Submitted by Drayton Valley RCMP

On April 19, 2025, the Drayton Valley RCMP responded to a complaint of a home invasion with a firearm in Drayton Valley, with the victim having been transported to the Drayton Valley hospital. While members were gathering information about this complaint, they were dispatched to a secondary complaint of a male that had been stabbed multiple times at a rural property in Brazeau, County, Alta. After a thorough investigation, police determined that the two events were related and perpetrated by the same suspects. As a result of this investigation, the Drayton Valley RCMP executed a search warrant at a residence in Tomahawk, Alta., and Red Deer City RCMP assisted with executing

HOW IT USED TO BE - TIPPLE PARK MUSEUM UPDATE

Submitted by Tipple Park Museum

Did you know that Evansburg was electric-powered as early as 1914? In the early years, coal-powered generators provided power to the Pembina Mine and Evansburg homes and businesses.

Electricity was used in the Pembina Mine for various purposes, such as for lights at the bottom of the mine shaft, on battery-powered coal locomotives, and in the workshop for the few power tools that were available at the time. It was also used for telephones that ran between the mine office, the mine officials' homes, and underground. Electricity was provided to miners' homes for a fee of $1 per month (for comparison, rent for the company houses was $12 per month and wages were $90 to $140 per month). Compared to other rural Alberta communities at the time, Evansburg was quite modern.

However, when the mine closed in 1936, it was like Evansburg went back in time. With the mine no longer around to provide electricity, residents either had to provide their own using personal generators, or use kerosene or gas lamps. It wasn't until 1951, when the Pembina Power Company was formed, that electric service would return to Evansburg.

To learn more, visit our newest exhibit, "The Pembina Mine," which explores the history of the mine and how it shaped the community. This exhibit is available until August 31st, and the Museum is open 10-4, Tuesday to Saturday.

JOKE of the week

A policeman in the big city stops a man in a car with a pig in the front seat. "What are you doing with that pig?" He exclaimed, "You should take it to the zoo." The following week, the same policeman sees the same man with the pig again in the front seat, with both of them wearing sunglasses. The policeman pulls him over. "I thought you were going to take that pig to the zoo!" The man replied, "I did. We had such a good time we are going to the beach this weekend!"

2025 WILDFIRE PREPAREDNESS - STAY SAFE!

Submitted by GYPSD

The safety of our students, staff, schools, and the greater community is always the top priority of Grande Yellowhead Public School Division. Our schools practice safety procedures multiple times per year as part of our emergency planning/ preparedness cycle. Staff and students are familiar with School Medical Emergency, Shelter in Place, Hold & Secure, and Lockdown protocols.

In preparation for the wildfire season, GYPSD hosted a meeting with key community stakeholders, including representatives from Alberta Wildfire, Alberta Health Services, RCMP, VIA Rail, CN Rail, members of various fire departments and protective services, and leadership from neighbouring school divisions. Attendees at the meeting discussed local resources, tools, and the various ways organizations can collaborate in times of emergencies for the safety of our students and staff.

Wildfire and Air Quality Information, resources, and wildfire protocols can be accessed on the GYPSD website. We encourage our families to review the information provided from the schools in the event of a wildfire in your community. Schools will once again be confirming parent cellphone numbers and emergency contacts. Watch for an information sheet going out to families via principals this week which can also be viewed on this site.

There are many ways to keep aware during the school months in times of possible emergencies. Please ensure that you download the Bus Status app for information on route delays and/or cancellations. SchoolMessenger is your school's main source of forwarding critical information to families in times of emergencies; also check your school and the Division Facebook pages for updates.

You may also find it helpful to download the Alberta Emergency Alert app and the Alberta Wildfire app.

Roadside Vegetation Management Program

Spraying May to September

Yellowhead County's Agricultural Services Department will be spraying county roadsides from May to mid/late September. Spraying of roadsides is done to control the spread of prohibited noxious and noxious weeds and re-growth of small brush.

Herbicides to be used this upcoming season include:

Lontrel 360 - PCP #23545	Milestone NXT - PCP #34728
Escort - PCP #23005	Navius Flex - PCP #30922
ClearView - PCP #29752	Esplanade - PCP #31333
Arsenal Powerline - PCP #30203	Roundup Weathermax - PCP #27487
Garlon RTU - PCP #29334	Roundup WeatherPRO - PCP #33653
Garlon XRT - PCP #28945	Killex - PCP #27801
2,4-D Amine - PCP #14726	Hasten - PCP #28277
Milestone - PCP #28517	Trillion PCP #27972

These products are best suited for Yellowhead County's Vegetation Management Plan. Some of these herbicides have residual characteristics so ratepayers should not be using roadside soil in their gardens.

If you have any questions about the program, please contact the Agricultural Services Department at 1-800-814-3935 or (780) 325-3782.

CANADA WHAT COULD HAVE BEEN OR WHAT IT CAN BE?

Submitted by MLA Shane Getson

I wasn't sure if I wanted to broach this topic, but given the amount of questions I've been receiving in the constituency, out on the road, and when I'm speaking with folks that are visiting I felt compelled this morning. The federal election is on the 28th of April, advance polls had record numbers which is a good sign because people care. The frustration I have is how much of the lead up to the election, and much of the early discussion was all about what President Trump was doing, not what we have been doing as a country for the last 10 years.

I think there was one thing that became abundantly clear, the liberal leadership under Justin Trudeau was heading us toward a cliff that no one could tolerate. It was very clear when the Deputy PM threw him unceremoniously under the bus in public, which showed even the most faithful had a belly full of Mr. Sunny Ways. It was also abundantly clear that there was a scramble for a safe way to hold a coronation within the liberal party. Pinocchio believed he was a real PM, and the handlers and advisors knew if they were going to keep their agenda going, one of them had to step up, and into the sunlight. Enter the Carney.

Here we are, forgetting that Carney was one of the top advisors to Justin, and he didn't do that through official government channels for most of it, that was done through the party itself, to the leader of the party...in the shadows. Reading Carney's manifesto, his book called "Values" makes it very clear what his plan is for Canada, and those who would fall under his "Leadership". It pains me to hear people say that was then, and this is now, he had a change of heart within the month leading up to the election, heck, he even "Got Rid" of the consumer carbon tax.

History is interesting to say the least, it tends to repeat itself, and those that don't learn from it, tend to suffer similar scars. There was a leader in Germany as I recall during the 30's that wrote a book while he was imprisoned that laid out his plan, and what he really thought. It became a best seller prior to him taking the chancellorship and became mandatory reading in the schools afterwards and became an absolute real life horror for the world once he had full power. That could never happen again! Right? Or could it?

Well not all at once, they are way more sophisticated now on how they get out their message, and the promises they make. Again, I'm sure when Time Life magazine had old Adolf on their front cover as man of the year, we sure didn't think so either. Our fate as Canadians will be much different, it will be more civilized, more economical pain, more of a separation of the classes, and an erosion of the middle class to be sure, and unbearable taxation, debt, with a dependence on the government.

The other path, well, its going to be painful for some, uncomfortable for the short term, but also I believe inspiring. Let's unleash the potential of Canada again, lest work as a country, better than before, less east / west divides. More collaboration, more access to foreign markets, more responsible development, more empowerment of the individual and family. More self reliance, less government dependence and interference, less taxation, more choice, more freedom.

This is the vision I share with folks abroad, this is what I see not only for Alberta, North Western Canada, but for all of Canada. I see economic corridors that are not only recognized but protected, that help build our nation, like the railroad did back in the day. I see us not just hovering around the 49th parallel, but expanding northward, being a real northern nation with a thriving arctic presence. I see so much opportunity due to the resources we have, the innovations, and quite frankly the doors that open up to us when we present ourselves as "that place, the True North, Strong, and Free".

How do I know? I shared this vision with the Ambassadors of Norway, and Finland recently. They believed the same, they want to be part of a group I'm putting together to collaborate on the Arctic / Nordic nations. I was engaged with three separate delegation from Germany, same story. I met with the Ambassador of Albania, same response. I went on a personal trip to India, had meetings with the secretary of Energy, numerous executives and managers in energy companies, engineering companies, paper companies, aviation companies, property developers, and even film studios. Same story. Numerous USA capital visits, and having US delegations as recent as last week visit us here, same story.

I honestly believe as a country we have been led down a garden path chasing butterflies, and fairy tales by the groups tapping into our conscientious and caring Canadian values. The whole time, they were literally robbing the treasury, where is all of our gold reserve today... gone. Who holds or debts? Where did all the money go? Did it really change the weather? What underpins the value of our currency?

I want to remain optimistic, I want to believe in my fellow Canadians and our system, I want to believe that it hasn't been hijacked, and its not too late. I want to believe that folks will be bold enough to break away from the empty promises, accept reality, that its going to take some real honest to goodness teamwork and efforts to turn this thing around, and be that strong independent well respected nation again. To be that place of preference to make a good life, where hard work pays off. In short, I'd sure like the Alberta Spirit to spread to the other parts of the country. I want this country to realize its full potential, and I want you, your kids, and your grandkids to remember that time, we turned it around. We learned our lesson, and that flirting with all that "Sunny Ways, free stuff" was not what the country needed. So regardless of what happens on the 28th, I'll keep gathering a coalition of the willing, across the country, and beyond our shores to build those relationships, and those economic corridors. It's something that spans electoral cycles, it's a nation builder, and its something that is intergenerational, and it's a path for what can be.

CARING FOR KITCHEN COUNTERTOPS

Kitchen remodels are a popular home improvement project that help homeowners recoup large percentages of their initial investments at resale. A kitchen remodel can invigorate a home and make the most popular room in the house more functional.

According to HomeAdvisor, a home-improvement informational guide, homeowners spend an average of $22,000 on kitchen remodels. However, lavish projects can cost more than $50,000. Protecting such investments is important and requires that homeowners understand how to properly maintain kitchen features so they have the longest life possible. This includes the new countertops that make the kitchen look complete.

Countertops come in various materials, not all of which should be treated the same way. Quartz, granite, marble, laminate, and tile countertops require different types of maintenance.

Quartz
Engineered quartz countertops are popular. Quartz countertops are nearly maintenance-free and resistant to stains, scratches and even heat. Quartz will not need to be sealed like natural stone and can be cleaned using just a damp cloth with a mild, nonabrasive soap.

Granite
Polished or honed granite countertops offer a high-end look that adds instant value to a kitchen. Natural variations in granite give each kitchen a custom look. To keep granite countertops clean, avoid abrasive cleansers that can scratch, and opt for warm, soapy water instead. Stains are possible, but can be remedied with a baking soda paste left to sit for a couple of hours, advises Angie's List. Wipe up oils, acids and soda promptly to avoid stains, and follow advised sealing routines.

Marble is a natural stone that is porous and will need to be resealed periodically. Because marble has high levels of the mineral calcite, it can be reactive when acids come in contact with it, and etch marks may appear. Promptly wipe away tomato juice, lemon juice, perfume, or toothpaste. Marble is softer than granite and will wear at a faster rate. Avoid scratching and exercise caution when using knives or sharp objects around marble.

Laminate
One of the more budget-friendly materials, laminate countertops can be fabricated to mimic the look of natural stone, wood or even quartz. Laminate is less resistant to damage than other materials and will need a gentle touch. Formica® says to never use abrasive cleansers, scouring pads or steel wool when cleaning laminate countertops. For tough stains, an all-purpose cleaner should suffice when applied with a nylon-bristled brush. Test any cleanser in a discreet area first.

Tile
Cleaning tile countertops requires getting into crevices along the grout lines. A toothbrush and a mildew-fighting cleaner or bleach diluted with water is advised. Also, unglazed tiles need to be sealed yearly. Some soap may leave residue, which can be removed with a solution of vinegar and water.

Check with the manufacturer or installer of the countertops to learn more about the ways to clean and maintain new counters.
