JOKE of the week

Lauren was frustrated. She had complained dozens of times to her daughter about her newest gag of kissing the bathroom mirror immediately after applying lipstick, but it was all to no avail. Finally, one day after spending a half hour scrubbing the mirror, only to find another kiss mark an hour later, Lauren had enough. "Lizzy!" she hollered, "What?" came her daughter's reply through her bedroom door. I can't find the toilet brush that I've been using to clean the bathroom mirror. Do you have any idea where it is?" After hearing the gagging from behind the bedroom door, Lauren knew her days of cleaning kiss marks off of mirrors were over.

DO YOU AGREE ALBERTA SHOULD REMAIN IN CANADA?

Submitted by Dawn Hook

For the last three months, area residents have seen a few canvassers, with clipboards in hand, asking this question. Well it turns out that a good number of Albertans agreed. The tally when the petitions were delivered to Elections Alberta on October 28 was 456,365, with an additional 23 to be added (grand total of 456,388)!

If you are one that signed, THANK YOU!! You are likely wondered what the next step is and that will be Elections Alberta verifying those signatures. Most of you will have been told this when you signed but here is the information from the Elections Alberta press release on October 28 (<https://www.elections.ab.ca/citizen-initiative-petition-received-verification-begins/>):

“Important: During the 60-day verification process, Elections Alberta staff will contact a sample of electors who have signed the petition to verify their information and signatures, using the contact information recorded on the petition signature sheets. Electors who have signed the petition are asked to be prepared to verify their information, as they may be contacted.

If a phone number was listed in the contact information, randomly selected electors will receive a text message from Elections Alberta indicating we will be calling to verify their information. Elections Alberta’s name will appear on the call display. There is no need to call or text back.

If an email was listed in the contact information, randomly selected electors will receive an email from Elections Alberta with the information to be verified. Electors will respond by email with a yes if the information is correct, and no if the information is incorrect.”

As canvassers, we had questions about where your personal information would be going. Please know that all of the information gathered was handed over to Elections Alberta on October 28 and nothing was retained by the canvassers or by Forever Canadian. Elections Alberta has strict provisions for how this is handled and when it will be destroyed. If you are interested in knowing more about that, this is a link to that information (<https://www.elections.ab.ca/recall-initiative/initiative-FAQs/>):

“If I sign the petition, will my personal information be public?

The Citizen Initiative Act requires petition sheets be made available for public inspection for one year from the time it is filed or submitted. Electors’ residential address and contact information (phone or email) will be obscured from public inspection.

Individuals who request to view copies of citizen initiative petition sheets are required to sign a declaration stating the information viewed will not be used except as permitted under the Citizen Initiative Act.”

On behalf of the canvassers in this area, we were thrilled to have such amazing support for this petition. Let’s all take comfort in knowing how many like-minded individuals we have in our communities when it comes to remaining in Canada!

MAJORITY OF ALBERTANS SUPPORT INVESTMENT IN HEALTH-CARE PROFESSIONALS AND PUBLIC HEALTH CARE: SURVEY

Submitted by HSAA Communications

A majority of Albertans want the province to invest in public health care and support the retention and recruitment of health-care professionals, according to a province-wide survey commissioned by the Health Sciences Association of Alberta (HSAA).

The survey, conducted in spring 2025, gathered responses from a representative sample of Albertans across the province. It found that 82 per cent of Albertans are concerned that health-care workers are overworked and leaving their jobs, while 81 per cent say the provincial government needs to invest more in public health care.

When asked to name the top issues facing Alberta’s health system, 65 per cent of Albertans surveyed identified staff shortages as their number one concern followed closely by long wait times. Other high-ranking concerns include quality of care, underfunding, and lack of access. The data aligns with similar findings recently released by the Alberta Medical Association.

“Albertans can see the staffing crisis, and they are worried about our critical professionals,” said HSAA President Mike Parker. “It’s clear that Albertans want real investment in public health care and the people who hold it together. That means fair wages, safe workloads, and better benefits that retain and recruit the health-care professionals needed to deliver exceptional care.”

Albertans also voiced strong concern about the impact of chronic vacancies, underfunding, and government decisions. Nearly eight in 10 said unfilled hospital positions are a serious issue, and three-quarters are concerned about moving towards American-style health care.

More than 80 per cent say increasing retention and recruitment of health-care professionals is important, as well as ensuring they have manageable workloads. More than two-thirds are concerned that health-care professionals don’t have fair wages, and 77 per cent believe HSAA’s push for fair wages and better benefits is important.

“This survey is a clear message to Alberta Health Services and provincial decision-makers: Albertans support public health care, and they understand that investing in the people who care for them is the best way to strengthen it for everyone,” Parker added.

The online survey was conducted by third-party research firm Y Station between April 14 and May 4, 2025, gathering responses from 800 Albertans across Edmonton, Calgary, other cities, and rural communities. Y Station weighted results by age, gender, and geography to ensure provincial representation.

HSAA represents more than 30,000 specialized health care professionals across the province, including diagnostic imaging technologists, respiratory therapists, paramedics, pharmacists, addictions counsellors, physiotherapists and 200 other professions providing essential care.

HSAA’s “Put Yourself in Their Shoes” campaign asks Albertans to step into the experience of professionals who continue to deliver critical care in a system stretched to its limits.

of the week

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box.

ANSWER:
Last Weeks

You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
