planning ahead, we can significantly reduce the impact of emergencies, minimize injuries and property damage, and save lives. Being prepared also fosters resilience and allows our communities to recover faster after a disaster or emergency event."

"Parkland County has seen residents forced to evacuate their homes due to the devastating effects of wildfires in recent years," said Parkland County Mayor Allan Gamble. "By collaborating with our Tri-Regional partners and first responders on this event, we can ensure that everyone can take comfort in being prepared rather than scared should an emergency event occur and have some family fun at the same time."

Attendees can expect a variety of engaging activities for all ages, including:

Interactive booths with emergency preparedness information

Equipment displays from emergency agencies across the Tri-Region

first responders and emergency vehicles

Appearances by Sparky the Fire Dog

A BBQ and concession area

"Preparedness isn't just about having a kit or a plan, it's about knowing your risks and having confidence in your ability to respond," says Stony Plain Fire Chief Jason Nesbitt. "This event gives residents a chance to meet the people who respond to emergencies in our region and learn firsthand what steps they can take to protect themselves and their families."

COUNTY ANNOUNCES LEADERSHIP TRANSITION IN CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER ROLE

LSAC.ca/news

Effective Thursday, April 17, Mike Primeau is no longer serving as Chief Administrative Officer for Lac Ste. Anne County.

Council would like to express its appreciation for Mr. Primeau's contributions during his time with the County and wishes him continued success in his future endeavours.

"With this change comes the opportunity to align our County leadership with the strategic direction of Council," said County Reeve Joe Blakeman. "On behalf of Council, I want to thank Mike for his service to our community. We are confident in the strength and capability of our Administration Staff to continue delivering the services our residents expect during this period of transition."

Council is pleased to announce the appointment of Trista Court as interim CAO—while the County initiates the recruitment process for a permanent Chief Administrative Officer.

Lac Ste. Anne County remains committed to serving its residents with transparency and accountability, while focussing on long-term growth and community well-being.

THE LOSS OF A GLOBAL SPIRITUAL LEADER

LSAC.ca/news

Lac Ste. Anne County extends its heartfelt condolences on the passing of Pope Francis, a spiritual figure whose commitment to compassion and reconciliation resonated worldwide.

In July 2022, Pope Francis made a historic pilgrimage to Lac Ste. Anne as part of his "penitential journey" to Canada. His visit was a profound and symbolic step in the Catholic Church's efforts to acknowledge and address the harm caused by residential schools. It was the first time a Pope had visited this sacred site, known for centuries as a place of healing for Indigenous Peoples and Métis communities from across Western Canada.

"His legacy will live on in the hearts of those who saw in him a leader of quiet strength, deep empathy, and unwavering faith," said County Reeve, Joe Blakeman.

We join countless others in remembering a life dedicated to peace, understanding, and service to humanity.

FIRESMART IN ACTION

LSAC.ca/news

County Crews are tackling high-risk areas with proven FireSmart strategies.

As a proud leader in FireSmart and community wildfire resilience, the County is working hard to make sure everyone has the knowledge and support they need to protect their homes and livelihoods from wildfire. We're also walking the talk by applying FireSmart principles to County-owned properties.

Trained crews will manage vegetation in areas identified as high hazard or close to important infrastructure in our Community Risk Reduction Plan. This includes clearing dry brush, trimming trees, and creating defensible space to help slow the spread of wildfire. It's all part of our efforts to keep our community safe and set a positive example.

Our crews are currently working in the Corsair Cove Subdivision and the George Pegg Botanical Garden. Stay tuned to the County's social channels to track their progress throughout the region.

CARING FOR KITCHEN COUNTERTOPS

Kitchen remodels are a popular home improvement project that help homeowners recoup large percentages of their initial investments at resale. A kitchen remodel can invigorate a home and make the most popular room in the house more functional.

According to HomeAdvisor, a home-improvement informational guide, homeowners spend an average of $22,000 on kitchen re-models. However, lavish projects can cost more than $50,000. Protecting such investments is important and requires that homeowners understand how to properly maintain kitchen features so they have the longest life possible. This includes the new countertops that make the kitchen look complete.

Countertops come in various materials, not all of which should be treated the same way. Quartz, granite, marble, laminate, and tile countertops require different types of maintenance.

Quartz

Engineered quartz countertops are popular. Quartz countertops are nearly maintenance-free and resistant to stains, scratches and even heat. Quartz will not need to be sealed like natural stone and can be cleaned using just a damp cloth with a mild, nonabrasive soap.

Granite

Polished or honed granite countertops offer a high-end look that adds instant value to a kitchen. Natural variations in granite give each kitchen a custom look. To keep granite countertops clean, avoid abrasive cleansers that can scratch, and opt for warm, soapy water instead.

Stains are possible, but can be remedied with a baking soda paste left to sit for a couple of hours, advises Angie's List. Wipe up oils, acids and soda promptly to avoid stains, and follow advised sealing routines.

Marble

Marble is a natural stone that is porous and will need to be resealed periodically. Because marble has high levels of the mineral calcite, it can be reactive when acids come in contact with it, and etch marks may appear. Promptly wipe away tomato juice, lemon juice, perfume, or toothpaste. Marble is softer than granite and will wear at a faster rate. Avoid scratching and exercise caution when using knives or sharp objects around marble.

Laminate

One of the more budget-friendly materials, laminate countertops can be fabricated to mimic the look of natural stone, wood or even quartz. Laminate is less resistant to damage than other materials and will need a gentle touch. Formica® says to never use abrasive cleansers, scouring pads or steel wool when cleaning laminate countertops. For tough stains, an all-purpose cleaner should suffice when applied with a nylon-bristled brush. Test any cleanser in a discreet area first.

Tile

Cleaning tile countertops requires getting into crevices along the grout lines. A toothbrush and a mildew-fighting cleaner or bleach diluted with water is advised. Also, unglazed tiles need to be sealed yearly. Some soap may leave residue, which can be removed with a solution of vinegar and water.

Check with the manufacturer or installer of the countertops to learn more about the ways to clean and maintain new counters.

ANTIMICROBIAL TILES HELP CREATE SANITARY SPACES

Tile can be a worthy addition to rooms with potential moisture issues or areas in a home that may routinely necessitate quick cleanup. Because they are not damaged by constant contact with water, tiled floors and walls are often found in bathrooms, kitchens, laundry rooms, and entryways.

Although tile is resilient, it is not impervious to the microorganisms that tend to proliferate in areas where moisture and humidity are commonplace. Microbes can grow rapidly in warm areas, especially if food is present. Mold or mildew issues also can become problematic seemingly overnight. But certain modifications can help homeowners alleviate the proliferation of microorganisms.

Various manufacturers have developed their own innovative tile that contributes to cleaner, and sometimes more eco-friendly, home environments. The application of certain treatments can make ceramic tiles even more impervious to water and moisture. Some tile may help reduce the spread of certain strains of bacteria, such as E. coli and staph, without requiring the application of potentially harsh chemical detergents. Others treatments may protect against yeast, molds and fungi that can cause stains and odors and result in the degradation of tile.

Antimicrobial products inhibit the growth of microorganisms and suppress their reproduction. For example, tiles with Microban protection employ an antimicrobial agent built into the product during the manufacturing process. When microbes touch the product surface, the agent penetrates the cell wall of the microorganism. Other tiles are treated with micrometric particles of titanium dioxide (TiO₂), which is activated by sunlight or artificial light. This causes a photocatalysis process, which is responsible for the product's antipollution and bactericidal properties. Examples of TiO₂-treated tiles include Active Clean Air & Antibacterial Ceramic.

Antimicrobial ceramic tile can be advantageous in rooms where sanitation and hygiene are an utmost priority. This includes not only public places, but private residences. Worktops and floors where microbes can be transferred are particularly beneficial areas to install antimicrobial tile.

A potential side effect of antimicrobial tile is a reduction in reliance on harsh cleaning products. Although regular washing is recommended, residents may not need to use odoriferous or strong chemical cleaners to sanitize their homes. This helps improve indoor air quality and reduce the potential contamination of the environment from chemical runoff.

Homeowners thinking of installing antimicrobial tile in their homes should discuss their options with a tile retailer or contractor during the planning stages.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL 8 BALL TOURNAMENT AT SPRUCE GROVE PIONEER CENTER

Submitted by Spruce Grove Golden Age Club

A day of friendly competition, great food, and community spirit April 16th, 2025

Another great tournament came to an exciting close on Wednesday, April 16th, 2025. The Spruce Grove Pioneer Center Pool Club proudly hosted 21 skilled players from around the area for a spirited competition of 8 Ball.

Thanks to the generous support of local businesses, players competed not only for bragging rights but also for some fantastic prizes. We extend our heartfelt appreciation to the following sponsors:

Academy Mechanical, Bings Spruce Grove, Boston Pizza, Builders Den, Canadian Brew House, Crosstown Motors, Denny's, Econolube, Harvey's, Home Depot, Kal Tire, Liquor On McLeod, Mr. Lube, No Frills, Predator, Raven Wolf Brewing, Safeway, Sandy View Farm, Save On, Sharks Club, Superstore, Zender Ford.

A special thank you goes to our Chef Dennis, who treated everyone to a delicious spaghetti lunch with Caesar salad and garlic bread. It was the perfect fuel for a competitive day!

And like all great secretaries, our very own Brenda kept things running smoothly behind the scenes—thank you for holding everything together!

From the pool of 21 players, the top three competitors emerged victorious:

First Place – Randy Forget

Second Place – Gary Holt

Third Place – Ernie Peder-son

Congratulations to our winners! Awards were presented by our dedicated organizer, George Pon.

Thank you to everyone who participated, helped out, or cheered from the sidelines. It was a memorable day—and we can't wait to see you all again next year!

3rd Ernie, 1st Randy, 2nd Gary

CANADA WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN OR WHAT IT CAN BE?

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

I wasn't sure if I wanted to broach this topic, but given the amount of questions I've been receiving in the constituency, out on the road, and when I'm speaking with folks that are visiting I felt compelled this morning. The federal election is on the 28th of April, advance polls had record numbers which is a good sign because people care. The frustration I have is how much of the lead up to the election, and much of the early discussion was all about what President Trump was doing, not what we have been doing as a country for the last 10 years.

I think there was one thing that became abundantly clear, the liberal leadership under Justin Trudeau was heading us toward a cliff that no one could tolerate. It was very clear when the Deputy PM threw him unceremoniously under the bus in public, which showed even the most faithful had a belly full of Mr. Sunny Ways. It was also abundantly clear that there was a scramble for a safe way to hold a coronation within the liberal party. Pinocchio believed he was a real PM, and the handlers and advisors knew if they were going to keep their agenda going, one of them had to step up, and into the sunlight. Enter the Carney.

Here we are, forgetting that Carney was one of the top advisors to Justin, and he didn't do that through official government channels for most of it, that was done through the party itself, to the leader of the party...in the shadows. Reading Carney's manifesto, his book called "Values" makes it very clear what his plan is for Canada, and those who would fall under his "Leadership". It pains me to hear people say that was then, and this is now, he had a change of heart within the month leading up the election, heck, he even "Got Rid" of the consumer carbon tax.

History is interesting to say the least, it tends to repeat itself, and those that don't learn from it, tend to suffer similar scars. There was a leader in Germany as I recall during the 30's that wrote a book while he was imprisoned that laid out his plan, and what he really thought. It became a best seller prior to him taking the chancellorship and became mandatory reading in the schools afterwards and became an absolute real life horror for the world once he had full power. That could never happen again! Right? Or could it?

Well not all at once, they are way more sophisticated now on how they get out their message, and the promises they make. Again, I'm sure when Time Life magazine had old Adolf on their front cover as man of the year, we sure didn't think so either. Our fate as Canadians will be much different, it will be more civilized, more economical pain, more of a separation of the classes, and an erosion of the middle class to be sure, and unbearable taxation, debt, with a dependence on the government.

The other path, well, its going to be painful for some, uncomfortable for the short term, but also I believe inspiring. Let's unleash the potential of Canada again, lest work as a country, better than before, less east / west divides. More collaboration, more access to foreign markets, more responsible development, more empowerment of the individual and family. More self reliance, less government dependence and interference, less taxation, more choice, more freedom.

This is the vision I share with folks abroad, this is what I see not only for Alberta, North Western Canada, but for all of Canada. I see economic corridors that are not only recognized but protected, that help build our nation, like the railroad did back in the day. I see us not just hovering around the 49th parallel, but expanding northward, being a real northern nation with a thriving arctic presence. I see so much opportunity due to the resources we have, the innovations, and quite frankly the doors that open up to us when we present ourselves as "that place, the True North, Strong, and Free".

How do I know? I shared this vision with the Ambassadors of Norway, and Finland recently. They believed the same, they want to be part of a group I'm putting together to collaborate on the Arctic / Nordic nations. I was engaged with three separate delegation from Germany, same story. I met with the Ambassador of Albania, same response. I went on a personal trip to India, had meetings with the secretary of Energy, numerous executives and managers in energy companies, engineering companies, paper companies, aviation companies, property developers, and even film studios. Same story. Numerous USA capital visits, and having US delegations as recent as last week visit us here, same story.

I honestly believe as a country we have been led down a garden path chasing butterflies, and fairy tales by the groups tapping into our conscientious and caring Canadian values. The whole time, they were literally robbing the treasury, where is all of our gold reserve today... gone. Who holds or debts? Where did all the money go? Did it really change the weather? What underpins the value of our currency?

I want to remain optimistic, I want to believe in my fellow Canadians and our system, I want to believe that it hasn't been hijacked, and its not too late. I want to believe that folks will be bold enough to break away from the empty promises, accept reality, that its going to take some real honest to goodness teamwork and efforts to turn this thing around, and be that strong independent well respected nation again. To be that place of preference to make a good life, where hard work pays off. In short, I'd sure like the Alberta Spirit to spread to the other parts of the country. I want this country to realize its full potential, and I want you, your kids, and your grandkids to remember that time, we turned it around. We learned our lesson, and that flirting with all that "Sunny Ways, free stuff" was not what the country needed. So regardless of what happens on the 28th, I'll keep gathering a coalition of the willing, across the country, and beyond our shores to build those relationships, and those economic corridors. It's something that spans electoral cycles, it's a nation builder, and its something that is intergenerational, and it's a path for what can be.

NEW FLAG AT UAH HONOURS ORGAN AND TISSUE DONORS

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

Give Life Alberta flag will fly during two awareness weeks every year

Alberta Health Services' organ and tissue donation program Give Life Alberta has raised a new flag at the University of Alberta Hospital, a tribute to the thousands of people in Alberta, both deceased and living, who have given the gift of life to others.

The Give Life Alberta flag will be raised at the 112 St. entrance for two weeks every year: National Organ and Tissue Donation Awareness Week (April 20-26, 2025) and Living Donation Week (Sept. 7-13, 2025). The flag's icon – a green heart filling the void of a dotted heart – symbolizes organ and tissue donation. One organ donor can save up to eight lives, and a tissue donor can save or dramatically improve up to 75 lives.

While Alberta marked another record year in 2024 – with 317 deceased organ and tissue donors – there are more than 500 people waiting for life-saving transplants in the province.

"It's important to remember (donation) is not something to take for granted," says Give Life Alberta Medical Director Dr. Andreas Kramer. "Often we have to have these conversations at a difficult time in patients' lives, or their families' lives, and we're just really grateful that so many Albertans are willing to make that decision."

One of those selfless donors in 2024 was 43-year-old Kathleen McGee of Edmonton. While she was dying of colorectal cancer, the stand-up comedian asked her husband Adam Lampman to make sure she donated anything she could.

"She had such a genuine care for people and wanted to be able to provide either life or a positive aspect of life to someone even when she wasn't here anymore," says Lampman.

Shortly after his wife died in the fall of 2024, Lampman completed the consent forms and questionnaire required for her to become a donor.

McGee was eligible to donate her eyes and her corneas have restored sight for one person.

Another donor's family helped raise the new Give Life Alberta flag. After 23-year-old Andy Polanski died in a motor vehicle crash in 2013, the Fort Saskatchewan man saved five lives and improved many more with his organ and tissue donations. His family continues to support fellow donor families through fundraising events.

"To be able to pay tribute to Andy and all the other amazing donors and their families is an honour for us," says Dawn Pinder, Andy's sister. "We understand the rollercoaster of emotions involved in making a loved one's donation wishes come true and our hearts go out to all donor families."

Reaghan Manyluk sees the flag as a symbol of appreciation for her donor hero. She received a life-saving kidney and pancreas transplant at the University of Alberta Hospital in 2014. Eleven years later, the elementary school teacher is healthy, active and grateful for every "bonus" moment of her life.

"I've been able to enjoy some incredible moments that I never thought I'd live to see, such as my grandmother's 97th birthday and the births of my niece and nephew," says Manyluk. "I think about my donor often and thank them for my life."

Albertans are encouraged to register their intent to donate online at GiveLifeAlberta.ca – or at a motor vehicle registry office – and to tell their loved ones about their donation decision.

Alberta Health Services provides a range of health care services for more than four million adults and children living in Alberta. Our mission is to provide excellent, patient-focused health-care that is accessible and sustainable for all Albertans. Our current focus is on reducing emergency department wait times, improving EMS response times, increasing access to surgeries, and improving patient flow.

WHITECOURT LOCAL WINS $100K ON EXTRA TICKET FORGOTTEN IN THE CAR!

Submitted by Western Canada Lottery Corporation

"I'm not very good at checking them!"

Shelly Bauer has taken home a $100,000 on EXTRA!

The Whitecourt winner typically saves up her tickets and checks them all at once. This time, she was blown away by a win she didn't know she'd won in January!

"I'm not very good at checking [my tickets] and cashing them in," she admitted. "They sit in my car sometimes forever!"

"I was getting gas and thought, 'You know, while the car is filling up, I'm going to go check some of these tickets!'"

Sure enough, a LOTTO 6/49 and EXTRA ticket from January 29 was the major winner!

When asked about her reaction, Bauer simply said: "WTF!"

Bauer has plans to invest her winnings and is planning a vacation as well – she's not sure where she'll go yet.

"It feels unreal," she said.

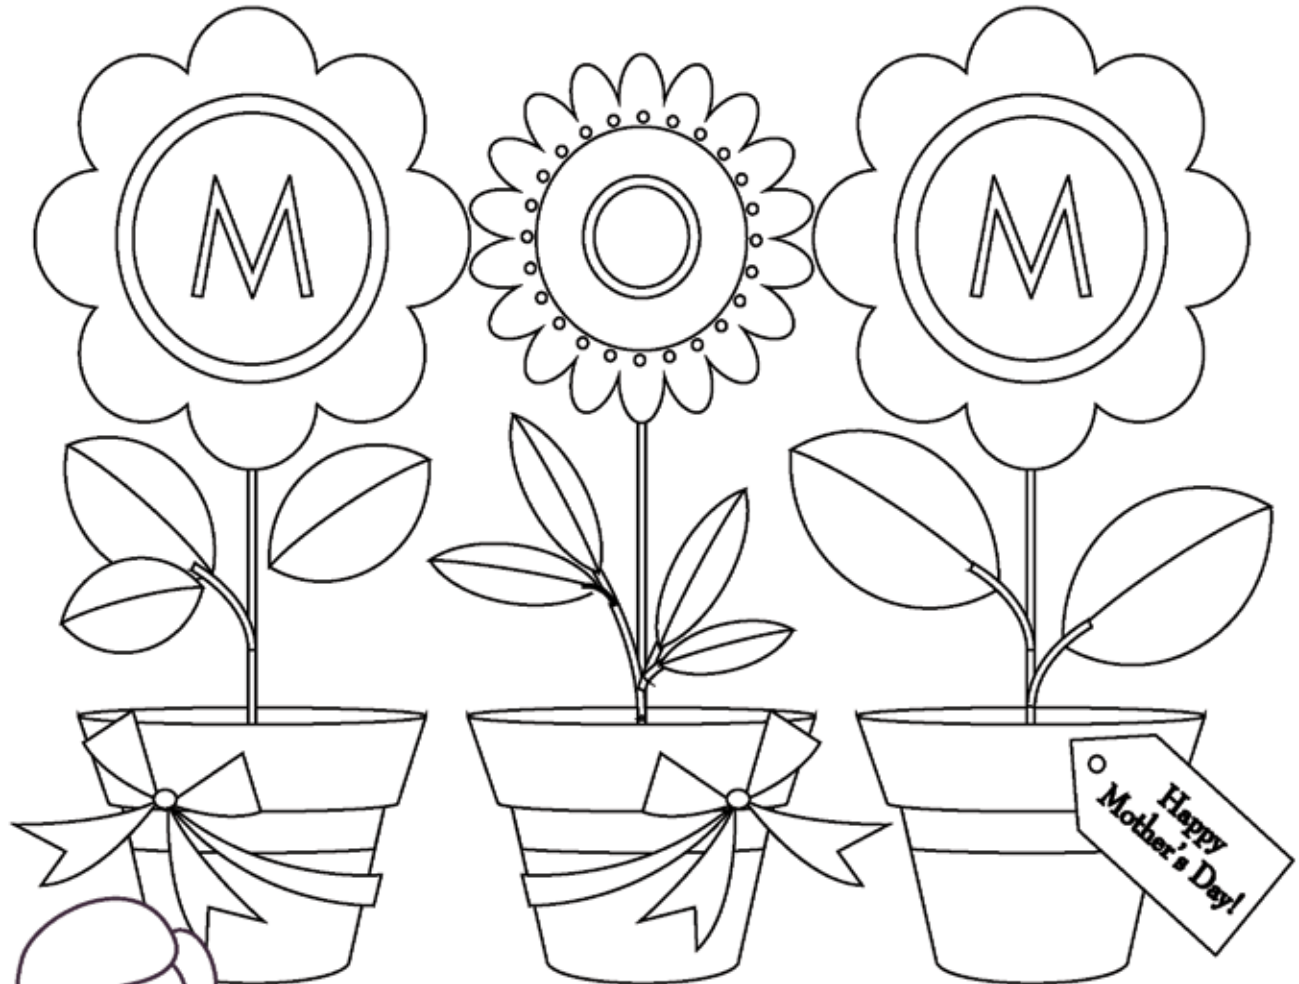

"It really helps!"

Bauer purchased her winning LOTTO 6/49 and EXTRA ticket from 7-Eleven at 5103 50 Avenue in Whitecourt. She won her prize by matching the last six digits selected in the January 29 EXTRA draw: 5521526.

Remember: always sign your lottery tickets as soon as possible after purchase!

SUDOKU of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box.

ANSWER: Last Weeks

You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
