sustainable economic growth across the province, Alberta’s government is providing the second round of grants through the Small Community Opportunity Program. The program has awarded grants between $20,000 and $90,000 for 41 community-led projects that build capacity in agriculture, small-business supports and local economic development. “Indigenous and small communities are vital to Alberta and its long-term economic prosperity. For the second year, the Small Community Opportunity Program is financially backing Indigenous and small communities. These grants help to build capacity in small businesses and the agriculture industry. When rural communities succeed, all of Alberta thrives.” RJ Sigurdson, Minister of Agriculture and Irrigation “Indigenous communities are vital partners in building a prosperous province. These investments empower local leaders, foster innovation, strengthen local economies and help build vibrant, self-sustaining communities.” Rajan Sawhney, Minister of Indigenous Relations Each of the successful projects aligns with the Economic Development in Rural Alberta Plan, which works to ensure rural Albertans and Indigenous communities have economic opportunities where they live. Grant recipients have two years to complete their projects and make a measurable impact supporting, improving or enhancing economic development in rural and Indigenous communities and/or the agriculture industry.

JOKE of the week

An old man was wondering if his wife had a hearing problem. So one night, he stood behind her while she was sitting in her lounge chair. He spoke softly to her, "Honey, can you hear me?" There was no response. He moved a little closer and said again, "Honey, can you hear me?" Still, there was no response. Finally he moved right behind her and said, "Honey, can you hear me?" She replied, "For the third time, Yes!"

Annual Onoway Children's Health and Wellness Fair

The Onoway Children's Health and Wellness Fair has come and gone. The Annual fair was geared to providing information on health services and resources that support wellness of families in Onoway and the surrounding area. It was a place for community agencies, service providers, and local businesses to collaborate with families, and build connections for the future. The fair was held on May 15, 2025. Admission was free, with a suggestion of a donation to the Lac Ste Anne East Food Bank. This resulted in generous food donations as well as monetary donations! The Onoway Heritage Centre gym was filled with twenty-three vendor tables. Attendees were greeted at the door by one of our ten youth volunteers, handing out a swag bag which included items from our generous vendors, local businesses, and a coupon for a book. Each child received an age-appropriate book that they picked out themselves. Each participant entered the draw for one of the amazing, donated door prizes.

Elder Eugene Alexis opened the fair with history, cultural teachings, prayer, song.

The day was packed with various activities, which included entertainment on the stage by Magic Bubble Show, which was a huge hit with all. Camp Nakamun kept the children busy with their large interactive games. AHS Early Childhood Intervention, Early Hearing Detection, and Intervention (EHDI), Onoway Playschool and Out of School Care, each provided developmental craft activities. There was a never-ending lineup at the sparkle tattoo and face painting tables. Families visited various vendor tables using a Treasure map, which went into a draw for door prizes when completed. Healthy snack was provided and handed out by our youth volunteers. AHS North Zone Indigenous Senior Advisor, Colleen Jobin made and handed out Bannock samples for the fairgoers. Colleen also read the book "the Tale of Bucky Beaver and Bannock" What a Treat!

Chance Hansen, local author, read a couple of his books while Illustrator Pascha Hansen drew corresponding pictures. LSAC community peace officer was onsite to do child car seat checks and engage with the public.

Lac Ste Anne County Fire Services offered tours of their firetruck and talked about fire safety with the crowd. A HUGE SHOUTOUT to Onoway BIGWAY who generously donated the hamburgers and hotdogs for the BBQ, and LSAC Fire Services who cooked and served lunch to fairgoers. LSAC Fire services also provided additional burgers and hotdogs when supplies dwindled.

Our fair would not have been another tremendous success without the ongoing and generous support of our sponsors, Lac Ste Anne County Family and Community Support Services (FCSS), Onoway FCSS, Ste. Anne Natural Gas Community Enhancement Foundation (SANG), Alberta Health Services (AHS), LSAC Fire Services, and Onoway BIGWAY. A BIG Thank You to our planning committee, Amazing Youth volunteers, and the following Community Businesses: Onoway Bigway, Water Pure and Simple, Onoway Historical Guild and Museum, Onoway Public Library, Rocky Mountain Equipment Westlock, Grande Tire, Alberta Treasury Branch Onoway, Barrhead Transit Mix, Little Village Daycare, Onoway Veterinary Clinic, SANG Co-op LTD. The MAD House, Village Glass, and Lac Ste. Anne County (swag bags) for their ongoing contributions to make this successful.

The fair may be over for this year - however, the fair committee has begun the process of planning next year's Annual Children's Health Fair. If you or your business would like to volunteer, sponsor, or contribute to this very worthwhile endeavor, you can reach out to us at onowayhealthandwellnessfair@gmail.com or 780-967-4440.

CYANOBACTERIA (BLUE-GREEN ALGAE) ADVISORY ISSUED FOR LESSARD LAKE, NAKAMUN LAKE, AND ISLE LAKE

Submitted by Alberta Health Services

Cyanobacteria (blue-green algae) has been identified in the waters of Lessard Lake, Nakamun Lake, and Isle Lake.

Visitors to this lake are advised to take the following precautions:

- Avoid all contact with cyanobacterial blooms. If contact occurs, wash with tap water as soon as possible.
- Do not swim or wade or allow your pets to swim or wade in any areas where cyanobacteria is visible.
- Do not feed whole fish or fish trimmings from this lake to your pets.
- Consider limiting human consumption of whole fish and fish trimmings from this lake, as it is known that fish may store toxins in their liver. (People can safely consume fish filets from this lake).

As always, visitors and residents are reminded to never drink or cook with untreated water directly from any recreational body of water, including Lessard Lake, at any time. Boiling of this water will not remove the toxins produced by cyanobacteria. An alternate source of drinking water should also be provided for pets and livestock while this advisory is active.

Cyanobacteria is naturally occurring and often becomes visible when weather conditions are calm. Appearing like scum, grass clippings, fuzz or globs on the surface of water, cyanobacteria can be blue-green, greenish-brown, brown and/or pinkish-red, and often smell musty or grassy.

People who come in contact with visible cyanobacteria or who ingest water containing cyanobacteria may experience skin irritation, rash, sore throat, sore red eyes, swollen lips, fever, nausea and vomiting and/or diarrhea. Symptoms usually appear within one to three hours and resolve in one to two days. Symptoms in children are often more pronounced; however, all humans are at risk of these symptoms. Exposure to the bacteria may be fatal to pets.

Weather and wind conditions can cause algae blooms to move from one location in the lake to another. As such, this advisory will remain in effect for Lessard Lake until further notice.

Please note waters of Lessard Lake in which the cyanobacterial bloom is NOT visible can still be used for recreational purposes, even while this Health Advisory is in place.

If you suspect a problem related to cyanobacteria or if you require further information on health concerns and cyanobacteria, please call Health Link at 811. Additional information is also available online, at www.ahs.ca/bga.

ALBERTA UNCORKS NEW RULES FOR LIQUOR AND CANNABIS

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is supporting liquor producers by enabling them to own, operate and sell their own products on large format bikes or "party bikes."

Albertans out for a spin on a party bike or tavern tour will soon be able to sip locally made beers and spirits. Alberta's government is updating the rules to give small liquor producers the green light to serve their own products on party bikes, removing an outdated barrier that had prevented local producers from advertising their own brands.

This is one of several red tape reduction changes to the Gaming, Liquor and Cannabis Regulation (GLCR) aimed at making life easier for small businesses and expanding responsible choices for consumers.

"We are proud that these amendments not only cut red tape in the retail segment of the liquor marketplace, but also directly open more opportunities for small manufacturers to grow their businesses."

Dale Nally, Minister of Service Alberta and Red Tape Reduction

More freedom to grow: Liquor and cannabis reforms

In addition to the changes to party bikes, Alberta is making it easier for liquor retailers to set up shop in underused commercial space. Businesses that own or lease large buildings can now carve out a separate liquor store within their space, so long as it has its own entrance and full floor-to-ceiling walls separating it from other retail operations.

Alberta's government is also rolling out a long-awaited change for cannabis producers: federally licensed cultivators and processors will now be able to apply for a retail licence to sell their products directly from the same property, commonly known as "farm-gate" sales. This move aligns Alberta with other provinces and gives consumers more access to homegrown cannabis products, while supporting licensed growers.

These targeted reforms are part of Alberta's broader push to cut red tape, reduce regulatory burden, and promote a more competitive marketplace across the province.

Submitted by Town of Whitecourt

Whitecourt has launched the AGENT Program designed to enhance community safety while supporting local businesses. The Authorized General Enforcement for Nuisances and Trespassing (AGENT) Program enables RCMP and Whitecourt Municipal Enforcement Services to act as agents for participating local businesses. Trespassing is a common issue faced by property owners, which can result in property damage and other unlawful activities. This program allows officers and peace officers to act on behalf of participating businesses under Alberta legislation, and leverage the Trespass to Premises Act and the Petty Trespass Act to lawfully remove individuals. Information on how to apply to the AGENT Program is available on our website. www.whitecourt.ca/live/public-safety/rcmp-crime-prevention-programs

The Economic Development Committee presented a semi-annual report to Council on current

ADDRESSING CLASSROOM AGGRESSION AND COMPLEXITY

Submitted by Government of Alberta

Alberta's government is launching an action team to address classroom complexity and aggression to make schools safer for students and staff.

Alberta's classrooms have become increasingly complex, with more incidents of aggression occurring, paired with increased challenges with behaviour and the special learning needs of students. To address these issues head on, Alberta's government is creating an action team composed of teachers and education partners that will provide recommendations to help guide new policy and address complex classrooms.

"We have heard loud and clear from teachers and parents that we need to do something about aggression in classrooms, and that is exactly what we are doing. Every student and staff member deserves to feel safe, supported and respected at school, and the action team will help reach that goal. Creating this action team is one of several concrete steps we are taking to improve school safety and better support students' diverse needs."

Demetrios Nicolaides, Minister of Education and Childcare

The team, named the Aggression and Complexity in Schools Action Team, will make recommendations to Alberta's government on short- and long-term actions that will support students and educators. The action team will consist of 20 education system leaders including representatives from school boards in Edmonton and Calgary and the Alberta Teachers' Association. To ensure their work is informed by front-line experience, the action team will also work closely with teachers, education support workers, school resource officers and representatives from student and family advocacy groups. The list of action team members will be published online once finalized.

"Alberta School Boards Association (ASBA) appreciates government's commitment to address classroom complexities. ASBA looks forward to this collaborative effort, including local school board perspectives, to help shape meaningful, long-term solutions that support students and educators."

Marilyn Dennis, president, Alberta School Boards Association

The action team will deliver a report with advice and recommendations to Alberta Education and Childcare to inform a combination of practical solutions and policy by fall 2025. Some recommendations could begin rolling out as soon as the 2025-26 school year. The action team may also continue to be engaged to provide advice to Alberta Education and Childcare on implementation of policy or program changes that result from its recommendations.

"The College of Alberta School Superintendents recognizes the growing complexity within today's classrooms and the impact it has on learning, safety and well-being. We welcome the creation of the Aggression and Complexity in Schools Action Team as an important step in addressing these challenges. By working collaboratively with government, educators and community partners, we can help ensure classrooms remain safe, supportive spaces where every student has the opportunity to thrive."

Mike McMann, president, College of Alberta School Superintendents

WREATHS-Remembrance Day honors the sacrifices made by Canada's active-duty, reserve, and former military members—including the Merchant Marine, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and other first responders—both in war and in peace. One meaningful way to pay tribute is by laying wreaths at cenotaphs and community services nationwide.

The Onoway Legion Branch is accepting orders for wreaths with customized printed ribbons from organizations or individuals who wish to place one during this year's ceremonies. To reserve a wreath, please email Secretary132@outlook.com no later than mid-July; the Legion submits its order in August. SUDOKU

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box.

ANSWER: Last Weeks
 You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
